That means that the salesmen will return to you

THE SAMOAN PROTECTORATE.

No Appropriation Made for This Country's Share.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 16.—A question has been raised by the appearance of the sundry civil appropriation bill whether the administration is not attempting to carry into effect President Cleveland's recommendation that the United States recede from its part in the tripartite protectorate over Samoa by refraining from asking congress to appropriate any money to defray our share of the expenses.

Last year's sundry civil bill contained an item under the head of the department of state, for carrying out the Samoan agreement, but this year's bill the clause is conspicuously missing. It might properly have been included in either the diplomatic or consular, or the sundry civil bill, but the diplomatic was framed and passed the house without reference to Samoa and Chairman Sayers says that no request has been received from the department of state for any funds for the purpose of the protectorate.

Secretary Gresham has several times suggested that the United States recede from any participation in the government of Samoa and his views were made the subject of a strong paragraph in the president's last message. In accordance with these views the administration has for some time neglected to station a warship at the islands although it was a feature of the agreement that the three nations would alternately be represented.

Chairman McCrary of the house committee on foreign affairs states that he never looked upon the Samoan agreement with favor and in the course of the debates upon Hawaiian matters has referred to the policy of keeping a savage king on the throne there as an instance of the sort of foreign policy which the Republicans accused the president of designing to carry out in Hawaii.

A resolution was introduced last week by Representative McMillan, of Tennessee, making inquiry into the cost of this government's share of Samoan expenses, and it was understood to be the intention of Democrats in the house to oppose any further appropriation for the purpose.

BENSON IN CHICAGO.

Will Look Through the Pictures in the Rogues' Gallery.

CHICAGO, Jan. 16.—Detective Robert Benson, of Duluth, arrived in Chicago in search of the murderer of Lena Olson, who was murdered at Minnesota Point, at Duluth, last fall by a man who met her at Minneapolis and promised to marry her.

A sister of the dead girl, who knew the supposed murderer by sight, accompanied the detective to Chicago. Their object is to look through the pictures in the rogues' gallery here.

THE CURLEURS AT MILWAUKEE.

The Contest For the Hall Diamond Medal Begun.

MILWAUKEE, Jan. 16.—The George F. Hall diamond medal, valued at $200, was the prize contested for by the curleers this morning, the preliminary draw and the first rounds being played.

Notwithstanding the almost continuous play by many of the rinks during the past two days, there were only two entries for this trophy, that went by default—the Lombard rink, of this city and S. V. Smith's rink from Pardeeville, failing to appear. Sickened among some of the members of Mr. Lombard's team compelled him to withdraw temporarily. He will be entered for the Johnson rink.

The possibility of a prize being won today is remote, though the fortunes of tomorrow may result in the transmission of greetings to some of the waiting "brithers" at home. The Hall medal becomes the property of the skip winning it three times. Kelly of Winnipeg won it two years ago and Shaw of the same place secured it last year.

Killed by an Explosion.
PITTSBURG, Jan. 16.—Two men were killed and two injured by a boiler explosion at the 40-inch mill in the Carnegie steel works at Homestead this morning. The killed are Harry Brennan and John Gorecki. The injured are John Dernak, cannot recover, and William Banks, seriously scalded. The boiler room was completely wrecked.

Heavy Damages.
LONDON, Jan. 16.—In an action brought by the Reuter Telegram company against the United Press for breach of contract, because of a sudden stoppage of American service in May, 1893, the United Press was forced today to consent to a judgment for $500 damages. The hearing was before Justice Grantham.

A Duluth Director.

ST. PAUL, Jan. 16.—The Minnesota Masonic Relief committee has elected new directors, John T. Black, of Duluth being among the number.

Great Wrestling Match.

ST. LOUIS, Jan. 16.—The wrestling match last night between Sebastian Miller, the famous strong man, and Hans Ralf, champion of Norway and Sweden, for a purse of $300, best two out of three falls, Gracoe-Koman style, ended in a draw. They wrestled for two hours and neither man secured a fall.

AWFUL HORROR

From Fifty to Seventy-five People Killed and Nearly Two Hundred Wounded at Butte.

Three Terrible Explosions of Giant Powder Took Place While a Fire Was in Progress.

Parts of Bodies Were Hurlled Scores of Feet Away and the Scene Was Horrible.

Blood and Brains, Legs and Arms and Pieces of Flesh and Entrails Scattered Around.

BUTTE, Mont., Jan. 16.—At 9:55 o'clock last night the fire department responded to a call from Box 7, the call of death to nearly the entire department. The fire was either in the Kenyon Connell or the Butte Hardware company's warehouse and both contained powder. There was a rumor that there was powder in the building but this was denied and after a moment's hesitation they began fighting the fire. At 10:05 the men had barely started to work when there was an explosion which shook Butte to its very foundations. The powder in the warehouse blew up, spreading death and ruin to all who were near.

All but three of the firemen were killed. It is believed that in the first explosion only three firemen were killed. There were horses among the spectators, however, and as soon as the sun of the shock passed away, while some ran in terror, others began pulling the mutilated bodies of the firemen and the injured from the proximity of the flames. From all over the city people began moving towards the fire and the crowd had greatly increased within five minutes.

Just about that length of time after the first explosion, a second explosion almost equal in violence to the first. The terror all over the city and the spread of death and destruction at the disastrous scene. In this explosion scores of citizens were killed and injured. Parts of bodies were hurled scores of feet away. A man near the Northern Pacific water tank was almost struck by the leg and thigh of a human being. The force of the dynamite from the fearful scene.

There were still heroes left to help pull the shrieking wounded and the groaning dying to a distance, but the people up town hesitated. There had been two explosions and there might be more. There were rumors of carloads of powder in the vicinity besides that stored in the warehouses. Five minutes later a third explosion occurred. It was a mile away and it is believed that very few if any were injured in it. It had all occurred in fifteen minutes, the most horrible quarter of an hour in Butte's history.

The horrible awfulness of the scene after the explosions was beyond description. Words could give no idea of it. It presented more the appearance of a field of battle than anything else. The dead were strewn about in all directions and cries and groans of the injured and dying presented a scene altogether unearthly. Blood and brains were scattered about. Here were legs, limbs, scattered around here and there were pieces of flesh and entrails. It was sickening.

Between the Northern Pacific and Great Northern depots a space of 300 feet, the ground was literally covered with parts of human beings and with the dead and injured. The scene was one of utter and absolute destruction. The houses in the vicinity were thoroughly wrecked as if a cyclone had passed through them. One of the rescuing corps gathered twenty-seven dead bodies in one pile. Eight were in another, two and three in other piles. The rescuers pulled some of the bodies out still quivering. The remains of the human beings still groaning while legs and arms had been torn off. Shapeliness trunks quivered and died in the arms of the living.

The work of rescue was prosecuted in earnest. Every vehicle in the city was brought into service to carry away the scores of the dead and the hundreds of injured. The spare rooms in the hotels were taken, and private houses were thrown open where it was necessary. The hose wagon crew included Chief Cameron, Assistant Chief Sloan, Sam Ash, Ed Sloan, Dave Moses, Dave Magee and Jack Flannery. Magee was the driver and remained with the wagon about forty yards away while Flannery was at the hydrant. The hook and ladder was manned by George Fisher and Peter Nolan, of the regular department and William Orr, one of the volunteers.

Chief Cameron directed the attack on the building, and while some of the firemen headed a line of hose along, the others started in to tear off the iron covering, and secured an entrance. The first explosion came. A blinding sheet of flame forced the roof from its fastenings and shot two feet into the air, followed by a second of deadly silence, and then came the awful roar, carrying with it annihilation to those who closely surrounded the death trap and destruction on every hand.

The dead who have been identified up to 6 o'clock this morning are: J. B. Miller, attorney, Salmon City, Idaho; J. D. Cameron, of the regular department; Flier, fireman; William Magee, fireman; C. E. Tracey, Fred Krenbach, J. J. Enright, J. L. McHale, Robbins, Cosgrove, Mike Smith, Sam George, Welson, Jack Charles, Charles Guttenberg, an employee of the Butte Hardware company, folks live at Osgood, Iowa; George Galbraith, Ed Sloan, fireman; Dave Moss, fireman; John Fudge, volunteer fireman; Alexander W. Milan, volunteer fireman; Charles Bowman, volunteer fireman.

THE SCENE OF HORROR.

Blood, Brains, Arms and Legs Lying Around Everywhere.

DENVER, Jan. 16.—A special to the Republican from Butte, Mont., says: From what can be learned at this hour (3:10 a. m.) no one suspected the presence of powder in the warehouses, and, as is customary when a fire is raging in Butte, people were crowded around the burning structure as close as they could get.

The firemen had arrived only a minute or two before, and almost in the act of turning on the first stream of water when a small explosion took place. This seemed to be a sort of warning of what was to follow, for no sooner had the first puff occurred than people began to suspect the presence of a greater quantity of explosives in some part of the structure, and some of them fell back. Before they had reached a place of safety, however, the first great explosion took place and hundreds of people were hurled right and left and many of them were hurled beyond recognition. Bodies were thrown for hundreds of yards in all directions. Some were thrown against houses, and smashed to a pulp, flying debris literally knocked the heads from others where they stood. One body, it is reported, was seen flying through the air at a height of 200 or 300 yards. Blood, brains, arms, legs and other pieces of bodies were lying around everywhere. Many of the wounded were a pitiful sight.

The first explosion occurred many of the wounded were compelled, by their helplessness, to lie near the fire, and the heat was very intense. They begged to be taken away but there was no means of conveying them from the scene at that time. The children were taken to hospitals, the adults, drove up and attempted to assist in the removal, but while in the act the second explosion took place and killed many of the children and many of the wounded.

Forty-four bodies have been uncovered, and as many more, it is feared, are still in the ruins. Before the first exciting scenes were witnessed in Montana. The people of Butte have not thought of rest tonight.

The explosions occurred before many people had gone to bed, and when the horror of the situation fastened itself upon them they gave their whole strength and energy to the rescue of the wounded and in caring for the bodies of the dead.

No good estimate can be made of the number of the wounded. They were cared for by every conceivable method. Vehicles of every description were pressed into service and mangled men, women and children were taken to hospitals, the city hall, drug stores, public buildings, doctors offices and residences. It may be several days before the full list can be made.

Only about one-half of the dead bodies so far recovered have been identified. The undertakers' shops are full of the dead bodies and at the police station are a large number of the unidentified ones. These bodies are fearfully mangled and burned, and as the faces of most of them are unrecognizable, the only means of identification today will be by the clothing or other property found on the person of the dead.

IT IS AN AWFUL SIGHT.
Daylight Only Added to the Horrors of the Scene.

SALT LAKE, Jan. 16.—A special to the Tribune from Butte this morning says: Investigation but adds to the horrors of last night's terrible accident. The brilliant glare of the skies from the flames of the burning buildings has passed away, only to be succeeded by the leaden gray of early morning thus giving to the awful scene a fitting canopy.

Never did a landscape bear more impressively the unmistakable record of the great destroying force of powder than the gloomy, bloodstained wreck which appeared in the first faint light of morning. Nearly all of the dead bodies of men have been recovered but the mangled remains of the charred remains of buildings, warped and shattered iron engines and mangled bodies of dead horses are still reminders of the terrible work of the fearful night.

In addition to the sickening slaughter of human beings, the destruction of property is great. Where vast sums of money were represented in well-filled warehouses, nothing remains, but blackened ruins, and the streets of the city sparkle and glisten with broken glass. Butte has more the appearance of a besieged city in days of war than that of a business center of commerce in time of peace.

The hour for practical work has arrived and a relief train has been called by Mayor Duggan for 11 o'clock this morning. The fire was under control at a o'clock and several more bodies were sighted and taken from the ruins. John Sloan, Sr., who was taken to the hospital, had both legs crushed to a pulp and will die.

Damage to plate glass windows in the city amounts to several thousand dollars. A number of persons reported killed have turned up, among them being

VOTED IT DOWN.

The Senators Refused to Adopt Senator Yale's Resolution Providing For a Sixty-Day Session.

Bill Appropriating $20,000 for the Relief of the Forest Fire Sufferers Passed the Senate.

The Committees of the Senate and the House Will Not Be Named Until Tomorrow.

An Investigation Asked For Into Officials Receiving Interest on Public Funds in their Charge.

ST. PAUL, Jan. 16.—The first ten minutes of the session of the senate was given up to routine matters relating to the senate employees. Then Senator Yale called up his resolution for a sixty-day session, final adjournment being fixed for March 8, and moved its adoption. Senator Greer, whose notice of debate yesterday caused the matter to lay over until today, argued against immediate action on the resolution, holding that it was too early to know whether a sixty-day session would be sufficient. Senator Yale argued in support of his resolution. Only two or three affirmative votes were cast, a strong negative vote disposing of the resolution.

A joint resolution was introduced by Senator Wyman moved that the rules be so far suspended as to take up his bill appropriating $20,000 for the relief of the forest fire sufferers, on which motion the yeas and nays were called. The yeas were 18, and the nays 12. The bill was then passed.

A joint resolution was introduced by Senator Wyman moved that the rules be so far suspended as to take up his bill appropriating $20,000 for the relief of the forest fire sufferers, on which motion the yeas and nays were called. The yeas were 18, and the nays 12. The bill was then passed.

The committee on rules made its report, which has already been published, and the report was adopted. Among the bills introduced were the following: By Senator Ringdahl, relating to the forfeiture of corporate franchises, providing that the attorney general shall bring suit to close up the affairs of such corporations when it fails to accept its franchise, or becomes insolvent.

By Senator Jones, amending the general laws of 1878, to allow appeal from justices of the peace in certain civil cases. Judiciary.

By Senator Hanna, amending the laws of 1893 relating to election districts. Judiciary.

By Senator Miller, amending the general laws of 1878, relating to the collection of notes signed by more than one person, making each liable for a portion of the debt, and not for the whole amount of the note.

By the Ramsey county delegation, abolishing the office of public works and substituting therefor a director of public works. Municipal corporations.

By Senator Severson, limiting liens on estates of deceased persons. Judiciary.

The president appointed the following committee on mileage: Ringdahl, Henneman and Koverud. He announced that the senate committees would be announced tomorrow morning, after which the senate adjourned.

DOINGS OF THE HOUSE.
The Committees Will Not Be Announced Until Tomorrow.

ST. PAUL, Jan. 16.—The house was called this afternoon and the members were once more disappointed, the speaker having again postponed the announcement of the committees until tomorrow. A resolution was introduced by Representative Feig reciting that public funds have been placed in banks and other like institutions to the loss of the funds, and directing a committee of five to investigate the same. The committee shall determine whether public officials have been receiving any interest or other benefit from public funds in their charge and investigate the whole matter of public funds.

The preambles alleges a misappropriation amounting to $150,000 at least. The resolution went over until tomorrow. J. M. Smith introduced a bill to amend the general laws of 1878 relating to the filing of chattel mortgages, providing for the relaying such deeds in unorganized towns with the county register of deeds.

Mr. Feig introduced a bill for the protection of unknown depositors in banks. Mr. Dahl introduced a bill calling for two new judges for Hennepin county. Mr. Maglins introduced a bill for a state board of arbitration and conciliation.

Mr. Schurmeier introduced a bill for a constitutional amendment relating to the elective franchise. A pure elections bill was presented by Mr. Johnson.

E. C. Johnson introduced a bill providing that the state examiner shall thoroughly examine all financial institutions at least once a year and report to the governor, who shall direct his further acts.

Mr. Feig's resolution further charges that $302,841 is now on deposit in banks that have long since failed.

THE DULUTH & RED WING.
Important Meeting of Those Interested Held at St. Paul.

ST. PAUL, Jan. 16.—A meeting of those interested in the Duluth, Red Wing & Southern railroad was held at the Merchants hotel yesterday afternoon. There ### was a good attendance, the meeting having been adjourned from Jan. 8. Several persons not hitherto connected with the enterprise were present.

Engineer Danforth has secured a way to cross the Choctaw lands and also an entrance into Omaha, both satisfactory. This is regarded as the most important work yet accomplished looking to any early construction of the entire road. It is said that D. M. Sablin and his friends have become interested in the project; also a syndicate which controls the new German process invented by Herr Otto for making coke, producing steel and reducing ores by electricity.

PROSPECTS NOT BRIGHT.
No Agreement Expected in the Senatorial Caucus.

ST. PAUL, Jan. 16.—The prospects for an agreement in the senatorial caucus Friday evening are far from bright, and they do not improve as the days go by, if one may judge by the opinions expressed among the members at the hotels.

There are still some members who will not go into the caucus at all, and those who do go are preparing for a bitter struggle without result.

WON ON LAW POINTS.
Case of State vs. Shevlin-Carpenter Lumber Company Decided.

MINNEAPOLIS, Jan. 16.—In the case of the State against the Shevlin-Carpenter Lumber company, the action in replevin for a quantity of logs, the plaintiff in rebuttal yesterday sought to introduce a memorandum from the state auditor's office, showing the sale of the logs at $4.95 per 1000 feet.

The defendants' counsel objected, and a long argument ensued as to whether or not the permit under which the logs were cut could be attached in a collateral action. The facts are that the state auditor issued an extension of time on a contract for cutting logs, which the state claims he had no authority to do. This contract called for $3 per 1000. The memorandum referred to places the sum at $4.95, and the entry on the auditor's books shows the sale to have been for $3. The state sought to prove the $4.95 rate by the evidence.

The decision of Judge Russell on the motion was against the plaintiff, and disposal of the case. The court held that, as there was a clause in the contract which stated that the proper officers had investigated the matter, the state must be bound by that contract in the present action, and could not bring proof of any matter prior to its issuance relative to the contract itself.

As a replevin suit had been brought on the theory that the logs had been wrongfully cut, Judge Russell directed a verdict for the defendants, giving them possession of $25,000 worth of logs and the case was ended. As it is a test case, the state will probably appeal. For the present the Shevlin-Carpenter company has won the suit on law points without the assistance of a jury.

TO MEET IN OCTOBER.
The Charities and Corrections Conference Will Meet Next October.

ST. PAUL, Jan. 16.—The time of holding the annual state conference of charities and corrections was this morning changed from January to the month of October and the next annual meeting will be held in Faribault in October, 1895. The change was made to accommodate a large number of smaller societies throughout the state engaged in charitable work.

Bishop McGolrick, of Duluth, was to have spoken this morning on juvenile delinquents, but sent word he would not be able to be present. The subject was ably treated on by Secretary H. H. Hart, of the state board.

GOOD ROADS CONVENTION.
Series of Recommendations to the Legislature Adopted.

ST. PAUL, Jan. 16.—The final act of the good roads convention was to adopt a series of recommendations to the legislature, providing for a state system and public supervision of highways, consistent amendments to the constitution, the establishment of a state road fund, the diversion to the road fund of the proceeds of the inheritance tax, the compulsory use of wide tires, the classification of highways, the repeal of the present district road system and the appointment of legislative committees on roads.

An executive committee authorized to prepare bills based upon the resolutions was then appointed as follows: First district, O. H. Case; Second, Alex. Fiddes; Third, Charles F. Staples; Fourth, J. H. Snyder; Fifth, A. B. Choate; Sixth, J. T. Elwell; Seventh, J. H. Letson.

HIS SKULL FRACTURED.
Robert Chilton Killed While Returning from Work at Cloquet.

ST. PAUL, Jan. 16.—Early last evening Robert Chilton was found at Post Siding lying between the tracks of the Duluth road. His skull was fractured. He was carried to the city hospital and cared for by Dr. Ancker but died at an early hour this morning.

He had been to Cloquet to do some carpentering work, and it is supposed that he was coming home and jumped from the train while it was in motion. He lives at 1213 Stillwater avenue, and has a wife and five children.

A Nelson Meeting.
ALEXANDRIA, Minn., Jan. 16.—A mass meeting of Alexandria citizens was held last evening and resolutions were unanimously passed denouncing the parties who are denouncing Hon. Knute Nelson in becoming a candidate for United States senator and endorsing his candidacy. A committee of twenty-five was selected to go to St. Paul in the interests of Governor Nelson's campaign. The Young Men's Republican club also passed the same resolutions.

Lots of Money Offered.
ST. PAUL, Jan. 16.—A Huron, S. D., special to the Dispatch says: Andrew Keigel, of this place, acting under the direction of Eastern capitalists, has gone to Pierre prepared to place $100,000 of state warrants at once, and will take double that sum if they can be had.

WEST DULUTH ITEMS

Duluth Manufacturing Company Thinks It Has a Good Show to Get the Iron Range Contract.

Company Put in a Low Bid for Manufacturing Four Hundred Cars for Ore Carrying.

Works Will Start Up on Monday on Small Orders and May Continue for Some Time.

Superintendent Fittinger, of the Duluth Manufacturing Company, was seen this morning in regard to the Duluth & Iron Range contract for which bids were to be opened yesterday. He said that his company among others had put in a bid but that nothing had yet been heard as to the result. President Greisinger of the Iron Range railway has gone to Chicago and the contract will probably be awarded after his return.

It was also learned that the car company will start up the works on Monday next in a small way on orders which have accumulated since Christmas. If the contract to build the cars is received then the works will work without interruption for some time. It is understood that what was considered a low bid for the work was sent in by the company and the officers consistently expect to receive the contract.

Say There is No Club.
Those interested say that the item in the Herald last evening to the effect that there is a dancing club in high school circles is entirely wrong. No such club, it is asserted, has been organized. One or two attaches of the High School also wish it understood that no dancing has been carried on at the High School, and that any impression to the contrary is erroneous.

Some of the members of the board are much opposed to dancing under any circumstances and those in high school circles say they have nothing but a desire to respect their wishes and sentiments.

A Handsome Publication.
The passenger department of the Michigan Central has issued a beautiful little booklet entitled "Comfort in Travel." It is handsomely bound in cloth and is filled with delicately engraved engravings of scenery on the route of the Michigan Central and the superb appointments of the trains. The letterpress is perfect, and altogether the book is a charming method of informing the public as to the comforts of travel on the Michigan Central. The Herald is indebted for a copy to Walter Wyand, St. Paul, traveling passenger agent of the road.

Dear Sir: My wife was afflicted with asthma for twenty years. As she grew older she grew weaker. Her case was treated by three eminent physicians, but they failed; they told her there was no cure for it.

Discovered as I was, I received to try Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. She used five bottles and two boxes of your "Pleasant Pills," which has given her twenty pounds in weight since the cure was effected.

SPRUNG A SURPRISE.

The State Tested Harry Hayward's Nerve This Morning and Found it in Excellent Condition.

Twin Sister of Kitty Gine Taken to His Cell But He Did Not Flinch.

Told Her That He Could Convince Her of His Innocence of Her Sister's Murder.

MINNEAPOLIS, Jan. 16.—The state sprung a little surprise on Harry Hayward, accused of the murder of Catherine Gine, when Miss Julia Gine, of Auburn, N. Y., twin sister of the murdered woman and almost exactly like her in appearance, was suddenly and without warning ushered into Hayward's cell at the county jail. The state's attorneys were counting on the effect the sudden apparition of the murdered woman's double might have on the supposed murderer. But they were greatly disappointed.

Hayward's magnificent nerve never deserted him for an instant. The sister's eyes fairly blazed as they rested on Hayward and to an impressionable culprit she might well have looked like an avenging nemesis come back to earth. But Harry looked up calmly, then bowed slightly, he said: "From appearing to me, I should say this was Miss Julia Gine. It is not Miss Gine."

Miss Gine made no reply but a nod of affirmation and Hayward went on rapidly: "I am very glad to meet you, Miss Gine. The circumstances are peculiar and very unfortunate, but I am sure that if I could have a long talk with you, I could convince you of my innocence in this murder. If I had seen you on the street I should hardly have known you from Kitty. The resemblance is remarkable."

Miss Gine still maintained silence and Hayward had to fill in the gap.

"You cannot think that I murdered your sister," he said.

Miss Gine in a low voice, but steady and full of feeling, remarked: "I don't care to make any assertions on that point."

Hayward went on, detailing the business relations he had with Catherine Gine, and winding up by exclaiming again that it was impossible that anyone could believe him connected with the murder who knew all the facts.

A great many important things have not been brought out," he added.

"If I could have a long talk with you either here or somewhere else, I know I could convince you of my innocence. Time will tell. Do you think I am guilty?" he asked again addressing Miss Gine.

"As you say, 'time will tell,'" was the answer.

The interview lasted ten minutes, Hayward doing all the talking. Miss Gine will attend the trial which begins next week. She has not yet seen Bixit.

EXCITEMENT AT VERSAILLES.

Two French Dukes Called Out "Long Live the King."

PARIS, Jan. 16.—As the deputies were leaving the chamber today after hearing the president of the chamber read M. Castelnau-Perrier's letter of resignation, the duke de Rochefort and the duke de Doudreville cried "Long live the king." A scene of great excitement followed.

M. Brisson, president of the chamber of deputies, this afternoon officially announced that he had received a letter from M. Challemeil Lacour, president of the senate, convokeing the national assembly for tomorrow at Versailles.

M. Floquet declared this afternoon that M. Henri Brisson, president of the chamber of deputies, could count upon 100 votes in the senate and upon 300 among the deputies. If this is so, M. Brisson will be elected president tomorrow.

PROCEEDINGS IN CONGRESS.

Mr. Hill Continues His Fight on the Income Tax.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 16.—Senator Cockerell stated when the senate assembled that he hoped to secure a vote today on Mr. Hill's income tax amendment to the deficiency bill, which has given rise to such a wide range of discussion.

After routine business, Mr. Hill spoke on his appeal from the ruling of the chairman, that his amendment to the income tax was out of order.

Representative Dockery presided in the house, in the absence of Speaker Crisp. Various bills of small importance were passed.

THE STRIKE AT BROOKLYN.

Only Two Lines of Cars Are in Operation Today.

BROOKLYN, Jan. 16.—Rain and sleet today add to the discomfort entailed upon the people of Brooklyn by the tie-up of the surface street railway lines. Only two lines of cars are in operation, aside from the Coney Island line, which by coming to an agreement with its employees has kept out of the trouble.

Court cases are running as yesterday, on schedule time, but they will probably be halted off, as they have been the last two days, with the advent of darkness.

HOAR AND WOLCOTT.

BOSTON, Jan. 16.—In joint convention the house and senate today formally declared Hon. George F. Hoar re-elected as United States senator.

DENVER, Jan. 16.—Edward O. Wolcott received the full Republican vote at the joint session this afternoon and was re-elected senator. The vote stood: Wolcott, 57; Pence, 38; Thomas, 3.

Marvelous Results

Reported in Cases of Dyspepsia and Indigestion.

Dr. Jemison, in an interesting article on indigestion and dyspepsia, says: "Nine-tenths of the people who apply to me for advice and prescriptions for various ailments, I find on close examination that their whole trouble arises from poor digestion, they have little appetite, or if they do have an appetite, the food they eat does them no good. Why? Because it is but half digested, causing poor blood, weak nerves, sleeplessness, aching bones, pains in the chest, etc. They tell me they believe they have consumption, heart disease, rheumatism, or nervous prostration, when in reality the whole trouble is in the stomach and no where else. What do I do for such people? I don't feed them on prescription food like babies, nor stomach bitters, nor patent nostrums about which I know nothing. No honorable physician will prescribe anything of the kind. He knows what it contains and its probable effects."

For all such patients as described above, I have but one prescription. It is Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets. I use it with remarkable success in all cases of indigestion because I know that it contains the most valuable vegetable essences, fruit salts, the purest ascorbic acid, free from animal impurities, and bismuth. If I had dyspepsia myself it is the one thing I should take.

When a patient applies to me complaining of dull headaches, bad taste, sour stomach, nervousness, pains in chest and limbs, I ascribe all these symptoms to poor digestion, and the only prescription I give him is to tell him to go to the nearest drug store for a box of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets and to take a tablet before and after each meal and so treat it as my confidence in the preparation that if they do not cure I know of nothing that will.

All druggists sell Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets or they may be had by mail from the Stuart Co., Chemists, Marshall, Mich.

THE WEATHER BUREAU

Since it Was Attached to the Department of Agriculture, Its Conduct Has Been Poor.

The Shipping Interests on the Great Lakes Have Just Cause for Making Loud Complaints.

Secretary Morton Opposed Laying a Short Cable That Might Save Valuable Cargoes and Lives.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 16.—[Special to The Herald.]—Perhaps no department of the government has been the subject of more criticism than that presided over by the secretary of agriculture. Some of this may be undeserved, that there is just cause for complaint about the management of this department in very many things there can be no question. Especially is this true in regard to the conduct of the weather bureau.

Formerly this bureau was under the war department, but as it was considered to be more of a factor in the agricultural communities it was concluded that it belonged legitimately to that branch of the administrative wing of the government and hence was put under the control of the secretary of agriculture.

So far as the great lakes are concerned this change has not been for the better, especially in respect to the shipping interests. Some time ago a member of the Michigan delegation wrote to the secretary of agriculture requesting that a cable be laid to Manitou island, which is a short distance off the coast in Lake Michigan, and a storm signal established in order that ships bound from Chicago through the Straits of Mackinac might be warned of the approach of storms and seek a harbor of refuge.

The cost of laying this short cable and establishing a signal would have been infinitesimal compared with the value of a single cargo which might be saved by it. The secretary of agriculture wrote a voluminous letter in reply, stating that he had proved a bad investment for the government in every case where he had attempted to build and operate telegraph lines and that this policy would be abandoned in future and that the government would use the wires of private telegraph companies.

For this reason the government would not build a cable to Manitou island, but if a storm signal was established would refer to the wires of the Western Union or some other telegraph company. Inasmuch as no private company had a wire to Manitou island or had any intention of building one there, ships bound from Chicago are still without the protection which a signal on this island would give.

Similar cases have happened on the shores of Lake Superior. If there did not happen to be a private wire running to a certain point west of a signal station, the government would refuse to lay a wire even for a mile.

Thought He Had a Case.

It was fully 2 o'clock in the morning as the policeman passed along a quiet residential street and found a limp and listless specimen of mankind slinging on a doorstep with his head in his hands.

"What are you doing here at this time of night?" asked the officer, shaking him. "I don't know I was an hour ago," mumbled the man.

"What's that?"

"Waiting for you."

"What do you want with me?"

"Want you to 'rest my wife'?"

"Where is she?"

"Inside there."

"How do you know she won't?"

"She won't leave me."

"I can't arrest her unless there is a charge against her."

"Can't you make one?"

"Of course I can't. You'll have to do that yourself."

The man braced up at this information, and a gleam of hope shone in his face.

"Well," he said thickly, "put a charge of breach of promise against her."

"How can you do that?" inquired the astonished officer. "Isn't she your wife?"

"Course she is."

"Then you can't bring a charge of breach of promise against her."

This time the man began to rub his eyes as if he wanted to see a little better.

"I'd like to know why I can't?" he asked.

"Don't she promise to love me in sickness and in health when she married me, and do you tell me now when a woman keeps him sittin' out on a pair of cold steps in the night air, and him in the condition I'm in? Course you don't. So you just run her in on a breach of promise charge, and I'll stand by you 'fore and a day."

But the officer wouldn't.—Detroit Free Press.

THE SHREWD SULTAN.

Has a Literary Bureau to Instruct His Government.

The Turkish is probably the only government that maintains a literary bureau for the purpose of creating public opinion in its favor. The Russians have a bureau of censorship, with agents in every post-office of the empire, whose duty is to prevent the circulation of seditious literature and the introduction among the people of radical ideas contrary to the teachings of the church and the policy of the czar.

But the Turkish have a regular and permanent organization of 30 of the brightest literary men and politicians in the sultan's dominions, who are always at work creating the sentiment with articles skillfully prepared and furnished to such papers as will print them. They read all the influential foreign papers, too, both of Europe and America, and if any contain articles that are likely to injure the reputation of the sultan or the credit of the government, or prejudice people against the country, these articles are employed to answer them or to write in a different vein on the same subject, and in such a way as to create any false or unfavorable impression that may have been created.

The bureau has its agents in all the commercial centers of Europe, who have been instructed to keep the leading periodicals and are always ready to put in a little missionary work. Not long ago an article was printed in a Washington paper reflecting upon the treatment of the Armenians by the Turkish government. In a few weeks a very clever reply appeared in the same paper. It was temperate, diplomatic, interesting, convincing and was prepared by some one perfectly familiar with the subject.—Minneapolis Tribune.

QUEER THINGS IN POLAND.

Superstition Plays a Leading Role With Young Men and Maidens.

It is customary in Polish villages to strew straw over the Christmas eve supper tables, and for the young people, blindfolded or in the dark, to pick out each a straw therefrom. Should the straw be green the lucky maiden expects to wear a laurel wreath, or the youth to lead a blushing bride to the altar during the approaching year, but a dried straw foretells to either long waiting, possibly even until death.

In other rural Polish districts on the "Christ's eve" wine, beer and water are placed by a girl between two candles on a table. She then looks into a crystal or an adjoining room to watch the result reflected in a mirror hung for this purpose. If as the clock strikes midnight a man enters and drinks and she is happy, for her wooer will be rich. Should he drink the beer, she will be content, for the wooer will be well to do. If the water be chosen, her husband will be very poor.

But if as the clock strikes no man comes to her table the anxious maiden slavers with more than midnight terror, believing that she is doomed to be early the bride of death.

Poland is peculiarly rich in these observances, spreading themselves over the entire country, both sexes being equally superstitious in this respect. On New Year's eve the young unmarried men place themselves in a row, each holding a candle, and each with a different play. Of a Monday morning to tell to memorize them. Some of the plays are very old, and some are new, and all of my time was put in studying, rehearsing and playing. I had no time for recreation.

Actors do not automaton, and the man who could not tell you the story of the play in which he is appearing would be an imbecile. Such a man I do not believe exists in the profession. What Mr. Irving says and what my friend the actor holds was true in a measure 10 or 15 years ago, but it is not today.

Years ago, when I was a member of a stock company, I frequently appeared in plays of which I knew very little. We used to give a rehearsal every day. Of a Monday morning I would be given several parts and told to memorize them. Some of the parts were of considerable length, and all of my time was put in studying, rehearsing and playing. I had no time for recreation.

ACTORS OLD AND NEW

Times Have Changed, and the Automaton Have Gone.

Nowadays Performers Endeavor to Understand the Author and to Learn the Story and Object of the Play—William H. Crane Comes to the Rescue.

At a gathering of men prominent in the theatrical world the other night an author who has had some success with one or two plays brought up the old argument that actors were, in a great measure, little better than automaton.

A star wanted a play in a hurry. What he was using was not to the public taste, and the author sent him one of the units which were knocking about in his trunk. Some three weeks after the piece had been produced he ran out to a little town in New Jersey and saw the play. It was not a 14 line the play he planned and wrote.

The situations were all there, and so were the lines, but he had never dreamed of in connection with the play were being conveyed by the actors. This made him furious, and he called at actors in general, and asked them why they had no ideas of their own, and there was not one actor out of ten who could tell you the story of the play in which he was appearing.

First-class actors have heard this claim repeated many times. When Henry Irving was in this country, the American dramatists gave a dinner in his honor. In introducing the pleasant things said about him the English actor told how he had been an actor for many years before he had ever given any thought to the general character of the plays in which he was taking part. It had only been after he had risen in his profession, that he had understood the work of the author and how close a relation one scene bore to another. When he became a manager, he made a study of these things, and the production of a play meant a great deal more to him than the memorizing of his lines and of his cues.

To strengthen his argument that most actors paid little attention to anything but their own lines, Mr. Irving told a story about the famous Frenchman, Frederick Lemaitre. The latter had made a gigantic hit in a new play, the name of which I cannot now recall, and had been giving it steadily for nearly two years in Paris. While dining one afternoon with a friend the latter asked him what was the story of the play in which he was being seen. To his amazement the actor replied that he had only a remote idea.

This story strikes most people as being decidedly odd, but Mr. Irving's word is not to be doubted. Lemaitre told the truth, and while many actors of his day might have answered like questions in the same way the actor of today who would say the same thing would be looked upon as a curiosity.

Actors do not automaton, and the man who could not tell you the story of the play in which he is appearing would be an imbecile. Such a man I do not believe exists in the profession. ## CONDEMNED TO DEATH

The New Viceroy of China Has Issued Orders For the Execution of Cowardly Officers.

Several of the Most Important Generals and Admirals Included in the List of Condemned.

A Secret Proclamation Issued by the Young Emperor Some Time Ago Has Leaked Out.

VANCOUVER, B. C., Jan. 17.—The following advices from the Orient have been received by the steamer Empress of Japan: The situation is becoming more serious since the arrival of Viceroy Liu Kun Yih. Li Hung Chang's greatest enemy and head of the Hunan faction. The first evidence of Liu Kun Yih is the issuing of a decree condemning Admiral Ting Kung to death, and all other officers in command of divisions yet alive who showed cowardice before or after the battle. This sweeping decree none of the generals or admirals escape.

The decree states that as they are responsible for the unnecessary fall of Port Arthur, death must be their penalty. The board of punishment will publicly disgrace the commanders before execution. The mandate overrides Li Hung Chang's desperate attempt to "white wash" every cowardly commander who deserted his post at the fall of Port Arthur.

Officers have been sent after Admiral Kung with instructions to bring him back alive or leave his dead body to the vultures. Kung will surely be taken. He is hiding at Yang Chow. Kung is a brother of the Chinese minister to England, and up to a recent date under Li Hung Chang was a very powerful politician at court. Liu has selected Kung for his special revenge on account of his enmity to Li Hung Chang.

Lord Li, another impeached admiral, is in hiding and is in communication with Kung. Government spies have reported these facts to the authorities, so that his capture is certain. Admiral Ling is locked up with his fleet at Wei Hai Wei. It is said if he bears of his fate he will cheat the executioner, as he is extremely proud and will not live to satisfy the hatred of his old rival Liu.

An edict issued a month ago by the emperor of China to those within the palace precincts has just come to light. During this time it has been jealously guarded from the public as it was hoped and wished that the young emperor, despairing and discouraged, would change his mind and recall his utterances.

It was given out when Prince Tung Tsao and Wen Tung Shih memorialized the emperor suggesting the removal of the capital westward. The substance of this proclamation is as follows:

"When we first took charge of the affairs of the empire it was our intention to introduce many reforms. Suddenly and unexpectedly the Japanese have broken the peace, taken away our Korean dependency and taken possession of the borders of our empire.

"We have sent our generals on whom we trusted, with their armies, to punish the enemies of peace and drive them away, but we never intended to see the peace of the Japanese empire, and this our ancestors and all foreign nations will know.

"Little did we expect that our generals were incompetent and in many cases untrustworthy and that the soldiers were insubordinate and ill supplied with inadequate arms.

"Large sums of money were appropriated by us to supply them with, and it is for these reasons that the Japanese have gained victory after victory and place after place, which causes us the greatest concern and makes our ancestors restless in their honored graves.

"All this affliction and trouble is because we are unworthy and have employed unfit men. If, however, the worst comes and the enemy secure our sacred altars, then there shall be peace and but to perish at the altar of our fathers and be gathered home to them, fighting to the last, as they did before us, for our country and our bones.

"We have given our viceroy and our empress dowager reverence and elect a worthy man to be your emperor, look to him for guidance."

"The County Fair" drew a good audience last evening. The play is an old and of the homey country style and contains nothing brilliant or particularly original except the horse-race scene. This is unquestionably the only good horse race presented on the stage and Mr. Burgess' patents prevent any imitations.

The company is a fairly good one. Miss Marie Bates gives an excellent impersonation of the prim, prudish and snooty Abigail Prue, and creates one of merit. The character of Ous Tucker, the old deacon, is somewhat flat, but not bad. Ledeen as Old Hammerhead, Miss Salisbury as Salte and the whole cast average up well. Miss Kittie Beck gave a clever performance of the character of the runaway horse. It is an important member of the cast and performs his part well.

"The County Fair" will be repeated this evening.

"Our Flat" Emily Banker and her splendid company of comedians open at the Lyceum on Monday, Jan. 21, for one night in one of the most attractive farce comedies that have ever been given here. Her play is a splendid production of Mrs. Musgrave's rattling comedy, "Our Flat." The piece had a most successful run of two nights at the Lyceum theatre, New York, 750 nights at Strand theatre, London, which is the longest record of any comedy ever produced in London before. It has an interesting plot of more merit than the average of that class of plays. It is full of action, and does not depend upon horse play for its interest. "Our Flat" is located in Harlem, New York, on the top floor of an elegant apartment house, where a young married couple have taken a flat, rented their furniture on the installment plan, have run away into debt and are besieged on all sides by creditors. While the creditors are coming up the stairs and the scene is seen running down the stairs and vice versa. The situations are grotesque and amusing to the last degree. The scenery is novel. New and bright settings elegant in richness. The costumes are splendid. Emily Banker, Philip H. Riley, George W. Parsons, Neil Scully, W. H. Wallis, J. G. Glenney, Marion Van Courtland, Vesta Verma, Lee Jarvis and others.

VOICES OF THE STREET. Some of the Facious Talk Heard Around the City.

The hub of the Rainy Lake gold boom is at the St. Louis hotel in Duluth, and every prospector who comes to town quickly finds his way there. There is no end of gold talk, and a great many wags find ample opportunity to amuse themselves. Any number of stories are sprung. The one which tells of the barbers, the barber, saves the hair taken from the heads of Rainy Lake men and panned it out regularly, has gone the rounds until it has grown gray with age.

"I wish I'd done the same," growled the stout man across the aisle. "I was so busy trying to climb out of the window that I forgot all about it. Say, has anybody seen?"

"My goodness!" cried the pretty blond, "my satchel looks so queer—like it had all been flamed out. What if my lovely chiffon waist is ruined!" She opened it hastily and closed it with a scream.

"Beg pardon, ma'am," said the conductor coming up, "but this must be your satchel in the seat you had before. This is it."

"Mine," said the stout man across the aisle. "It has my samples in it. I travel for a suspender house, miss, and it wouldn't have done you much good."

But the pretty blond was pressing her head against the cold window pane and made no reply.

"I was not scared at all," said the man with the big ears. "I always choose a seat in the middle of the car, where you can't."

"I knew we'd have trouble when we started," said the woman whose dark hair was coming down. "I never dreamed of fire yet!"

"I thought we'd be late, for sure," said the pretty blond, "but I knew that Ella would never believe our story of an accident."

"She'd see it in the papers," said the stout man across the aisle. "What I am worried about," said the brunette, "is not the dinner, but the fact that I have always suffered by neglecting my health. I can't think of anything until I find out if they are badly injured. Oh, won't somebody go and find out?"

"I will, miss," said the stout man across the aisle. "It is a real relief."

He was back again in a few moments. "Neither of them hurt much, miss," he said, smiling. "Only a good deal shaken up and slightly cut."

"Oh, thank you! You don't know how much relieved I am."

"Yes, you see, my father is one of the directors of the road, and he is always grumbling about the hard times, and I know that if those men were much injured and the road had heavy damages to pay he would make it an excuse to refuse to let me go abroad in January."

But the stout passenger heard no more. He had slown away into the smoking car.—Chicago Tribune.

Financial Discussion. "Funny what a little thing will start a financial panic."

The overcast man, who was waiting for a car, turned about at the sound of the words and found himself confronting the overcast man.

"So? You bet it is so. Just a little lack of promptness on the part of some one, and down comes the whole financial fabric. A owes B, B owes C, and so on. A falls to come up with the dough. That embarrasses B and so on."

The overcast man peered far up the street.

"As I was saying, that is the way a panic starts. Now, I know you are a banker, and you know that your rent is due tomorrow. And I owe that barber 10 cents. Suppose I was to fail to come up with that little old dime, and by so doing start a panic. It would be pretty rough, now, wouldn't it?"

"I thought you would agree with me. Now, the fact is, I haven't got the 10 cents, and if you would make me a little loan of that amount and thus avert a possible great financial disaster, and I can car come along. It was not the overcast man who was waiting for, but he caught it.—Cincinnati Tribune.

Missing Bank Books. DOVER, N. H., Jan. 17.—The officials of the Dover National bank have small hopes of recovering the missing books of the bank, which were stolen by a man who had been in the bank for some time. The general belief is that they were destroyed by a thief. About the time the books were stolen, a man was seen in the bank, and he was seen to be carrying a bundle of books. Democratic Delegate Says He Favors the Re-election of Alderman Olafson—Other Personal News.

Work is progressing nicely at the new Lesure mill and about half the machinery is already in position. The mill will be in perfect condition by the time the bay is open in the spring. The company is getting in logs for the season's sawing. Manager McMillan, of the old Hunter & Brown mill, is on the grounds making preparations to repair and introduce new machinery in the mill. His company is also getting in logs and will be ready to start up at the earliest opportunity. Mr. McMillan will shortly move his family here from Minneapolis and make this his permanent home. He is at present stopping with Captain Randall.

Favors Alderman Olafson.
One of the prominent Democrats of the Eighth ward who was appointed as delegate to the Democratic convention stated this morning that he was in favor of endorsing the bar nominee. He also said that he would vote for Voss as nominee for treasurer. He did not know who would be nominated for alderman in his ward, and suggested that he did not think it advisable for the Democrats to nominate an alderman in this district. He said that he was fairly well pleased with Olafson's record as alderman, and thought that if he was nominated by the Republicans he would be elected. Everything taken into consideration he said that he felt that Olafson was the logical candidate for re-election.

MAY BE REORGANIZED.
Great Western Manufacturing Company May Be on Its Feet Soon.

Steps are on foot which will probably result, in the course of a week or two, in a thorough reorganization of the Great Western Manufacturing company which will place it once more on a firm footing and start the business moving. O. H. Simonds this morning returned from a meeting of the stockholders in Chicago yesterday at which preliminary ways and means were discussed.
There are as yet no definite plans, as the project is in an embryonic state, but it is probable that sufficient money will be put into the concern to enable it to resume operations soon. The officials have nothing to say at present as they are likely to result from the reorganization.

Did Not Get Enough.
Tom Murray, of Grand Rapids, who fought a draw with George Curtis Monday night, is not satisfied with the result of the fight. He has issued a challenge to Curtis to fight twenty rounds for $250 a side and gate receipts, winner to take all. The fighters are to enter the ring at 10 p.m. If Curtis accepts the fight will probably take place about Feb. 10, after the Parlor theater has been rebuilt.

Thin Children Grow Fat

on Scott's Emulsion, because fat foods make fat children. They are thin, and remain thin just in proportion to their inability to assimilate food rich in fat.

Scott's Emulsion

WHEAT DECLINED TODAY.

Trading Was Not Heavy and the Tendency Was Downward.

Wheat was somewhat weak and ruled lower today. It opened steady and unchanged at 62 1/2c for May but soon weakened and sold off. Later this decline was recovered, but it was only for a short time and the market again became weak. There was a slight rally before the close. One sale of May No. 1 hard wheat was reported. There was one lot of July sold at 61c below yesterday's close. Cash wheat was reported. One lot of No. 1 hard wheat was sold at 61c, and there was a tradit of 61c and 62c, but the volume of business was very small, trading being limited to sell at the prevailing low prices. The close was 1/2c lower than yesterday for cash and May, 1/2c lower for July and 1/2c lower for wheat to arrive. Following were the closing prices:

The Holiday Herald.

Northwestern Lumberman, Chicago:
The Duluth Evening Herald on December 17 issued a mammoth annual holiday number, setting forth in extended form the commercial, industrial and transportation aspects of that growing center at the head of Lake Superior. Included in the expose was a page devoted to the lumber business at that point. There is a manifest destiny-persistence and never-give-up about Duluth that has carried it forward on the line of progress in the face of catastrophe and seeming defeat at several stages of its remarkable history. It is this willfulness and determination that have made Duluth and its environs cities. Hereafter victories will be comparatively easy for the Zenith City, and we look to see her make rapid progress during the coming decade.

The Weather.

U. S. WEATHER BUREAU, DULUTH, MINN.
Jan. 17.—A trough of low pressure extends from the St. Lawrence region to Kansas. The center of this depression is in Northwest Minnesota.

Snow is falling this morning in Montana, and cloudy weather with warmer, southeast winds prevails in the Missouri valley and over the eastern slope of the Rocky Mountains. In the Mississippi and Ohio valleys, there is a clearing and a few flakes of snow are falling. In the Canadian Northwest the temperature is in the 20s below zero, but a few flakes of snow are falling. fore congress, the company would not be required to put up a first-class bridge. Mr. Hartley says: "If we build this bridge, it will be good a bridge as The Herald is a newspaper." The Herald is pleased to hear it, but it is fearful that, if the bill now pending in the senate be passed, we will only get a bridge of the News Tribune's character as a newspaper, and Duluth people will not be satisfied with such an inferior article.

A Chance to Reduce Expenses.
Two communications are published today in regard to the subject of abolishing the municipal court at West Duluth. Judge Himebaugh protests against the extinction of the court, and as he is not seeking re-election it cannot be said that a desire to retain the office prompts him to assume this attitude. He maintains that the continuance of this court was part of the compact when the union of Duluth and West Duluth was arranged, and instead of abolishing it he urges that the judge there be assigned to perform the duties that now fall upon the special judge in Court No. 1.

The judge at West Duluth gets a salary of $2000 a year, while the special judge is paid $10 for each day he serves, and as he served nearly every day last year he probably received $3000. To abolish the special judge would, Mr. Himebaugh figures, effect a saving of $1000 a year. But he has forgotten the cost of a clerk at West Duluth and other expenses of maintenance, which would probably amount to $1000. There is no reason, therefore, why the second court should be continued. Outside of the men who are anxious to be elected judge and a few of their friends, the West Duluth taxpayers are in favor of doing away with the court.

The second communication is from one of the largest resident taxpayers in West Duluth, and he declares in favor of abolishing the court. At the same time he draws attention to other municipal expenses in that portion of the city which might very properly be reduced. Three street commissioners, an engineer, a health inspector and a cow catcher cost about $3340 a year. It is contended that several of these officials might be dispensed with, and a great saving effected. This is a matter that will bear investigation, and The Herald would draw to it the especial attention of Mayor Lewis and the common council. There does seem to be a superfluity of officials at West Duluth, and there should be an immediate inquiry to see if their number cannot be reduced.

Three men at the most, probably two, should be sufficient to attend to the work now performed by the six officials. At the same time the court there should be wiped out. Here is a chance to save about $3600 or $4000 a year in the running expenses of the city.

Iron Manufacturing in Minnesota.

A subject of great importance to Duluth and the entire state was discussed at the meeting of the chamber of commerce yesterday. On recommendation of the committee having the question under consideration, the legislative committee was instructed to prepare a bill providing for the rebate of the 25-cent state royalty on all iron manufactured within the state, with fifteen years after the passage of the bill, providing that manufacturers wishing to take advantage of the provision must have their plants erected before 1900.

This is a measure that should meet with favorable consideration by the legislature. It would prove beneficial not only to Duluth but to St. Paul and Minneapolis, as well as to every other portion of the state. The rebate of the state royalty on ore converted into pig iron at plants established within the borders of the state would offer a strong inducement for the location of iron and steel plants at this point. St. Paul and Minneapolis might also expect to be selected as favorable points for such establishments, while the increased market for farm products provided by the hundreds of men who would be given employment in the furnaces and other plants would benefit the farmers of Minnesota to a very great degree.

As matters now stand, the only benefit the people of Minnesota generally derive from the iron mines is the royalty of 25 cents per ton, the small amount of wages paid to miners and about 10 cents per ton for handling the ore at the docks. The ore were turned into pig iron at plants in this state, the amount of money distributed among the people would equal nearly $10 per ton.

Bitter Experience.
A pitiful tale comes from Florida of the sufferings and privations of the people who emigrated from Superior to that state in December. The land on which they were to locate was distant from any settlement and found to be unfit for cultivation. The colony, it appears, has been duped. They went from Superior with scarce funds to get to their destination and are now homeless and penniless, as well as friendless.

A movement is on foot in Superior to raise funds for the destitute colonists. There were some West Duluth people who at one time thought of joining this colony, and they are undoubtedly glad now that they changed their minds on the subject. At the present time an effort is being made by interested persons to induce a number of people to settle in Alabama. The experience of the Superior colonists in Florida should be a warning to those who may have been attracted by the rosy picture of life in Alabama. They will find that the best plan is to stay in Duluth. There is no place in the state any that is so prosperous as Duluth, and if any man has a desire to go farming, why not look at the splendid farming land within easy distance of Duluth? There is an excellent market here all the year round for all the products of the farm.

The St. Paul Municipal league has adopted a number of recommendations for changes that are deemed advisable in the city government. Among the proposed changes are that the offices of city and county treasurers, of city comptroller and county auditor and city and county attorneys be consolidated; that the board of public works, water board, workhouse board and the board of education be abolished, and that the school board be reduced to five members. It is also suggested that there should be departments of public works, corrections and charities, education and fire, and that each department except that of education should be administered through a commissioner to be appointed by the mayor.

The Ramsey county delegation introduced in the legislature yesterday a bill for the abolition of the board of public works in every city in the state now having such a board, and the substitution of a director of public works, to be appointed by the mayor. The first director is to be appointed on July 1 next and hold office for a year, and is to possess all the powers and authority now pertaining to the board of public works. This is a measure of great importance and deserves careful consideration.

The terrible disaster at Butte, Mont., due to the presence of powder stored in violation of the law, should arouse the attention of fire wardens in every city in the state. The necessity of strictly enforcing the law regarding the storage of explosives. Disregard of human life is altogether too common. The people residing in cities are exposed to needless danger in many instances, and it is time that more attention was paid to the safety of the public. Is the fire warden of Duluth performing his full duty in this respect.

A correspondent of the morning paper thinks that the excess of receipts over expenses at the Duluth postoffice should be devoted to extending the free delivery system to West Park and other suburbs. He evidently forgets that the surplus at the Duluth office is required to pay the cost of transporting the mails throughout the country. The cost of transporting letters to and from Duluth is an item that "West Park" has overlooked.

Senator Hoar, of Massachusetts, who was re-elected yesterday, was first elected to the senate in 1877 when he was 43 years old. He has been in politics nearly half a century, and was a member of the Forty-first congress.

The "dark horse" is still the favorite in the senatorial race at St. Paul. It is possible that a Duluth man could be brought under the wire a winner.

The Present Craze.
It's Trilby here and Trilby there, And Trilby chatter everywhere. Some call it good, some say it's bad, While Trilby is rather silly. At least, he seems that way to me. The maddest says, with flashing pink, "Oh, should I read it, do you think?" The gentle voice up for advice says: "At what Dr. Marley writes of clothes, While countless women read it, I am sure. 'Bab! Such a man was never known.' And so they talk in prose and rhyme, But then they read it, just the same!" —New York Recorder.

Less Than His Due.
Boston Transcript: Henry—Did you see what the Starler says of you, Uncle George? It says, "Mr. Fuddy is a gentleman of the highest aims, one who has achieved the summit of earthly wisdom, and one, too, whom all men regard with unbounded love and illimitable esteem."

Court Etiquette in Kansas.
Kansas City Star: Prince Albert coats were numerous in evidence at the inaugural ball at Topeka last night. For the benefit of persons who may not be familiar with the requirements of court etiquette in Kansas, it may be proper to note that the Prince Albert is the fullest of full dress in that state and no politician in Kansas with a record to maintain or with hopes for the future, ever thinks of appearing in a claw-hammer.

A Waiter's Profits.
New York Sun: When the woman waiter in a tiny French restaurant became confidential with a favorite French speaking customer she told him that her earnings from tips varied from $60 to more than $75 a month. Most customers seldom give more than a 5-cent tip, and a 10-cent tip is generous, while those taking both breakfast and dinner usually tip but once a day. Another widely known small French restaurant yields a small fortune to its proprietors, and in no small measure through just such a tip system, though there the tip was usually 10 cents, and the sons of the house were the waiters.

THE WEST DULUTH COURT.

Judge Himebaugh thinks that it should be retained.

To the Editor of The Herald:
In reply to Mr. Taxpayer, of Jan. 14, I have this to say: Four years ago when the union or disunion of Duluth and West Duluth hung in the balance, with the odds in favor of disunion, a compact was made on the basis of a compromise for the union to take place three years hence or on Jan. 1, 1924, and for the continuance of the municipal court at West Duluth. This agreement was entered into by the representatives of the two parties interested and met with the approval of the people of both cities. So much for the agreement.

Now as to the expense, which seems to be the only thing which sticks in the craw of Mr. Taxpayer. The law provides that there shall be a judge elected for the court in the city of Duluth, who shall preside over the same at all times and if said judge shall die, resign or be removed, the court shall elect a special judge, who shall upon the invitation of the judge of said court, or the mayor of said city, assist the judge in the business of the court, and for each day for which he shall receive a per diem of $10 for every day or fractional part thereof.

Under this law the court now known as No. 1 can be made to cost the city of Duluth $6000 a year for judges, and as a matter of fact has come close to that figure the last year.

It is provided by the law of 1903, chapter 103, section 5, that the judges of the several municipal courts in this city shall have concurrent jurisdiction and preside in either court. The judge at West Duluth gets a salary of $2000 per year, and a keeping of the court, the expense of a court at West Duluth would be a saving to the city of Duluth of $1000 per year, and a keeping of the court, the expense of a court at West Duluth would be a saving to the city of Duluth of $1000 per year.

Why should the West Duluth court be made a scape-goat against which every man should be made to advise to vote his spleen? Offices are not created for the benefit of individuals, but for the people as a means of government. If the West Duluth court is retained, the court is that due under the compact and the law, the city of Duluth would have saved $1000 for the year of 1924.

As I am not a candidate for re-election, I am not in a position to have my name put in the law of the municipal courts as he seems to be in the law of mortgages, he would not pose before the court as a candidate for re-election. To me as a citizen of West Duluth, imbued with patriotism for the community in which I live, it makes a vast difference.

West Duluth, Jan. 16.

Municipal Court No. 2.

To the Editor of The Herald:
I would allow my name in your columns for a few remarks concerning the curtailing of expenses round court No. 2. I see in your edition of Jan. 15, a communication from a taxpayer in relation to Mr. Merchant's scheme, but of course that need not be considered, as such a scheme is too absurd even to be considered, as most of the delinquent taxes are due from parties who bought acreage at $5 per acre and now they want $500 for twenty-five feet on some back alley. Let them sell their property at a reasonable rate and there will not be so much tax penalties. People in moderate circumstances have to build houses in the alleys and streets and will not be improved or some time as they cannot afford to pay $700 or $830 for a lot to build a house on.

But now about court No. 2 and its expenses. I admit it is only a burden on the taxpayers. The salary and other expenses are somewhere in the neighborhood of $2500 a year. That sum would pay all court fees to Duluth twice over. But let us consider for one moment the other expenses around the same building and if the taxpayers' money is to be squandered it might as well go one way as another.

Here we have three street commissioners warning their skins around court No. 2 at a salary of $65 per month, that is $2430 per year; an engineer at $125 per month, that is $1500 per year; a cow catcher must be $1500 per year. What the two latter individuals are doing this time of year it is pretty hard to tell, but we are informed the cow catcher is Arthur Briggs' private secretary.

Now I do not see why we must get through the legislature to partial expenses when we can start so near home without it to be abolished our board of works as they do not seem to know or care what is going on. One man at $60 per month can do what those four men are trying to do.

MUCH TALK ON TAXES

S. L. Merchant's Plan and Other Ideas Discussed at Considerable Length at Yesterday's Chamber Meeting.

Some Believed in Certain Changes But Did Not Approve of Refunding and Re-bating Penalties.

Resolution Favoring Reduction of State Royalties on Ore Manufactured in the State Was Passed.

The chamber of commerce meeting yesterday afternoon was quite an animated one. The proposed insolvency law and S. L. Merchant's tax rebate scheme were discussed at considerable length. The tax question was brought up as the special order of business. The report of the committee on legislation made last week was read again. This opposed Mr. Merchant's idea. E. C. Gridley moved to lay it on the table and, although under strict parliamentary rules a motion to lay on the table is not debatable, the discussion began and continued merrily.

Mr. Gridley said while he was not in full accord with all of Mr. Merchant's idea he did feel that this state might do better in times of financial depression and relieve the people from the severe penalties on delinquent taxes. The object of the penalties is not to get money but to enforce payment and to relieve them the state can get its money then it can afford to do so.

J. W. Bull thought there was some merit in Mr. Merchant's suggestions. He said that the state might do better in times of financial depression and relieve the people from the severe penalties on delinquent taxes. The object of the penalties is not to get money but to enforce payment and to relieve them the state can get its money then it can afford to do so.

Col. Harris considered the report a well and wisely written measure and thought the tax laws were all right. E. C. Gridley claimed the adoption of the report would declare unequivocally against any refund.

J. W. Reynolds, chairman of the committee, made a strong argument in favor of the report. He said the adoption of the report would put the chamber on record only as opposed to refunding or rebating the penalties of 1929 and 1930. Nothing in it could be construed as declaring against amending the tax laws. He thought perhaps it would be wise to have semi-annual payments of the tax rates from fifteen or more states showing Minnesota to be among the least lenient, most of the states.

He said the adoption of Mr. Merchant's suggestion would be class legislation of the most apparent sort.

The motion to lay the matter on the table was lost by a close vote and it was then put over for another week.

The committee on manufactures, through Henry C. Spaulding, chairman, reported favorably to a reduction of royalties on all iron ore taken from state lands which shall be manufactured in the state. This is to continue for fifteen years, and all plants intended to receive the benefit of this must be in operation before 1930. The idea is to obtain an entire remission of the royalties.

James E. York was present and favored the idea. He spoke of the incentive it would give to the manufacture of iron ore at home and said the state would secure through the added wealth $10 to where it now gets 1 cent. Today the state gets 25 cents and the people have the ore on the docks get about 10 cents per ton and the benefit to the state and the people ends.

The committee report was adopted and a bill will be drafted and sent to the legislature providing for this.

A communication from the Minneapolis board of directors of the Duluth chamber of the insolvency law. The idea was expressed that the Duluth people had failed to comprehend the law is not to be superseded by the proposed one but only amended. To the creditors is given the choice of the assignee and 50 per cent must be realized in order to release the insolvent.

The latter point was the one most discussed. E. C. Gridley thought it all right. A man who could not pay 50 cents on the dollar ought not to be released.

W. C. Sherwood opposed this idea and favored the present law.

C. E. Lovett took a similar stand. He said that there are today commercial agencies which hunt up men's conditions and keep creditors informed. The creditors have plenty of safeguards and if they do not know what their debtors are then they deserve to lose. Men who were wealthy two or three years ago are poor today, he said, and they are not dishonest men either. Shall one drive them into a corner and take everything they have and then not discharge their debts? The

THEY ARE BAD MEN.

Forgers Arrested at Virginia Have Done Similar Work Elsewhere.

It seems that the men arrested at Virginia Tuesday, or at least one of them, are likely to constitute a very good haul for the authorities. Some time ago a number of checks, purporting to be signed by J. B. Sutphin, were circulated among a number of Duluth merchants, including C. Poirier, J. Holinsky and Mack & Johnson. The letters of these spurious documents were not discovered although quite a number of them turned up.

The police are now confident that they will be able to trace some of these forgeries to these men. Sheriff Jones, of Eau Claire, arrived in Duluth yesterday and identified the man giving his name as Sam Cody as James Budy, otherwise Fogarty, who played the same game successfully in Eau Claire. Sheriff Jones returned to Eau Claire last night, but he will appear in case the men cannot be convicted for the range crimes.

THE ARRESTS AT VIRGINIA.

Correct Story of the Capture of the Two Forgers.

By your paper yesterday you said the forgers arrested here in Virginia were spotted by the firm of Saxe & Cohn. Please allow me to correct you and give you a correct account, being this is such an important catch. Last Saturday night, about 12 o'clock, while three men stood and drank at my bar, two men came in with mackinaw jackets on under their overcoats and ordered two beers and told me to fill up the other two. They were total strangers and only a makeup of lumbermen.

Then the smaller one pulled out a check signed Mitchell & McClure for $100.00. I refused it and they asked me up who they were, as the Enterprise had written in its last issue about such men. Then the men that stood at the bar tried to go through with the check and asked me not to go and leave me with the two made up lumbermen. Then all went out. I closed my business and got William Howes, a barber here, and we went out and hunted up Walter Ott and Owen Gately, night police. Then we went out searching for them. We found them in Tom Clark's place. The officers had them arrested on suspicion, and they took them to the jail and searched them and found checks and money on them.

We found that they passed $10 check on Mike Mitchell and a $10 check in Mountain Iron and found out where they were taking the checks. We found nothing undone until they were taken away from here by the deputy sheriff. Yours respectfully, S. Saxe, Virginia, Jan. 15.

The first evening concert at the Bethel last evening drew a large audience. It was given under the direction of Miss Sloan and was a fine musical success.

Miss Sloan, Miss Collins, Miss Moak, N. S. Murphy and E. C. Jones sang "Hark, Hark, Hark, the Sound of Music" and Mrs. Murphy gave a duet, "Home to Our Mountains." Miss Sloan sang "Spanish Romance," and a quartet closed the program.

ENDORSED THE FOUR

Central Populist Club Met Last Evening and Considered the Question of Holding a City Convention.

It Was Finally Decided Not to Call One Unless Subsequent Events Make It Necessary.

H. B. Dibbell, J. W. Hunt, Fred Voss and W. G. Ten Brook Were Given the Club's Endorsement.

The Central Populist club at its regular meeting last night, held in the Parsons' block, endorsed the candidacy of H. B. Dibbell and J. W. Hunt for the municipal bench, Fred Voss for treasurer and W. G. Ten Brook for comptroller.

The meeting was attended by fifty or sixty Populists. At the previous meeting of the club the permanent organization was effected. The constitution requires that the roll be signed and a small sum of cash be paid before one can be an active member. Last evening a good many found that they were not entitled to vote, but they took part in the discussion as a rule, and there was plenty of discussion, too.

Others did not see the feasibility of the introduction of a resolution to the effect that the club formally endorse the candidacy of the four gentlemen named above. While there was scarcely a man present who did not expect to support those four men at the polls, there was some difference of opinion as to the advisability of adopting the resolution. Some thought that they should be brought forward in a citizens' convention.

A majority of the city committee was present and retired to consider the question of a city convention. It was decided not to call one, and it most likely will not be done until the next year.

Each ward made speeches of its kind or another, with the final result that the resolution prevailed by a vote of two to one.

THE LINK BREAKS!

The Awful Woe From One Weak Link

In a Chain Apparently Strong and Powerful.

The Giving Way of This One Link Wrecked the Ship.

If Only That One Link Had Been Strong.

Think For a Moment and See What All This Means.

A ship, in a fearful storm, was anchored by a single chain. The chain was large and apparently strong enough to hold. But, in the otherwise powerful chain, was one, single, weak link. The terrible strain was too much for the weak link; it broke, and the ship was dashed to destruction on the rocks.

The strength of a chain is only up to its weakest link. So the strength of a person, whether physical or nerve strength, is only up to its weakest part, or your blood, or your liver complaint, headache, neuralgia, or rheumatism, there is a weak spot in your system, which, if not cured, will surely cause you to break down.

You will never be well and strong until this weak place or organ is strengthened. It is fearfully dangerous to neglect any such weakness or ailment. Nobody realizes this better than Mrs. G. S. Cobb, a well-known lady residing at 334 Smith street, Providence, R. I.

For five years I had been troubled with indigestion, kidney and liver trouble, severe nervous headaches and neuralgia, there was a terrible pain and pressure in my stomach, from which there was no relief until vomiting set in, when I vomited a slimy mucus.

When these spells I would be completely prostrated for three or four days. Sometimes for three weeks at a time I could take no nourishment but lime water and milk. I lost forty pounds.

"Severe nervous headaches, at times having a duration of two weeks, would set in. A terrible, piercing pain would be down through my back and into my head. There was a dreadful aching and throbbing through my back between my shoulders.

"The kidney was completely prostrated. I tried prominent physicians without relief, and was entirely discouraged. About this time I heard, through a friend, of Dr. Greene and the wonderful cures which he had wrought with his remedy, Dr. Greene's Nervura blood and nerve remedy.

"It secured it and commenced using it, and the change which took place was wonderful. The terrible, aching pains through my back and into my head, and where I could eat nothing but the lightest kinds of foods, I can now eat anything without the slightest distress of any kind.

"The kidney and liver trouble has left me. In fact, my friends are surprised at my wonderful cure. I thank God and Dr. Greene for the blood and nerve remedy for my new life, and would say to all sufferers, gather confidence and try this great remedy and you will surely be cured.

"Oh, that persons complaining of any ailment would be guided by this sensible and valuable advice, and take this remedy, Dr. Greene's Nervura blood and nerve remedy. If they only knew what a healthy and happy life awaited them after using it, they would not hesitate to try it.

"It will make a strong and well person of you just as surely as you take it. It will cure everyone of those troubles and weaknesses which have bothered you so much. Just try it and see. Doctors recommend and advise its use.

"Why waste time in trying uncertain and untried remedies, when there is a physician's prescription, a discovery made by the greatest living specialist in curing nervous and chronic diseases, which have bothered you so much. Just try it and see. Doctors recommend and advise its use.

AN ADVERTISEMENT PAYS

When Read by the Right People in the Right Paper.

It isn't so much what you say as where you say it.

Put a preacher on a desert island and what he says will not have much effect. If he is in a pulpit, talking to five hundred intelligent people, his words will have weight. They will do some good.

What you say in an advertisement, and how you say it, doesn't matter nearly so much as where it is said.

You might have the most attractive advertisement that was ever designed, offering the biggest bargains that ever were offered, and if you put it down cellar under the coal, it would never sell a cent's worth of goods.

A poorly written advertisement, poorly displayed, in a good paper, will do some good. Of course, a better advertisement would do more good, but the style of the advertisement must be thought of after the medium has been selected.

Then put your ad into the best paper in the community, you are addressing the wide-awake, progressive part of the community. You are skimming the cream off. It is safe to say that nobody whose trade is worth much will fail to be a subscriber to a daily paper. Generally speaking, the best paper will attract the best people—the intelligent people—the people who have money in their pockets to buy what they want and need.

OLD MAN MISSING.

John Moore, Seventy Years Old, Cannot be Found.

The friends of John Moore, of Brule, Wis., aged 70 years, fear he has met with foul play. Last Monday he came to Duluth with his son. During the day he called upon his daughter, Mrs. Anna Torgerson on East Fourth street.

During the day he bought a camping outfit and in the evening was seen in the Northern Pacific yards.

Yesterday Mrs. Torgerson received a telegram from her brother asking where the old gentleman was. As he had $500 on his person when last seen, alarms for his safety were felt and the police notified. A fruitless search has been made for him.

Chief Armstrong this morning said that on Monday night Moore called on George Tvedt at Seventh avenue west and that Tuesday forenoon the old gentleman was seen in Sanstedt's saloon on West Superior street.

It is thought, perhaps, that he went on a spree got on the wrong train and failed to reach Brule on time. The son was telegraphed today asking if the missing man had yet returned home. The police are loth to think there has been any foul play.

Later—Moore was found about noon today in Gjerberg's saloon. He will be taken care of until he is able to look out for himself. His money was on his person.

August Johnson's Grocery and Tenement Damaged This Morning.

Fire broke out in August Johnson's building at 321 St. Croix avenue about 11 o'clock this morning. It caught in the lower part of the building on the north side which is occupied by Mr. Johnson as a grocery store. The other half of the building is occupied by six families. The fire spread through the building at a rapid rate, but the department had it under control in a short time.

The building and contents were damaged considerably, but the loss is not a total one by any means. Johnson had $1000 insurance on the building and $800 on the stock. There will be large salvage on the latter.

A woman who could speak no English was tearing around at an awful rate and led every body to suppose that there was someone in the burning building. The firemen finally found out that she had a little money stored away in her apartment in the rear. They ran up a ladder, found the money, and when it was given her the poor woman was almost wild with joy.

CONTRACT SET ASIDE.

Judge Nelson Has Made an Interlocutory Decree in the Case of Williams Against McKinley.

He Orders the Termination of the Contract Under Which McKinley Acted as Williams' Agent.

Directions Given to A. L. Agatin, Master in Chancery, For Making an Accounting Between the Parties.

Judge Nelson's interlocutory decree in the case of John M. Williams vs. John McKinley and George A. Elder was received at the office of the clerk of the United States court this morning. It is decidedly against the McKinnleys as was his decision recently. The defendants will appeal the case and claim to have good ground for believing they can have the decision reversed.

It is ordered that the contract made between Williams and McKinley, Aug. 1, 1891, whereby McKinley was to act as the agent for Williams in the management and sale of very valuable iron lands in St. Louis county, be terminated, cancelled and set aside, and that McKinley is not entitled to receive any part of the royalties which the complainant has received or will be entitled to hereafter, by virtue of leases made by the defendant.

It is further decreed that the cause be referred to A. L. Agatin, master in chancery, with directions to secure an accounting between the complainant and defendant, and that in the account, McKinley be charged with all moneys, stocks and property received or entitled to from the lessees. The master in chancery is ordered to charge McKinley with all moneys received by him from leases made to Alfred and Leonidas Merritt and also with all moneys received from A. T. Humphreys and James Billings, from the lands leased to them and then assigned to McKinley.

McKinley is further to be charged with all moneys and stocks received by him from the Cincinnati Iron company, and all profits received therefrom, in determining the amount to be charged to the defendant, the master in chancery is ordered to ascertain the market value of the stock at the time it was issued and also the amount of money actually received by McKinley for the stock.

The highest market price which the stock reached from the time of its issuance and delivery to McKinley and the time of filing the bill of complaint are to be taken.

The shares were $25 each, and at one time the shares were worth $75 each. The same order is also made in the matter of the stock of Chicago Mining company, which at one time reached a value of about $12 on a share of $100.

McKinley is also to be charged with interest upon all moneys received by him from the Cincinnati Iron company, at the rate of 7 per cent per annum.

It must be taken into account that McKinley shall not receive any credit for any services performed in making, negotiating and executing these leases, nor to any profits which would be his under the terms of the contract.

The court finds that George A. Elder claims an interest in the contract between Williams and McKinley by virtue of an assignment of the same to Elder by McKinley on March 11, 1893.

The court finds, however, that the contract was not assignable, and that Elder is subject to McKinley's right and that any right which Williams had against the defendant could be assessed against Elder so far as Elder is concerned.

The contract was concerned, Elder, therefore, had no right, title or interest as against the complainant, to profits arising from the leases or royalties accruing thereunder.

Judge Nelson orders further that the cause stand continued until the report of the master of chancery is made and that the master have leave to apply to the court for further directions with reference to the account, as he may deem advisable.

There was no Great Rush for Lands in Township 60-8.

Today township 60-8 west was opened for settlement. Up to noon nine filings had been made—two timber and stone entries and seven homesteads. There were a number of people waiting to file, but the number of those waiting a slice of Uncle Sam's domain was almost exceeded by the number of policemen on hand for the purpose of compelling a "right" to the custodian of the government building feared might result. If there was a rush it was not visible to the naked eye.

The fractional town 62-5 east was also opened for settlement but as it has only about 200 acres in it, there were no filings on lands therein.

Yesterday a number of Indians applied for allotments in 68-10. They were accompanied by Mr. Arnold, of West Superior, in the capacity of attorney. The applicants were given a cross examination as to their qualifications for receiving these allotments but that part of the business was continued until this afternoon when it will be continued and the question decided by the officials.

ANOTHER ASKED FOR.

Henry Truelsen Wants the City Restrained From Selling Bonds.

Next Monday, Jan. 21, the council proposes to issue water and light bonds to the amount of $594,000. Henry Truelsen objects to this procedure, and he has asked the district court for an injunction to prevent it. His request will be argued at Saturday's special term of the district court.

This morning Mr. Truelsen filed an affidavit which showed the following state of affairs, which, it is asserted, is entirely reprehensible: He has made and filed his amended complaint, pursuant to an order of the court, but notwithstanding that fact the council has arbitrarily gone ahead and advertised for bids on an issue of water and light bonds to the amount of $594,000, and threatens to issue and sell such bonds at its meeting next Monday night unless restrained from so doing by the court.

If these bonds are issued, continues this deponent, and are sold and pass into the hands of innocent purchasers, they will become a valid indebtedness of the city of Duluth and it will be useless for the plaintiff to prosecute his suit to a final judgment. Furthermore deponent saveth not, save that he reiterates and reaffirms the allegations of the amended complaint.

Upon this affidavit Judge Moer issued an order to show cause, Jan. 19 why an injunction should not be issued restraining the city during the pending of this action from issuing or selling the proposed issue of bonds, and from taking any step based on the special election of Oct. 26.

Some time ago Eugene C. La Chance sued Henry J. Redmyr to foreclose a mortgage of $330 on a fishing smack. This morning the defendant filed some papers, including an answer. The defendant Redmyr and his boat are the ones taken through the agency of the customs officials last fall near Two Harbors and brought to Duluth on a charge of smuggling. The grounds for the seizure were the peculiar actions of the boat, which were said at the time to emanate from a desire on the part of the boat's master to dodge the foreclosure of the mortgage concerned in this suit.

In his answer Redmyr admits having borrowed a sum of money of La Chance, and says that the latter required him to give a note for $330 and a mortgage on the hull of the vessel at 12 per cent interest. The only money received was $500, to Redmyr charges usury, and wants the case dismissed. He also wants it transferred to Cook county, where his home is.

The Minnesota Loan and Trust company, as trustee of the estate of R. M. Hubbard, has sued L. J. Taussig for $1033.34 on a note.

A motion for a new trial by the heirs has been made and served on Mrs. L. A. Hulet in the Hulet will case, though it has not yet been filed. It will be argued for a special term or two.

Fred J. Voss has applied to the court for his discharge as receiver for J. W. Anderson and H. H. Bell, who were forced into insolvency.

By the failure of a number of contractors on whose bonds they had qualified in large sums. In his affidavit he says that he has no separate property either had come into his hands except some real estate which he could not sell.

He has paid a dividend of 10 per cent amounting to $104.14 and $10,543.48 in preferred labor claims.

In the case of R. L. Cochran against S. M. Hewitt the defendant has moved for a new trial, which was granted by the county on the ground that he is a resident of Minneapolis.

The Virginia Iron company has filed an answer to the suit of F. E. Colvin and J. A. Robb against J. B. Weimer et al, to determine the ownership of Mesaba lands. It is alleged that the contract was not assignable, and that Elder is subject to McKinley's right and that any right which Williams had against the defendant could be assessed against Elder so far as Elder is concerned.

The contract was concerned, Elder, therefore, had no right, title or interest as against the complainant, to profits arising from the leases or royalties accruing thereunder.

There was no Great Rush for Lands in Township 60-8.

Today township 60-8 west was opened for settlement. Up to noon nine filings had been made—two timber and stone entries and seven homesteads. There were a number of people waiting to file, but the number of those waiting a slice of Uncle Sam's domain was almost exceeded by the number of policemen on hand for the purpose of compelling a "right" to the custodian of the government building feared might result. If there was a rush it was not visible to the naked eye.

The fractional town 62-5 east was also opened for settlement but as it has only about 200 acres in it, there were no filings on lands therein.

Yesterday a number of Indians applied for allotments in 68-10. They were accompanied by Mr. Arnold, of West Superior, in the capacity of attorney. The applicants were given a cross examination as to their qualifications for receiving these allotments but that part of the business was continued until this afternoon when it will be continued and the question decided by the officials.

THE SENATORIAL CONTEST.

Facts Which the News Tribune Would Not Publish.

To the Editor of The Herald:
The unreasonable, unjust and contemptible methods of Washburn's supporters in the present senatorial contest are well illustrated in the conduct of the management of the News Tribune of this city. Tuesday afternoon at 5 o'clock I handed a communication into that office with the request that it be mailed back to me at once if not accepted for publication, but notwithstanding this request, the article did not appear in either yesterday or today's issue, nor was it returned as directed, though a stamp was enclosed for that purpose.

This morning I called at the office and requested that the manuscript be handed me, but was told that the editor was not in, and would not be until 4 o'clock this afternoon. I then further requested that he be informed, and the manuscript returned to me at my office at once, insisting that a supporter of the paper had some rights that were entitled to be respected; but up till this hour, 12 o'clock noon, it has not been received. The substance of the article was as follows:

In the pending senatorial contest the citizens of Duluth should look well to their own interests, and if they do this it is hard to see how any one here could give his support to Mr. Washburn, for the reason that his interests are diametrically opposed to those of Duluth.

When the Hincley "cutoff" from St. Cloud to Hincley was built by the Great Northern in 1884, to give that company connection with Duluth, Mr. Washburn and his Minneapolis friends chartered the Minneapolis & Pacific road, and told Mr. Hill that it he proposed to carry the wheat of the Northwest to Duluth, they would build roads into his territory and carry the wheat to the Minneapolis & Pacific.

The Minneapolis & Pacific was not built at that time; but two years later Mr. Hill commenced to build an air line road eastward from Crookston towards the head of the lakes. Then Mr. Washburn and his friends brought out the charter of the Minneapolis & Pacific, entered into two years before, and requested their former threat to parallel Mr. Hill's road.

But Mr. Hill built his new line eastward as far as Fosston and Mr. Washburn went to work and built the Minneapolis & Pacific out as far as Elbow Lake. For some reason, best known to himself, Mr. Hill did not build any farther east than Fosston, and Mr. Washburn did not parallel his lines, but built westward into Dakota. Having prevented the air line from the Red River valley to Duluth from being built, Mr. Washburn then originated the broader scheme to injure Duluth by building the Soo road. By this the commerce of the Northwest, particularly the wheat product, was to be run into Minneapolis, or if carried to a lake port, was to go to Gladstone, Mich., and thus Duluth was to be injured just as much as it was possible for Minneapolis to do this.

Under these circumstances, which are well understood by the people of the Red River valley, and ought to be by those of Duluth, it is hard to see how any man who is the friend of Duluth can give his support to Mr. Washburn, for he has done more to injure the commerce of the Northwest from the head of the lake than all the other men of the state. The business men of the Zenith City should open their eyes and look to their own interest in this matter of choosing a United States senator, for it is always well to have an enemy rather than an enemy in such an important position.

MADE A CHOICE.

The Duluth House Delegation Have Decided to Vote For Nelson For United States Senator.

Mr. Feig's Resolution For Investigating the Subject of Officials Receiving Interest on Public Funds.

It Was Adopted By the House This Morning Unanimously, Duluth Members Voting For It.

The House Resolved to Vote on the United States Senatorship at Noon Next Tuesday.

ST. PAUL, Jan. 18.—The Duluth delegation in the house have at last committed themselves on the senatorship. Up to a late hour last night they were split on the fence, and the Washburn and Nelson people were laboring with them. They were entirely good natured in their refusal to state their position, keeping on good terms with all concerned, but early this morning the Nelson people announced their choice in their list of supporters, and today the report is confirmed by the three Duluth members of the house.

The senatorial caucus tonight is the all absorbing topic today and all sorts of guesses are given out as to the probable result. The caucus, it is announced, will be an open one, which means that a limited number of newspaper men can view the fight from the public gallery—a privilege secured after a hard fight—but none other than Republican legislators are to be permitted in the hall.

Both the Nelson and Washburn men are today claiming a victory on the first ballot, but the minor candidates and outside observers have no good evidence to support either claim. The excitement is growing, and a hot fight in caucus seems certain.

Senator C. H. Smith, of Becker county, will present the name of ex-Congressman Comstock to the caucus. Senator Young, of Swift county, will speak for Governor Nelson; Senator Washburn's orator will be Senator Wyman; but Congressman McCleary has not yet announced his speaker. For chairman of the caucus, John L. Gibbs has been agreed on.

While the leaders are all agreed on the caucus, many of their followers are opposing it and will try to secure an adjournment, throwing the fight into the legislature, or at least force a new caucus call.

DOINGS OF THE HOUSE.

Feig's Resolution to Investigate Status of Public Funds Adopted.

ST. PAUL, Jan. 18.—After several petitions on the Russian thistle and other matters the committee on legislative expenses reported back several resolutions in every one of which economy was the chief thing aimed at. Members are not to have their usual $10 for postage, nor are they to have any extra copies of the house journal. A number of resolutions for extra employees were introduced and referred.

Dr. Zier introduced a resolution for a special committee of seven to consider all questions of capital and revenue, and it went over till tomorrow, notice of debate being given. Later the resolution was taken up and passed. Mr. Knuteson introduced a resolution on the judiciary committee to report a series of constitutional amendments for the taxation of all property except that held by the nation, state or federal governments, the purpose being to tax all railroad lands not now taxed.

Mr. Feig called up his resolution to investigate the financial status of the public funds, which are alleged to be deposited in the interest of and for the benefit of those public officials having them in charge of their duties.

E. E. Smith, of Hennepin county, introduced a substitute resolution for the same investigation to be made by a joint committee instead of simply by a committee of the house; but gives the chief authority in the matter to the public examiner.

Mr. Feig emphatically opposed the substitute on the ground that the one official who should have nothing to do with the matter, since it was largely through his failure of his duty that such a state of affairs as the resolution indicated became possible, was the public examiner. He asked simply for an honest and fair investigation of these most serious charges. A letter from the attorney general of Wisconsin on the "treasury scandal" in that state was read, in which he said he had heard that Minnesota officials had received personal benefit from funds in their charge in the same way as in Wisconsin, and gave details of the amounts recovered from former treasurers in Wisconsin.

Mr. Feig said this investigation is not intended for persecution, nor should a whitewash be permitted. He did not say that the state treasurers of Minnesota had been doing anything wrong, but since such allegations had been made in the newspapers, he thought there should be a thorough investigation. These rumors of illegal gains by state or other public treasurers gave the amount as $150,000 to $250,000; the reports showed over $300,000 of state funds deposited in banks that have failed. He ended with an eloquent appeal in support of his request for an investigation.

Mr. Underwood, of Hennepin, favored the Feig resolution. The Smith substitute was defeated by a strong, unanimous vote. After some little discussion of the technical wording of part of the resolution it was adopted without change, on roll call by 107 yeas, no negative vote being cast. The Duluth members all voted for the investigation.

Among the bills introduced were the following: Mr. Robillard, for a medical corps for the National Guard.

Mr. Jacobson, for local option in liquor selling.

Mr. Jacobson, preventing fraudulent issue of chattel mortgages; providing for filing such mortgages; eliminating attorneys' fees; allowing time for redemption and specifying amounts exempt from execution.

Mr. Hartshorn, amending the homestead exemption law, agricultural homesteads being eighty acres, with buildings; village homestead, one acre, with house, and town homestead, house and lot.

C. A. Smith, forbidding the posting of chattel mortgages.

Mr. Harris, amending the law on railroad lands.

Mr. Ferris, establishing a game and fish warden and amending the laws.

Mr. Nelson, repealing the law on public inspection of grain.

Messrs. Holman, Anderson, Staples, Gibbs and Sanders were appointed by the speaker on the joint committee to investigate the condition of the sufferers by forest fires.

The house voted to vote on United States senator Tuesday noon and adjourned.

Arnold Keyes, of Duluth, was on the floor of the house today; also Col. C. H. Graves, speaker of the house six years ago.

THE WORK OF THE SENATE.

The Session Today Was Not of Very Great Length.

ST. PAUL, Jan. 18.—Chaplain Forbes, in the senate this morning, prayed that the legislators in this hour of political excitement might be guided by the Almighty.

Senator Wyman introduced a resolution for the appointment of a clerk for the legislative committee, $2,500 a year. It went over. Among the bills introduced were the following:

By Mr. Masterson, to amend section 37, of chapter 6, of the general laws of 1878, a re-deposit of state funds.

By Mr. Miller, relating to the regulations of express companies.

By Mr. Shaler, to amend section 420 of the penal code of the state.

By Mr. Smith, relating to the public rate for schools in the state.

By Mr. Peterson, a joint memorial of the senate and house, recommending the election of United States senators by popular vote.

By Mr. Fuller, relating to steam traction engines in highways.

By Mr. Fuller, to provide for the incorporation of villages and define their duties and powers.

By Mr. Fuller, to forfeit lands given to companies not constructing railroads.

The citizens of Renville sent in a petition asking for the ballot for women. The senate adjourned until Monday at 2 o'clock.

COL. BOBLETER DENIES.

Says He Never Received a Cent of Interest on State Funds.

ST. PAUL, Jan. 18.—Col. Bobleter, in an interview, stated that he believed the resolution introduced in the house by Mr. Feig, calling for an investigation of the charges that interest had been paid county and state officials for deposits of state and county funds in banks, was aimed at him, and that he had affidavits to prove that he had never received a cent.

Mr. Feig, when his attention was called to the interview, said: "It was certainly not aimed at Col. Bobleter, but it was aimed at any state or county official who has been guilty of receiving interest himself on deposits of state bonds."

He charged Mr. Feig with making the charges were freely made in the press of the state, and we propose to investigate them thoroughly without fear or favor."

A TRIPLE MURDER.

Sam Hotelling Killed His Wife and Her Parents and Succeeded.

MINNEAPOLIS, Jan. 18.—A Fairmont, Minn., special to the Journal says: Sam G. Hotelling shot and killed his wife's father and mother and his wife last night. He went to Fairmont about four miles from his home, bought a Winchester, went back and shot them. He then fled to an unoccupied house, where a sheriff's posse pursued him. Here during a skirmish he was killed by a shot in the temple. The posse stating that he was self-inflicted. Domestic trouble was the cause of the killing. T. B. Whitney, Hotelling's father-in-law, was a veteran of the rebellion and a well-known man.

FROM DENVER TO DULUTH.

A Road Proposed to Divert Freight Now Sent to Chicago.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 18.—[Special to The Herald.]—Senator Davis today by request introduced a bill to authorize the sinking fund commissioners of the Union Pacific railroad to invest the sinking fund of this road in first mortgage bonds of railroad extending from Sioux City, Iowa, to Julesburg, Neb.

The object of building this road is to secure a direct line of railway from Denver to Duluth via Minneapolis and thus divert a great deal of freight which is now sent to Chicago for foreign shipment to Duluth and Superior.

W. R. Keweenaw, of Owatonna, Minn., is to be one of the directors of the proposed new road.

SAM HILL'S FAIRY STORY.

A Wonderful Tale That He Is to Tell Senator Vilas.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 18.—[Special to The Herald.]—Samuel Hill, of Minneapolis, is to see Senator Vilas today to try and induce him to withdraw his opposition to the amended bill for a bridge over the St. Louis river between Duluth and Superior.

Mr. Hill says that if this bill becomes law it will give several needy men money after some little discussion of the technical wording of part of the resolution it was adopted without change, on roll call by 107 yeas, no negative vote

THE RICKS CASE.

Views of the Minority of the Judiciary Committee Presented by Broderick of Kansas.

Their Conclusion Is Judge Ricks Committed No Offense and Is Guilty of No Wrong Doing.

They Recommend That the Resolution Reported to the House for Impeachment Be Not Adopted.

Judge Ricks Denies the False Report of the United Press That He Was Prostrated.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 18.—Mr. Broderick, of Kansas, today submitted to the house judiciary committee the following report, being the minority views on the Ricks case. The report says: "The committee on the judiciary to which were referred the charges in the above entitled case has reported a resolution in favor of impeachment to which the minority states the following objections: "The memorial contains three charges against Judge Ricks, viz:

"(1). He is charged with having corruptly cheated and defrauded the government of the United States of $115,775 received on various dates between Sept. 10, 1880, and Dec. 27, 1881. It is alleged that this fraud consisted in the misappropriation of certain fees which were paid to the clerk of this court.

"(2). That he as judge, on or about Jan. 10, 1889, corruptly advised and persuaded Martin W. Sanders, then clerk of this court, to omit from his (Sanders) emolument report, the fees and emoluments of said clerk from July 1, 1889, to Dec. 31, 1889, aggregating the aforesaid sum.

"(3). That the said judge willfully and corruptly certified correctness of the said clerk's alleged fraudulent report, knowing that the report was untrue.

The answer of Judge Ricks submitted to the sub-committee denies all the charges of fraud and wrong doing and admits that he received the fees mentioned in the first charge of the memorial and alleges that he was entitled to said fees, except certain sums which were rightfully paid out to individuals for the completion of the record of the cases out of which the fees arose and the amount paid over to the government.

The memorialists and Judge Ricks were respectively represented by counsel before the sub-committee while taking the testimony and until its sessions were closed.

No evidence was offered in support of the second and third charges, so that the case rests and must be determined upon the first charge, namely, that the judge defrauded the government out of the said sum of money.

Judge Ricks was clerk of the United States District court for the northern district of Ohio for a number of years, and during the latter part of his term was also clerk of the circuit court. During his clerkship there were a number of cases brought up for infringement on certain patent. These were known as the Birdsell cases. After one of these cases had been tried and decided the matters were referred to the clerk, as master, to hear an accounting as to damages and report to the court. This he did, but some of the reports were not approved until after Judge Ricks became judge.

The remaining reports were then approved by Judge Hammond from the United States district court, Tennessee and the orders of approval were entered upon the records of the court.

The 888 and also at the close of the first half of 1880, the last year and a half of Judge Ricks' clerkship, in rendering his emolument reports to the attorney general he charged himself up with the fees in the Birdsell cases including the costs for making the final record which could not, as a matter of fact, be written until after the master's reports were approved. He had estimated the cost of this final record in advance of making it and therefore became responsible to the government for the same.

"Before this final report could be made, Judge Ricks was appointed to the bench and became judge on July 31, 1880, and Martin W. Sanders, a former deputy, succeeded him as clerk. After Judge Hammond had approved the master's reports, some question arose between Mr. Sanders and Judge Ricks regarding the title to the fees for the record in the Birdsell cases, but it was finally understood between them that as Judge Ricks had charged himself with these fees, an employee, Miss Lillis, should complete the record of these cases and that Judge Ricks should pay her charges. This was done and Judge Ricks reported all the facts to the department of justice and this report was examined and approved. It is not shown by the evidence nor is there any pretense that Judge Ricks, while clerk, ever retained or attempted to retain more than his maximum compensation, that is $3500 per annum.

"The law requires a clerk of the United States court to render semi-annual emolument reports to the attorney general of the United States and to certify himself with fees earned and received and also with fees earned and not received. He is allowed reasonable office expenses and at the end of each year he may retain $500 as compensation, and he must remit the balance to the department. There are various views regarding this statute, but we agree that in estimating and charging up fees in advance in these particular cases, where the contested questions were settled, and litigation as a matter of fact and law ended, it was almost only a mere irregularity, as it is the universal custom in all courts of the Scandinavian Meeting Last Evening Was an Anti-Olafson But Did Not Develop Much Strength.

About Forty Men Were Present and J. H. Moork Seem to Be the Leading Candidate.

Some Comment From a Scandinavian Citizen—L. O. T. M. Basket Social at 1. O. O. F. Hall.

A Scandinavian meeting was held yesterday afternoon supposedly to nominate a man whom the people of that nationality should support for alderman for the eighth ward. It proved, however, to be an anti-Olafson meeting, as the principal leaders, Charles Olson and Julius Jorgenson, are opponents of the reelection of Olafson. As a move against the present representative it rather flashed in the pan as there were only about forty present and when it came to a vote some of those voted for Olafson. J. H. Moork seemed to be the leading candidate, although C. A. Johnson made a good run at second.

A leading Scandinavian said this morning: "If that meeting was a fair sample of Olafson's opposition he need not worry over his chance for re-election. The Scandinavian disaffection does not materialize as some people hoped it would do and the majority of the people of this nationality know that Olafson is the strongest man they can put up and the only one who will receive a portion of the American vote."

L. O. T. M. Basket Social.
The basket social, held by the L. O. T. M. Pearl Hive, No. 4, in I. O. O. F. hall last night, was a decided success. About thirty-five couples were present, and dancing was indulged in until a late hour. A great deal of the financial success of the entertainment is due to the excellent management of the disposal of the baskets by C. Murphy, which enabled the ladies to realize a net sum for their treasury. A most enjoyable time was reported.

The Holiday Herald.

Northwestern Lumberman, Chicago:
The Duluth Evening Herald on December 17 issued a mammoth annual holiday number, setting forth in extended form the commercial, industrial and transportation aspects of that growing center at the head of Lake Superior. Included in the expose was a page devoted to the lumber business at that point. There is a manifest desire to persist and never give up way about Duluth that has carried it forward on the line of progress in the face of catastrophe and seeming defeat at several stages of its remarkable history. It is this willingness and determination that have made Duluth and its environs cities. Hereafter victories will be comparatively easy for the Zenith City, and we look to see her make rapid progress during the coming decade.

The Weather.

U. S. WEATHER BUREAU, DULUTH, MINN.,
Jan. 18.—The barometer has fallen about six-tenths of an inch in Iowa where the depression which was yesterday over Montana is now central. The advance of this depression has been attended by a marked rise of temperature in the Mississippi, Missouri, Lower Ohio and Red River valleys, with weather becoming cloudy and with one or two inches of snow in North Dakota and Northern Minnesota. The weather was falling at 7 a. m. today in Iowa and light snow in Eastern Minnesota and Upper Michigan.

The lowest temperatures reported this morning are 10 to 15 below zero in Northern Montana and Assiniboia; the highest 40 to 50 above zero in Missouri.

Local Forecast Official.

Duluth temperatures at 7 a. m. today, 24 degrees above zero; maximum yesterday, 30 degrees above zero; minimum yesterday, 10 degrees above zero; snowfall (measured) for the twenty-four hours ending at 7 a. m. today, 12 inches.

A Non-Partisan Ticket.

The Herald has always urged the election of municipal officers without respect to party, as it regards municipal government as wholly a matter of business, which should be separated entirely from partisan politics. The injection of partisanship into municipal campaigns has almost invariably resulted in injury to the best interests of the city where this policy has been pursued. Men should be chosen to fill the city offices solely on the ground of fitness. What difference does it make what views the city controller may entertain on the silver question, or how the city treasurer regards the tariff issue? And why should the question of whether a man is a Republican or Democrat be raised when selecting judges of the municipal court?

Taking this view of the question, the action of the Democratic convention yesterday must be regarded with much favor. In renominating Treasurer Voss and Comptroller Ten Brook, one a Democrat and the other a Republican, the convention rose magnificently above petty partisan spirit which has been the curse of municipal government in many of the leading cities of America. Both men have served the city well in the past. They have made splendid officers, and their unanimous renomination in this manner is a compliment that they richly deserved.

In the selection of nominees for judge of the municipal court and special judge, the convention also acted in a manner that meets very general approval. The nominees of the bar association, Messrs.
Dibbell and Hunt, were given the endorsement of the Democratic convention.
Mr. Dibbell is a Republican and Mr.
Hunt is a Democrat, but neither gentleman has shown himself a bitter partisan and it is certain that in their actions upon the bench they would not be biased by any political feeling. The Republicans have now a splendid opportunity to follow the excellent example set by the Democratic convention.

The French Crisis.

France has safely passed through another political crisis. The election of Felix Faure to the presidency of the republic yesterday, was a triumph for the Moderates and a crushing defeat for the Socialists, who were really the cause of the trouble which culminated in the crisis. First came the resignation of the Dupuy ministry, as a result of the scandal arising from the guaranteeing of interest on the bonds of a certain railway in the South of France. The ministry's downfall was speedily followed by the unexpected resignation of President Casimir Perier. That he made a serious mistake in resigning is the universal opinion. He had not the moral courage which the presidency of the French republic demands from its occupant. This was rather remarkable, because he had proven himself in past years to be a man of great physical courage.

And now as to the final reason which led to the downfall of Dupuy and Casimir Perier. The Southern Railroad company, founded in 1885, had for one of its promoters the late Baron Reinach, who attained so much notoriety in connection with the Panama bribery scandals. The company is charged with infringing the law relating to such corporations and the minister of public works, by proposing a certain contract, or "convention," with the company, fell under condemnation.
The convention was approved by the chamber of deputies over three weeks ago by a majority of five, but was hung up in the senate. Meanwhile an inquiry into the matter was made by the commissioners on Jan. 3 a contractor, an ex-manager and ex-assistant manager of the Southern railroad were arrested.

The Dupuy ministry was forced to resign because the Socialists insisted that it was responsible for the contract with the railroad company. Casimir Perier was a secretary of state when the original contract was made with the company, and he felt that the charges made upon those connected with it were also aimed at him. It was a victory for the Socialists, when both the ministry and then the president resigned, and they more noisily than ever insisted that the members of the Republican majority of the chamber were too much soiled by various scandals to command public confidence. But when it came to the election of a new president they were beaten.
They voted for Henri Brisson, who would have dissolved the chamber, which action was desired by the Socialists. They have recently gained in strength, and expected that another election would give them a majority in the chamber.
The election of Felix Faure has prevented such a catastrophe to the republic. He will undoubtedly pursue a policy that will conciliate the various elements composing the Republican majority, and thus the stability of the republic will be maintained.

The minority report in regard to Judge Ricks' case makes a very favorable showing for the judge. It appears very doubtful that he has committed any wrong act. The St. Louis Star-Sayings thinks that the fact that a judicial officer in an exalted position, such as that of Judge Ricks, is appointed, and not an elected official, will serve to delay the frustration of the American idea of the day—that under no circumstances should judicial functions be conferred by election, no matter how high or how simple be the office in question.

The two disastrous fires in the city of Toronto recently have drawn attention to the inefficiency of its fire department.
The city has not a steam fire engine and has depended wholly upon hydrant pressure for water for the use of the fire department. The result is that each fire did $1,000,000 damage. Steam fire engines and water towers are necessary to make a modern fire department in cities where high buildings exist. Duluth needs a water tower.

Among the important anomalies of our existing laws is the fact that England, which does not raise a pound of sugar per annum herself, exported to us $13-236,491 of non-dutiable sugar last year, because (raising none) she gives no sugar bounty. Among our export anomalies is the fact that American cattle, now contraband through most of Europe, are shipped from here to Liverpool or London, and thence transhipped all over Europe without question.
Wheels within wheels.

Mayor Strong, of New York, was elected on a reform platform, but he is evidently not an extremist, because he has already given the saloons permission to be open on Sundays from 2 to 11 p. m.
He has also declined to accept the resignation of Superintendent Byrnes and has requested him to remain in office and reorganize the police department.
All of which inspires Dr. Parkhurst with disgust.

Mr. Henshaw, superintendent of the Emporia, Kan., reform school, played "pussy wants a corner" with the girls and was further charged with the atrocity of kissing a pretty inmate. The Kansas senate declined to remove Mr.
Henshaw from office for these offenses.
The senators visited the school, saw the girls there, and concluded that they might have done the same thing, if the opportunity offered itself.

In New England the capital invested in national banks is over fifty times that put into state banks. In the South there is $9,000,000 more invested in state than national banks. The Southern states seem satisfied with the condition, although thirty-eight state banks suspended in the South last year, as against twenty-five national.

Colorado has had bad luck in something this year, but certainly not in potatoes. At Greeley alone, they are in-stored 6000 carloads of the rate Irish fruit and they will have to ship it out at the rate of forty cents a day to get rid of it by June 1.

A Reply by Mr. Hartley.
To the Editor of The Herald:
In your bridge editorial of last evening you say: "Mr. Hartley forgets that the bridge is not for the present only and that several roads will be anxious to gain entrance to Duluth by such bridge."
Now, our plans are for a three-track bridge—two for wagons and street cars and one for steam railway. You will bear in mind this is a short bridge, and with gantry tracks, a tremendous steam railway traffic can be done over a single track, and you can rest assured that when the business demands another track, any company owning the bridge can well afford to add that track, and will find it to their interest to do so. This feature will regulate itself.

Mr. Editor, we are all liable to forget;
have you forgotten that only a few months ago The Herald was devoting columns of editorials to the support of the bill of this other company you now refer to as being "so ready and able to build the bridge today" and that company's bill did not provide for any steam railway track at all—only for street cars, and for vehicles and foot passengers at the option of the corporation building the bridge?

The cities of Duluth and Superior, whose interests you claim to so zealously guard were, by the provisions of that company's bill, (which you so stoutly supported) to have the right, ten years after its first operation, or at each recurring ten years, upon two years' previous notice, to purchase the bridge at a price based upon the value of the franchise, the physical property and revenue derived therefrom," with 10 per cent added.

You say "Mr. Hartley's company, in seeking authority to build the bridge, professed to have the necessary capital
to construct it." I think you mistake me;
we have repeatedly said to you and the public, that we must borrow a large portion of the necessary money for this enterprise. The fact is, many people who talk glibly of building four track bridges
could not raise the money to paint one.
We, in this neck of the woods, are largely money borrowers, and our company wants the help, rather than the opposition, of The Herald and its stockholders and readers to aid our efforts to secure the necessary legislation to insure this important improvement at this time, when it will do so much to bring these two young cities together and make of them one great metropolis. Petty jealousy and prejudice have done more to retard the growth of Duluth than all

You say "Mr. Hartley's company, in seeking authority to build the bridge,
professed to have the necessary capital
to construct it." I think you mistake me;
we have repeatedly said to you and the public, that we must borrow a large portion
of the necessary money for this enterprise. The fact is, many people who
talk glibly of building four track bridges
could not raise the money to paint one.
We, in this neck of the woods, are largely money borrowers, and our company
wants the help, rather than the opposition, of The Herald and its stockholders and readers to aid our efforts to se-

them one great metropolis. Petty jealousy

GIVEN A BODY BLOW

The Elevator Combine at Chicago Struck Hard by the Illinois Railroad and Warehouse Commission.

Public Warehousemen Must Give Up Either the Public Warehouse or the Grain Purchasing Business.

It is Generally Believed in Chicago That the Combine Will Carry the Fight Further.

CHICAGO, Jan. 18.—The so-called "elevator combine" composed of such men as P. D. Armour, Charles Counselman and others received a body blow from the Illinois railroad and warehouse commission today, which decided that the warehousemen must give up either the public warehouse or the grain purchasing business. The decision is the result of a bitter fight which for months has been carried on between the board of trade commission men and the "combine."

The board of trade finally asked for a decision from the Illinois railroad and warehouse commission, and the decision was submitted by Chairman Cantrell today. In brief, it says that if a man desires to handle his own grain he may do so without license or bond, but when he elects to become a public warehouseman he can handle only the grain of the public.

The opinion created intense interest among board of trade people. What action the elevator combine will take is a matter of much speculation, and it was generally believed that those interested will carry the fight further.

CASE OF DEBS AND ASSOCIATES.

A Stipulation to Postpone Argument to March 25. Taken Under Adversement.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 18.—In the habeas corpus proceedings in the case of Eugene V. Debs and others concerned in the Chicago strike, the government, acting through Assistant Attorney General Whitney, and Attorney Darrow, acting for Debs and his associates, today presented a stipulation to the United States supreme court agreeing to postpone the argument of the case until March 25 and agreeing that in the meantime the prisoners shall be admitted to bail in the sum of $2000 each.

Chief Justice Fuller stated on behalf of the court that the matter was of such importance that it would be necessary that the court should have an opportunity for consultation before acting upon the stipulation with regard to bail. The agreement, therefore, was taken under advisement.

TO PREVENT SWINDLING.

A Bill in Illinois Affecting Loan and Home-Selling Associations.

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., Jan. 18.—Delegate O'Donnell, of Bloomington, has introduced in the house a bill to protect members of loan and home-seller associations. It provides that any officer or agent of such association who shall directly or indirectly receive any payment on stock when at the time of receiving such payment he knows the association to be insolvent and should have known it by using reasonable diligence, and where by payment on stock shall be lost to the shareholder, the officer or agent receiving such payment shall be liable to the shareholder for the amount of the loss, and in addition may be imprisoned in the penitentiary not less than one or more than three years.

Godo, charge d'affaires for Mexico in Guatemala.

With pictures of 'em printed out

WHY OUR GIRLS MARRY ABROAD.

Is It to Seek Relief From the Restless Aspirations of Their Countrymen?

Why does the American girl marry the Briton? Has she any adequate justification? Do we suppose it pays her, and can such a choice on her part be defended on large grounds as profitable of the greatest good of the greatest number? Is it a fact, as has been flippantly suggested, that she moves to England to get country life because we have no good roads here yet, or, on the contrary, can it be demonstrated that one reason our country roads are so bad is that the American girl cannot abide the country and promptly carries her men off to town at the earliest moment that sees his endeavors blessed with the necessary increase? Is it her fault that country interests tend too much to fall to the care of a residuum that is too poor to get away, or has the country life not much to do one way or the other with her British propensities?

To be honest, there are other conceivable reasons for marrying an English gentleman besides his country roads. He may be a charming gentleman—they are said to be so—quite in awhile—who can win a wife by plain personal courtship, and whom any woman would be justified in marrying on general principles and without specific excuses, or he may be a good "average" sort of a man whose advantage over his American brother is a matter of size or complexion or hale appearance. I have known American women who ventured to assert that the feminine eye rejoiced more in the type of male human that trends the pavements of Piccadilly and Pall Mall than in the countenances of pedestrians of Fifth avenue and Broadway.

Or maybe it is his superior stolidity that electrifies in the Briton. It is to be feared that there is truth in that tale Mr. Kipling or somebody was telling of how the philistine merchants of the east had discovered that the way to beat the American was simply to put him off and let him fret himself reckless. Stolidity is not quite the same as repose, but to persons who are suffering from an acute dearth of repose it may appeal as a tolerable substitute, so that one can imagine an American maid, worn with the restless aspirations of her high pressure countrymen, turning with sincere relief to pillow her fair young head upon a bosom behind which lurked no threat of heart failure—North American Review.

The Uses of Hot Water.

The best methods of using hot water are as follows: For strains of the ankle and wrist or any joint the part should be thoroughly soaked for half an hour at a time, night and morning, in very hot water, writes A. Macey, M. D., in a very valuable list of "domestic household remedies" in The Ladies' Home Journal. Those suffering from a severe sprain will not require more than the first soaking to convince them of the advantage of hot over cold water. A flannel bandage should be applied firmly after each treatment. For bruises very much the same method should be followed, although the application need not be continued for so long a time. For wounds and sores the best method is to drip or pour for a few minutes. For styes and inflamed eyelids, and even for sore eyes, use water as hot as can be borne by applying. To stop bleeding very hot water applied to the raw surface will be found efficacious. For many forms of dyspepsia and biliousness, particularly a catarrhal condition of stomach, a goblet of hot water, drunk after the night's fasting, will give relief. For continued application, in the form of a poultice, as in catarrh of the breast, pleurisy, pneumonia, etc., a jacket of cotton batting, wrung out in very hot water by means of a towel and covered with oiled silk or waxed paper, should be used.

country to estimate the fees for final records in such cases. "In view of all the facts in this case it is our conclusion that Judge Ricks is not guilty of any offense; that there was no intention of wrong doing and that no moral turpitude attaches. We therefore recommend that the resolution reported to the house for impeachment be not adopted."

THE CASE TO BE REOPENED.

A Practical Defeat For Those Who Favor Impeachment.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 18.—The judiciary committee of the house held a long session today over the Ricks case. Representative Bailey, of Texas, presented the majority report, drawn by himself, and Representative Broderick, the minority report.

The majority report recites the charges against Judge Ricks and states the facts which it believes have been established. The report closes by saying that it finds it impossible to reconcile the judge's conduct with the rules of common honesty and therefore recommends the adoption of the impeachment resolution.

The friends of Judge Ricks endeavored to reverse the decision of the previous meeting, and finally the committee decided by a vote of 7 to 5, to re-open the case by extending an invitation to Judge Ricks to appear before them if he so desired, with his witnesses and to give a like invitation to the other side.

This action was taken on motion of Mr. Harris, who refrained from voting at the last meeting. The affirmative votes were cast by Ray, New York; Powers, Vermont; Blodgett, Kansas; Updegraff, Iowa; Childs, Illinois; Republicans; Goodnight and Harrison, Alabama, Democrats. Negative—Bailey, Texas; Boyer, Louisiana; Lane, Illinois; Stockdale, Mississippi, and Dearmond, Missouri, Democrats.

Representative Culberson, the chairman, who voted for impeachment at the last meeting, refrained from voting. Representative Bailey's report was discussed at length, and several amendments offered and voted upon. The members who have stood with Mr. Bailey for impeachment, regard the vote as a practical defeat, so far as action by this congress is concerned.

WHAT THE JUDGE SAYS.

The United Press Story of His Prostration Was Utterly False.

CLEVELAND, Jan. 18.—Judge Ricks left the city late last night for Chicago, where he expects to sit with Judge Woods in a case of one of the Cleveland Leaf road cases. Before leaving the judge announced that he had received no advices from Washington and continued: "On the day that the house judiciary committee voted on the report of the investigating committee, the report was sent over the country that I was prostrated by the shock. I am indignant over the report. I am bothered by my friends in New York and one of them who came to Cleveland today said that they were disturbed by the rumor. I have been here every day, and I am going to Chicago now to sit with Judge Woods in the Cleveland case. "Some of the reports of the proceedings do me a great injustice. I have endeavored to be dignified throughout all this matter, but it seems as though I ought to pay attention to some of the reports which have been made."

AFFAIRS IN NEWFOUNDLAND.

An Attempt Being Made to Reorganize the Union Bank.

ST. JOHN'S, N. F., Jan. 18.—The shareholders of the Union bank met again last night to elect directors to replace those by whose mismanagement the failure of the bank was brought about. A new board of five directors was elected. They will have to consult with the government on the matter of legislation.

The government has a bill tabled providing for the winding up of the bank, but it is opposed by the shareholders and many of the creditors. A bill satisfactory to both sides is not likely to be made. The bill is indignant at the disgraceful showing made by the ex-directors of the bank. Goodrich & Sons compromised last night with the creditors for 25 cents on the dollar. The creditors of Mr. Stears will meet soon and it is thought that a compromise will be effected at about the same figures. Every firm, except perhaps Duder, will be encouraged to continue business. The establishment of outside banks is stimulating trade somewhat but the only level market is that for provisions. These are selling well by shopkeepers who accept notes of the defunct banks.

The government has railroaded resolutions through both houses appealing to the governor to sign the bill abolishing the disabilities against Sir William Whitehead and the other politicians who were disqualified for corrupt practices. The bill is generally known as "the whitewash bill." The governor has been instructed from England not to give his assent to the bill.

RIOING IN BROOKLYN.

Mayor Schieren Thinking of Asking the Governor For Troops.

BROOKLYN, Jan. 18.—Several conflicts between the strikers and new employees of the trolley lines have occurred today. Men were driven from their cars and beaten by mobs and E. A. Spink, a passenger, on a Putnam avenue car, was assaulted and seriously injured by the strikers for denouncing them. Mayor Schieren is satisfied the police force is incompetent to preserve order, and he has been in consultation with the police commission and corporation counsel relative to asking Governor Morton for troops.

Arrested For Forging Bonds.

New York, Jan. 18.—Edwin O. Quigley, of the firm of Quigley & Tuttle, dealers in investment securities at No. 6 Wall street, was arrested today on complaint of President W. P. S. John, of the Mercantile National bank, charged with forging bonds on the city of Cleveland, Springfield and Zanesville, Ohio, and Harrisburg, Pa. Quigley admits the forgeries. The bank holds $16,000 of these forged bonds, against advances of $154,000.

Official Proceedings.

Board of County Commissioners.

AUDITOR'S OFFICE.

St. Louis County.

Duluth, Minnesota, Jan. 3, 1895.

The board of county commissioners met at 2 o'clock p.m. this day pursuant to call.

Present: Commissioners Miller, Helm, Swenson, and Chairman Poirier.

Minutes of last meeting were read and approved.

A communication giving the names and addresses of heads of families in West Duluth representing that they would have to be furnished work very soon or else they would have to be rendered assistance out of the county poor fund, was presented by A. P. Freeberg.

On motion the communication was referred to the superintendent of poor.

Duluth, Minn., Jan. 3, 1895.

To the Honorable Board of County Commissioners:

Gentlemen: I wish you to authorize the county auditor to issue warrants on Jan. 5th, 1895, to cover our January payroll.

E. J. Crossett, County Treasurer.

WORKED HIM NICELY.

Marcus W. Bates, in a Complaint Filed Today, Tells How He Dropped Twelve Hundred Dollars.

He Paid Thirteen Hundred Dollars For a Seventy-five Dollar Certificate in a Co-operation Company.

The Company's Object is to Gain Possession of an Extensive Estate in Great Britain.

Marcus W. Bates has filed complaint in a suit against J. W. Warren and A. D. Haslett in which he recites a tale of how he was done out of $1225 in a manner that reminds one of a "funny" story. In the beginning, according to the complaint, one Hector Jennings represented that he had inherited a vast estate in England, composed of real estate and personal property worth many millions of dollars.

While he said he had a valid claim to this princely estate, there were many other claimants, and his fortune could only be gained by expensive litigation, to conduct which he had not the funds. So the co-operative company, of Philadelphia, agreed to furnish the money for a half interest in the estate, and to raise funds for opening the litigation issued certificates the purchasers of which were entitled to pro rata dividends in the proceeds.

The defendants, J. W. Warren and A. D. Haslett, trustees in the company, approached Mr. Bates with this glowing account and offered to sell him certificates the face value of which was $75. They further represented, plaintiff says, with the intention of cheating him, that the company was badly in need of $300, and if he would pay that much for his certificates it would be all right because the more one paid for them the more they were worth. "The contribution will enhance the value of the certificates," were the seductive words used by the defendants.

This interesting financial theorem apparently was plain to Mr. Bates, for he bought the certificates for $300, under a promise that that amount would be credited to him with the company.

Wants His Money Back. He has found out the frailness of that tempting offer, and he now complains that the promises of the defendants were false, that the company repudiates liability for all money paid over the amount on the face of the certificates, and that he has been damaged $1225, for which he asks judgment.

Judge Meier has filed findings for the defendants in the case of the heirs of John P. Carey against C. H. Davis and the Mahoning Iron company to determine the ownership of eighty acres of iron lands in 57-21, occupied under a lease by the Carey company. The plaintiffs claimed that they had derived their title from J. P. Carey, who had taken the land under a soldier's homestead right, and his heirs' agents had secured quit claim deeds from them for $200 by representations that the land was worthless when in reality it was worth $500,000 as iron lands.

Judge Meier finds that Carey's title was good, a patent having been issued, but that he gave one W. A. Newton in 1874 a power of attorney to dispose of the land, which he did to S. C. Moore. By several transfers the land came to C. H. Davis, who gave an option for a lease to the Mahoning Iron company. The claim that Davis's agent, when he obtained the quit claim deed from the heirs, who lived in Iowa and knew nothing of the land, was aware that the land was valuable for its iron ore deposits, he finds in a measure true. It was valuable as prospective iron lands. Nevertheless, Davis' title is found to be good and the heirs have no legal claim.

N. B. Smith & Sons have sued C. G. Johnson for $50,000 for goods. Judge Ensign has filed an order for summary judgment in the case of the Crane-Ordway company against the Ricinate company.

CUT HIS THROAT.
A Despondent Workman Tried to Suicide but Was Unsuccessful.

A Frenchman named LaFrenier cut his own throat Wednesday night at Tise's camp on the south shore. He had been drinking heavily and was out of work. He called at the camp and could get no work and left. Shortly afterward he was found with the cut in his throat. He was not dead but was bleeding badly and would soon have been beyond assistance. He was sent to Ashland, where he has a brother.

Got Into the Wrong House.
Mrs. Pinkham, of 1125 West Michigan street, went out yesterday to visit some friends. When she returned her house was bare, everything in the shape of furniture being missing. The police were notified and found that a mistake had been made. Mrs. Smith living next door was taken to the poor farm and her household goods were sent for. The draymen got into the wrong house and took Mrs. Pinkham's goods.

They Attended a Dance.
In police court this morning, John O'Connell and William Donnelly each pleaded guilty to the charge of drunkenness and were given ten-day sentences. Pearl Cooley and Mary Mead were up on the charge of residing in a house of ill-fame. Pearl pleaded guilty and paid a fine of $10. Mary pleaded not guilty and her hearing was set for the afternoon session. The fair creatures attended a dance on Third street and behaved in so loud a manner that those present objected and entered a complaint. That led to the arrest of the romping damsels.

SUITS IN EJECTMENT.

H. B. Moore Demands Possession of the Great Western and One Hundred Dollars a Day Damages.

H. B. Moore, district court receiver of the Great Western Manufacturing company, this afternoon, through Cotton, Dibble & Reynolds, commenced suit in ejectment against E. C. Fowle, United States court receiver, and John Kennedy and W. E. Lachner, the custodians of the plant by authority of E. C. Fowle, who now have the plant in charge to the exclusion of all other claimants. The complaint is very brief and simple, and merely recites the insolvency proceedings in the district court and Moore's appointment as receiver. The plant and accompanying real estate is described and it is alleged that although he is entitled to the property his demands have been repeatedly refused by the defendants. A second cause of action charges the defendants $100 per day for the use of the plant during the time they have held it.

The court is asked to declare the ownership of the plant to be in the plaintiff and to award him $2000 damages. This action will when it is determined settle the dispute between the two receivers.

REVOLUTION IN GREECE.
Rumor of a Rebellion and That King George Has Abdicated.

PARIS, Jan. 18.—The rumor that a rebellion has broken out in Greece is current upon the bourses in this city, Vienna and Berlin. Nothing, however, has been received direct from Athens on this subject. The late bourse rumors include one of the abdication of the king of Greece, George I. The reports, however, are not confirmed.

Handed Over to Virginia. CINCINNATI, Jan. 18.—The circuit court today decided the appeal of Charles Morganfield, the alleged train robber, and affirmed the decision of Judge Wilson remanding him to the Virginia authorities. He was at once taken in a wagon, on a cot, to the Chesapeake & Ohio depot, and left for Virginia in charge of the sheriff of Stafford county, on the noon train.

A New Colorado Road. DENVER, Jan. 18.—Three million dollars worth of bonds have been placed for the construction of the Colorado, Great Northern & Wyoming railroad from Grand Junction, Col., to Green River, Wyo. McCleary Likely to Make a Good Showing in That Event and May Surprise People.

ST. PAUL, Jan. 19.—The excitement in legislative circles today on senatorial matters is intense, and all sorts of rumors of all sorts of results are to be heard in the hotel lobbies. The adjournment last night, which was brought about by the field against Nelson (as the first test vote in the caucus had been the field against Washburn) is generally considered a

Comstock seems to be the probable next leader in the voting.
If he cannot win it will give a chance for a dark horse, in which connection McCleary should not be overlooked, as he is likely to be heard from before the contest ends. New candidate talk is much in evidence on all sides, but no one yet seems sufficiently strong to win.

IN THE HOUSE TODAY.

Mr. Cant Introduces a Bill Regarding Onco's Indebtedness.

ST. PAUL, Jan. 19.—In the house this morning, after some minor routine, Mr.
Gibbs asked to be relieved from the committee on forest fire sufferers, and at his request Mr. Mallette was appointed. Among the bills introduced were the following:

By Mr. Robbins, appropriating money to cover a deficiency in the appraising and selling of state pine lands.

By Mr. Staples, to prevent the sale of cigarettes to minors.

By Mr. Cant, providing for the adjustment of the indebtedness of municipalities and quasi-municipalities, an-nexed or partially annexed, to cities.
The bill is intended to cover the case of Onco, where a small part of the town was not annexed to Duluth at the time the main town was, and does not apply to the annexation of entire towns or municipalities. In the latter case the law is now well settled, that the corporation to which such towns or municipalities are attached must pay the indebtedness of the territory annexed. This is the same as Senator Spencer's bill introduced a few days ago in the senate.

Adjournment was then taken until Tuesday morning.

Armenian citizen here, contains the following statement, which has been cor-that was the reason he was imprisoned.

Three Gamblers Killed.

DURANGO, Mex., Jan. 19.—The fiestas which three persons were killed. Luis Benevise, a noted gambler, was conducting a gaming table, which was so liberally patronized as to excite the envy of a rival, and a fight occurred. Bene-vise was shot through the head, but not until he had fatally wounded his rival.

Another gambler named Tovar was shot through the body and killed.

TALKING OF WAR

In View of the Strained Relations Between Mexico and Guatemala, the Mexicans Are Becoming Excited.

There is Much War Talk and Offers of State Troops and Volunteers Being Made.

Diplomatic Negotiations Are Still Continued and It is Possible an Agreement May Be Reached.

Troops Are Massed on Each Side of the Frontier and May Come Into Collision.

MEXICO CITY, Jan. 19.—Don Emilio deLeon, Guatemalan minister to Mexico, was seen at the National palace today when emerging from a conference with the Mexican minister of foreign relations, and positively denied that diplomatic negotiations have come to an end over the international boundary dispute.
As proof of the verity of his statement
he referred to the meeting just concluded, and intimated that the regular diplomatic course of proceedings is still in operation.

He referred the correspondent to an article in El Nacional of today (Saturday) and which contains a lengthy review of the Guatemalan question, with the powers which Minister Leon bears from his government. The article says that the Guatemalan envoy is given full power to act in all departments of the case and to give it final settlement according to the instructions which he bears.

El Universal, which is counted as a semi-official paper of the Mexican government, contains a confirmation of the report of yesterday that Guatemala has rejected Mexico's claims. These claims, which are considered as Mexico's ultimatum, are about as follows:

First, full satisfaction from Guatemala for the invasion of Mexican territory and the destruction by armed Guatemalan officers of logging camps belonging to Mexican citizens and Americans.

Second, due indemnity for the damage done on said invasion.

Third, remanence in full to Mexico for the expense incurred by this country in sending armed forces to the Guatemalan frontier and their maintenance at the present time there.

Fourth, the speedy conclusion of the boundary survey between Mexico and Guatemala, as provided for in the treaty of 1882.

Only an extract of the reply of Guatemala has been received from Don Josef Goderi, Mexican minister to Guatemala, but the official document will arrive according to expectation about Jan.
25. The telegraphic resume received shows that Guatemala is still dodging the general question by holding that the first three demands for indemnity to Mexico are not just, on account of the territory alleged to have been invaded being property belonging to Guatemala.
It is claimed here that this is in spite of the fact that according to the treaty of 1882 the disputed land was to be considered as Mexican until the permanent survey commission had formally passed on the matter, which survey had never been completed. The stand of the Mexican government is still firm. It is not thought, however, that any hostile demonstration will be considered by Mexico until the original document has been received from Guatemala and given complete and exhaustive consideration by the president and cabinet.

The excitement in this city is at a higher pitch than ever, and since the question has been pending war talk is heard on every side. The high feeling not only permeates military and civil circles at the seat of government, but has diffused itself throughout the whole nation, and the department of war is daily receiving reports of state troops, civil volunteers and money and munition appropriations.

Newspaper correspondents at this capital are holding themselves in readiness to hasten to the frontier at an hour's notice, and unusual activity is seen in many quarters in anticipation of what the next day may develop. The greater part of the Guatemalan frontier is occupied within communicating distance with Mexican troops and artillery, while Guatemala has taken the same steps in the mobilization of its troops on the opposite side of the delimitation between the two republics.

It is feared a clash of arms may be precipitated at almost any time by an ill-advised action on the part of stragglers connected with the two forces of troops, and this is being guarded against on the part of Mexico in a very rigid surveillance kept over every point possible.

Chinese Defeated.
LONDON, Jan. 19.—A dispatch from Hai Ching, dated Thursday, says that in the fighting which occurred in the vicinity of New Chwang on Wednesday last the Chinese were defeated by a loss of 900.
The Japanese loss was about 50.

HIROSHIMA, Jan. 19.—It is officially announced that on the morning of Jan.
17, 15,000 Chinese troops from Lao Yang encountered the Japanese northwest of Hai Ching. The Chinese were repulsed by a downpour. Only one Japanese soldier was killed and 40 wounded.

Washburn victory, and the Hennepin delegation are correspondingly jubilant.
They held a private conference this morning and decided to stick to Washburn, asserting the greatest confidence in his success.

On the other hand the Nelson men, while chagrined at their defeat in the adjournment last night, are equally confident, and seem to base much of their assurance on the possible support they may receive from the Populists. This is an element of strength much discounted by the Washburn managers, but there can be no doubt that some few votes may come to Nelson from that source.

His maximum and last vote last night was sixty, requiring twenty-five more to elect. There are fourteen Populists and twelve Democrats, or twenty-six votes, all but one of which would be necessary to elect Nelson if he gains no more Republicans. Washburn's last vote was fifty-five and he would need all the Populists and Democrats with four more Republicans to make the necessary thirty.

If the minor candidate vote, twenty-six, went to Nelson and he held his present sixty, he would win. But if Nelson holds his present sixty, Washburn, must get thirty more votes, or four votes of Populist or Democrats in order to win. In other words, if the two leaders hold their present strength, Nelson might win without Populist and Democratic help, but Washburn cannot do so.
There is renewed talk of a new candidate and Comstock stands very well.
One Washburn member said today that if another ballot had been taken last night, he would have expected to see Comstock get forty-five votes. As his last vote had been fourteen, such a jump would have placed him immediately in the front rank. There are a good many members who would like to vote for Nelson, this position being that of Senator Hodge, of Pine City, who voted all the time for Pillsbury, but says he was reluctant to vote for any other good man, excepting Washburn and Nelson.

From present indications there will be no decisive ballot cast on Tuesday, when the two houses vote in their respective halls, and the voting in joint session on Wednesday may be the beginning of a protracted struggle. The predictions made in these dispatches a few weeks ago seem about to be verified. It seems that Nelson has already defeated Washburn;
the Washburn people are now doing all in their power to defeat Nelson, and

AN AIR LINE TO DENVER.
President Hill's Scheme of a Direct Road From Duluth.

ST. PAUL, Jan. 19.—A Washington special to the Globe says the bill introduced in the senate yesterday, incorporating the Interstate Transportation company is the first move toward the annexation of President J. J. Hill's cherished scheme of an air line between Duluth and Denver. The Washington special says:

One of the incorporators of this road is ex-Speaker W. R. Kinyon, of Owatonna, Minn., and among the others are men who are connected with the old Midland Pacific, which has a bridge partially completed across the Missouri at Sioux City. Senator Pettigrew is in the scheme, and there is every occasion to believe that Sam Hill, who has been in conference with Senator Davis nearly every day and had a meeting with him today, is directing the operations.

At Julesburg the proposed road will connect with the Union Pacific, Denver & Gulf, which runs straight to Denver.
As in the case of several other railroad schemes of the Pickens statesman, the road will pass into the hands of the Great Northern when completed. The Denver & Gulf, while in the past controlled by the Union Pacific, is a separate road, and is one of that corporation's parallel line schemes.

Grocers often say: "It's just as good as Dr. Price's" when they want to sell an inferior baking powder. But there is no powder half so good—millions of cooks know this.

Filzinnones Indicted.
SYRACUSE, N. Y., Jan. 19.—The grand jury of Onondaga county today returned an indictment of manslaughter in the second degree against vigilante Robert Fil-zinnones for the killing of his sparing partner, Con Riordan, in an exhibition at the Jacobs Opera house, this city Nov. 17.

A Rich Find.

SAN LUIS POTOSI, Mex., Jan. 19.—Two children playing east of here discovered a cavern. Several men explored the cave, revealing an iron chest filled with Spanish gold coin, amounting to between $250,000 and $350,000. It is believed that the money was placed in the cave
by Franciscan monks.

ation to collect from the Christians of the province the taxes for three years.
Business transactions are entirely suspended, all stores and shops being closed for thirteen days. The Christian population is in a state of great excitement, and an outbreak is feared at any moment. The inhabitants of the village of Farasha, situated on the river of Zahanta, Cecilia, were attacked by a band of Circassians and the slaughter of Armenians was begun, when the Greeks of the neighboring village of Karkany hastened to their assistance. Some 200 children were saved from massacre and the Circassians were put to flight. The Turkish troops numbering 8000 are stationed at all the principal passes. The whole region is in a state of terror and business is completely paralyzed.

Another letter received here states that Krikor Manasian, a naturalized Armenian citizen engaged in business in New York, recently visited Tokat, his native city in Armenia, intending to arrange to bring his family to this country.
The night he arrived at home the house was surrounded by Turkish soldiers who dragged him from the house almost naked and locked him up in jail with two murderers. He was kept there for two days and then taken to Sassoun in irons, being compelled to walk most of the way, while he was lashed several times.

From Sassoun he was taken to Constantinople on a Turkish steamer. Although carefully guarded on the steamer he managed to communicate with some Armenians who in Constantinople appealed to the American legation and on the interference of the legation Manasian was released. On being released he demanded $30 in Turkish money which had been taken from him and redress for the punishment he had suffered.

The Turkish government investigated but the authorities at Tokat denied that they had taken the prisoner's money.

this morning 500 feet of the dam was carried away and it looks as if the whole structure would go out. It will be a great calamity if the dam goes out.

VILAS STANDS FIRM.
Says the People of Duluth and Superior Must Approve the Bridge Bill.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 19.—[Special to The Herald.]—Senator Vilas has declined to withdraw his objection to the passage of the amended bill for a bridge over the St. Louis river between Duluth and Superior.

He says if the people of Superior and Duluth can agree on a measure, he will consent to its passage, and not before.

A VERY SLIM CHANCE.

Little Hope of the Altamonte Bill Passing This Session.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 19.—[Special to
The Herald.]—Speaker Crisp has decided that there will be no more "suspension days" at this session, and so the only way Representative Baldwin can secure the passage of the Altamonte bill is to have the speaker give a day for its consideration.

This will be a very difficult matter, in view of the important legislation now pending.

A Missing Man.

FORT WAYNE, Ind., Jan. 19.—Daniel W. Souder, ex-county clerk of this county, who mysteriously disappeared from his home on Tuesday last, has not yet been heard from. His family and friends have searched everywhere for him but can learn nothing as to his whereabouts.

WEST DULUTH ITEMS

A Deserted Wife Arrived in West Duluth Yesterday and Appeared Before Her Faithless Husband.

They Had Been Married for Twenty Years and Lived in Scotland When He Left Her.

D. Falconer, a Jeweler, is the Man, and He Has Been Living With Another Woman.

About two years ago a middle-aged gentleman arrived in West Duluth and opened up a small jewelry store on Fourth street north, near the postoffice. The fact that the man was quite reticent in his ways and that he occupied apartments in the rear of his store with a young woman about 20 years of age occasioned some surprise and considerable comment at the time but as the couple apparently behaved themselves no attempt was made by anyone to pry into their relations.

The pair afterwards moved to Raleigh street where the man whose name is Daniel Falconer purchased a lot, moved an old building upon it and continued in the jewelry business.

Everything went along serenely at the Falconer domicile until a few weeks ago. Then a letter was received from a lady in Boston stating that she had traced Falconer to West Duluth, that she was his lawful wife and that the girl he had living with him was one Mary Shephard with whom he had eloped from a small town in the North of Scotland about an hour's ride by railway from Dundee. After some correspondence with Mrs. Falconer, Mrs. Falconer determined to come to West Duluth and investigate matters for herself. She arrived yesterday afternoon and paid a visit in company with Mrs. Briggs to her husband.

The meeting was not marked by any show of affection. It was evident no doubt to the man that Mrs. Falconer was not here for reconciliation but prosecution and he made hasty preparations last night to leave the city with his lady partner. The police were watching his movements and instead of getting away the couple landed in jail, where they are now held to await the action of the court.

The young woman is plain looking with no apparent attractions of person or mind while the abused wife is a refined, intelligent woman who feels keenly the disgrace brought upon her by her recent husband.

In conversation with The Herald reporter this morning she stated that she learned of the whereabouts of her husband through friends with whom he corresponded in the old country. At the time he eloped with the girl, he represented to his wife that he was going to Glasgow on a short business trip and would be back in a few days. That was the last she saw of him until they met yesterday in West Duluth.

She says that he had a good business in the little town in which they lived and up to the time of the elopement was a highly respected citizen. Notwithstanding the fact that the husband says that they did not live happily together, Mrs. Falconer states that their married life which extended over a period of twenty years was comparatively a happy one with no more trouble than the usual little jars incident to wedded life. She says that she can never think of living with him again and only desires a divorce and that proper punishment be meted out to him for the crime. She has no means on which to rely and expects to work for her living.

WHEAT VERY DULL TODAY.

There was little trading in either Cash or Futures. The wheat market was dull and dead today, with hardly any business in cash and very little in futures, trading in the latter being confined to May. The opening price for May was 62c, and it declined to 61c, but later recovered. Trading in cash was very poor, at 61c, with a small amount of business in the first half of the day. The market closed 61c, lower all round than yesterday. Following were the closing prices:

CRUSHED HIS HEAD

Horrible Manner in Which Clint Zimmerman, a Switchman, Met His Death Early This Morning.

His Head Was Caught Between Projecting Legs on Two Cars Which He Was Coupling.

When Released He Fell and Both Legs Were Run Over—Death Was Undoubtedly Instantaneous.

Clint Zimmerman, foreman of a transfer switching crew at the Garfield avenue yards of the St. Paul & Duluth, was instantly killed while in the discharge of his duties at 7:30 this morning. He was making a coupling between two flat cars loaded with logs. When the cars drew together his head was caught squarely between two logs which projected beyond the ends of the cars so as to meet, and terribly crushed.

Death must have been instantaneous as the head is badly mutilated. When he fell, released by the logs, his legs fell across the rails and both were run over and crushed.

The dead man lived at 1125 West Michigan street, and leaves a wife whom he married but three months ago. He was about 28 years of age. The coroner decided to hold no inquest.

ARABELLA HAS ELOPED.

A Young Miss Whose Love Defied Parental Control or Interference.

The police want to find Arabella Corwin, a 14-year-old girl who lives in the section house just back of Scott & Holston's. Arabella has lately had her first experience in knowing what it is to love. A young man whose parents live on a farm at Willow River met the young damsel and at once lost his heart. He begged permission of Arabella's papa to wed her, but Corwin pater familias was stern and returned an adverse decision. Day before yesterday, Arabella, who was at the home of some friends on Garfield avenue who concealed her. She next got her hair cut and curled, secured a pair of low slippers, took Garfield avenue car and came up to the Union depot. She was last seen there at 10 o'clock that evening.

It is supposed that the amorous young miss has gone to Willow River to wed her granger love and upon that supposition, Papa Corwin decided to go today to Willow River and see what traces of his missing daughter he could find.

WILL DECIDE MONDAY.

Judge Lewis Will Consider Whether to Grant an Injunction.

The Henry Truelsen bond injunction case came up before Judge Lewis in special term this morning on an order to show cause why the city should not be restrained from issuing $50,000 or from otherwise proceeding under the special election of Oct. 26. The entire forenoon and until 1 o'clock this afternoon was consumed in arguments, in which S. T. Harrison, Page Morris and W. W. Billson all had a good deal to say.

Mr. Harrison contended that the result of the canvass proved that the ballots were complicated and misleading. The other attorneys said it shows nothing of the kind. Judge Lewis took the matter under advisement and will render a decision before Monday night when the council meets to issue the bonds.

A motion for a new trial in the Hulett will case came up before Judge Moore this morning. He declined to pass upon Leach's motion, however, until the entire case is in.

The motion was continued until next Saturday, when it will be heard and submitted. On the following Wednesday, Jan. 30, Judge Moore will hear evidence on the remaining issues in chambers, and will decide the two matters together.

A demurrer to the complaint of Tyndale Palmer in his $50,000 libel suit against the Duluth Printing and Publishing company has been filed. It was to have been argued this morning, but was continued until next Saturday.

In the matter of the assignment of the Northwestern Plumbing company Judge Essig allowed the assignee's final account after cutting down excess in attorney's fees. In the matter of the insolvent of the Pittsburgh Iron company the receiver petitioned the court to grant him authority to close a contract with the Minnesota Iron company for the sale of certain lands on which it holds an option for $100,000. He also asks permission to pay off a small encumbrance on the property before closing the deal. Judge Lewis is hearing the matter this afternoon and will probably grant the application.

There was a special term calendar of forty-two cases, more than ordinarily lengthy, but with the exception of one or two matters it was all cleared off before 12 o'clock, many cases being continued.

ALDERMAN HARWOOD.

His Candidacy for Re-election is Proving to Be a Strong One.

William E. Harwood, candidate for re-election as alderman from the Third ward, is constantly gaining in strength and his friends predict him an easy winner. Mr. Harwood's course in the council has been such that it has brought him many friends. He has always labored earnestly for what he believed to be the city's best interests and his honesty and steadiness of purpose has always been beyond question. The laboring man's interests have always been closely watched by Alderman Harwood and time and again he has stood up in the council and pleaded for the workingmen. He has never been a demagogue and always speaks and acts from honest conviction. Whatever may have been said of his course on the many questions coming before the council no man has ever questioned Alderman Harwood's honesty.

Alderman Harwood is a heavy taxpayer and has large property interests in Duluth. It is such men that are needed to manage the city's affairs—those who are really interested in the good government and conduct of the municipality. His many years residence in the city have made him thoroughly conversant with the needs not only of his own particular ward, but of the whole city. The Republican voters of the Third ward can make no mistake in standing by Alderman Harwood.

THE CITY ELECTIONS.

A Glance Over the Field of Candidates Who Are Seeking Nominations From the Republicans.

Strong Movement Among the Better Class of Republicans to Indorse Fred Voss for Treasurer.

Benham Leading for the Judgeship, But Dibbell, Edson, Hanks and Others Have Strong Support.

The political pot is bubbling furiously. Its contents are badly mixed and exact nature and quality of the broth will not be positively known until after the Republican city convention next Tuesday.

The Populists gave the ball quite: roll down the hill last Wednesday evening. About sixty members of the Central Populist club met in its rooms in the Parsons' block and endorsed the candidacy of Voss for treasurer, Ten Brook for comptroller and Dibbell and Hunt, the bar association's recommendations for municipal judges. The city committee also held a meeting at the same time and decided not to call a city convention. When the regular Republican aldermanic candidates are not satisfactory, each ward, so far as the Populists are concerned, will decide what action shall be taken as to putting up opposition candidates.

Thursday afternoon, the Democratic city convention met in the council chamber at the city hall. A spirit of harmony and the absence of partisan feeling were the features of the occasion. Fred J. Voss, a sterling Democrat, was nominated to succeed himself as treasurer and W. G. Ten Brook, a stalwart Republican, was nominated to succeed himself as comptroller. There is scarcely a doubt but that Ten Brook will receive the Republican nomination next Tuesday, although a few fire eating Republicans are making so satisfactory an official as to secure the Democratic and Populist support by putting up some office hungry Republican against him.

West Enders may attempt to bring A. N. Hopkins to the front but, despite the fact that he is a good man, he apparently will not be. Stranger things, even in politics, have happened than the endorsement of Fred Voss by the Republicans next Tuesday. While such a thing is quite a few of the probable, it really would not surprise many people. There is absolutely no doubt but that he will have many friends among the demagogues. A few of the Republicans who most certainly will be delegates have called upon Mr. Voss this week and offered their support. Even if a straight Republican is nominated, there will be no small number of delegates in the convention who will go right home, take off their coats and whoop it up for Voss. And they are still Republicans, too.

The man who is nominated against Fred Voss must remember that he will need a pocket full of money. The "boys" are hard up, and then they do not like to get out and rend their garments unless there is something in it—a little of the reality, a promise of an office, or a snug berth for some relative. The Republicans, those who run "wide machine," realize that, and a pantsless candidate will have hard sledding.

Now Voss has no "bar," and he does not need any. He has warm, personal and business friends in all parties and all circles. They will work for him tooth and nail, because they know he is deserving and worthy. That will go farther than many "bar" men. That is what makes it such a expensive and uphill work for a Republican opponent. The people are a fickle lot, too, and a man in seeking and securing a nomination finds, after the polls are closed, that he was not as much of a household god and family favorite as he supposed. This fact will cause the Republican aspirants to think hard the next two days.

The only objection raised to Voss is that he is a Democrat. Partisan Republicans hate to see him elected when so many of their "boys" are hungry, penniless and out of a job. On the street car the other morning a gentleman was heard to express himself as follows: "That office is too good a one for a Democrat. The salary is going to be raised this year and a Republican has got to have it."

That incident being reported to Voss he said: "I have heard nothing about the salary being raised. It now is $2200 a year. Clerk hire is extremely limited and I have to be here in person every day in the year. To properly keep the records of the office, I have been compelled to spend many evenings at my desk and Sunday visits to the office have not been unknown to me. I took this office when it did not pay me a living and I should like to hold it one more term. I do not ask a raise in salary and I do not expect it. If the people will retain me here another term, I will guarantee the people of Duluth to remain contented with $2200 a year."

The Republican candidates for treasurer are J. H. Logie, E. C. Chapman, Walter Ingalls and C. F. Johnson. Ingalls feels very confident and so does Chapman. Logie expects to have his share of delegates and while C. F. Johnson maintains that he is not really a candidate, there is any number of men out hustling for him on the quiet.

The municipal judgeship is decidedly mixed. Edson now has much strength and is feared by the Benham supporters. The latter feel confident, however, that Benham will pick the plum. The past few days, the Benham men have been making the gravel fly, and will probably win.

J. H. Norton is still on deck and will have some loyal supporters among the delegates. "You may quote me as saying," remarked he to a Herald man yesterday, "that nothing but the use of money can beat me out of the race."

The slate makers and the favored sons of the Republican succession want to bear in mind that Homer B. Dibbell, the candidate recommended by the bar association, will not be destitute of friends, and if the partisan convention gets into a wrangle, as now seems possible, at least, a stampede to this non-partisan ticket may follow and sweep all before it.

The aldermanic situation is not especially exciting. Alderman Hale in the First ward will have no opposition. In the Second, but little has been heard of Alderman Evans for some days. He most likely will be renominated, unless some machine slips a cog. The Democrats have nominated John T. Woodside in that ward. E. S. Radcliffe, and J. L. Low do not seem anxious to contest the field with Alderman Harwood, but the opposition talks of running J. A. Waterworth.

In the Fourth, Christensen and Hugo will fight it out. Whichever receives the Republican nomination will have opposition. A Jim Anderson, a Populist, nominated by the Democrats, will run against Goldsmith in the Fifth, as it is conceded that he will be renominated by the Republicans. In the Sixth, E. J. Buska (Dem) will enable Johnny Nelson to enjoy a competitor and Alderman French is likely to have opposition from some source in the Seventh ward. In the Eighth the Democrats nominated W. H. Smith.

The Republicans are likely to have fun in the Eighth. Alderman Olafson seems to be in the lead for renomination but some are trying to punish him for his stand on the waterworks purchase. Then, too, it is said, John Clyne and W. J. Holmes are after him because he would not support the "Clyne proposition." It is asserted that Holmes is back of the candidacy of E. J. Luther for the purpose of laying out Olafson and that Clyne and Holmes also encourage J. H. Moore and ex-treasurer Johnson in their aspirations for the same reason.

The man who wants to get his money's worth, will do well to attend next Tuesday's convention. It will be a hummer, and it is well worth going many miles to see.

Cadets and Guards. At the Hotel last night the Zenith City cadets handsomely entertained the Columbian guards, of West Superior, with a pleasing program including address by Dr. Salter, Capt. Bidwell and G. C. Nicol. Members of the companies sang, a bayonet contest and a drill were given and refreshments closed an enjoyable evening.

Duluth Debating Club. The Duluth Debating club met in the Y. M. C. A. hall last night to argue the question of whether or not it was an outrage to banish Napoleon to the island of St. Helena. T. T. Thompson assisted by James Wieke, argued that it was, and Robert Shannon, William Huntley and C. Thompson said that it was not. The club, R. B. Bakerville, W. D. Hopkins and R. H. Hump, decided that it was just as well that Napoleon was banished. Refreshments were served at the close.

Foley's Honey and Tar. Is the best cough medicine. Max Wirth.

Interurban Medical Society. The Interurban Academy of Medicine held its first meeting at the Spalding last night and discussed the nature and treatment of diphtheria. Interesting and able papers were read by Drs. Walker and Weston, of Duluth, and Dr. Baird and Beck, of West Superior, and a general discussion of interest and common profit followed. The next meeting will be held in Superior in two months, and meetings will follow at similar intervals, alternating between the two cities. A dinner preceded the meeting.

Very Much off Color. Are people who are troubled with chronic liver complaint. Bile in the blood tinges the entire system, even the eyeballs, and also manifests its presence by uneasiness in the right side and beneath the right shoulder blade, furred tongue, nausea, sick headache and an unpleasant breath. It is usually accompanied by costiveness and dyspepsia. For the ailment itself, and its various manifestations, Hostetter's Stomach Bitters is a speedy and complete remedy. This standard medicine also prevents and cures chills and fever, rheumatism, nervousness and the infirmities incident to declining years. It builds up an enfeebled physique and fortifies it against disease. Appetite and nightly slumber are promoted by it, and it is a protector against the effects of a wetting, of overwork, exposure and unwholesome food or water.

Carlton Cornwell, foreman of the Gazette, Middletown, N. J., believes that Chamberlain's Cough Remedy should be in every home. He used it for a cold and it effected a speedy cure. He says: "It is indeed a grand remedy. I can recommend it to everybody. I have also seen it used for whooping cough, with the best results." Twenty-five and 50-cent bottles for sale by all druggists.

THE CAPITAL GOSSIP.

The Lockwood Rafting Bill Does Not Appear to have Any Show of Becoming Law.

Bills Regarding the Signalling of Vessels Meet With Opposition by Vesselmen on the Lakes.

Needless Alarm of the Beer Men Over the Proposed Tax of One Dollar Per Barrel.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 19.—[Special to The Herald.]—Scarcely a week passes that some representative of the shipping interests on the great lakes does not appear in Washington to protest against the passage of the rafting bill introduced at this session by Representative Lockwood of New York. This bill is said to contain all the objectionable features of the rafting clause in the last river and harbor bill, which was stricken from that measure through the efforts of the Minnesota representatives. It is stated by members of the Lake Carriers' association that some of the provisions of the Lockwood bill are even more dangerous to the shipping interests of the lakes than was the clause in the river and harbor bill which was defeated.

Several lumbermen who have been in the city, however, say that the Lake Carriers' association would object to a raft of three logs being towed on the lakes, if they had nothing else to kick about. The principal objection of Duluth lumbermen who have been in Washington to the Lockwood bill is that it makes the rafts so large that they cannot get into the harbor. They prefer that the law should be left as it is.

At any rate the Lockwood bill stands no chance of becoming a law at this session.

The house committee on merchant marine and fisheries has under consideration several bills regulating signaling of vessels, etc., with the object of preventing collisions at sea and on the inland waters of the country. It is stated by navigators on the lakes, who have seen these bills, that while the proposed new regulations may be all right on the coast, they would not be applicable to vessels upon the inland waters.

Representatives of the shipping interests from Detroit, Buffalo and other ports of the Great Lakes, who are in the city, claim that the operation is rapid and amenable to continuous working; that it improves the quality of the castings, and that even a furnace is used to generate the current, it gives a saving of 50 to 60 per cent in fuel. The practical limit of the process as at present organized is that it is not possible to melt more than one and a half tons of metal in one charge, which would require a furnace or fusion channel of from thirty-six to forty feet in length.

By applying to such a furnace a current of 30,000 amperes and fifty volts, or, say, about 200 horse power, the entire charge of 1,500 pounds of metal can be run into castings in a quarter of an hour. In the making of steel and iron castings by smelting in a Siemens-Martin regenerative furnace, from 100 to 150 pounds of coal are burned to smelt 2000 pounds of iron. In the Taussig process, even assuming that water power was available, the cost of the fuel and air pumps must be worked by steam. It is claimed that the smelting of 2000 pounds of iron and steel can be effected by the Taussig process with a saving of 50 per cent in fuel. When the steel is treated in crucibles the economy is still greater, especially if the cost of fuel and air pumps must be worked by steam. ## AT THE PLAYHOUSES

Emily Bancker at the Lyceum Monday Evening in a Bright Comedy Called "Our Flat."

It is a Laughable Burlesque on Housekeeping in a Flat in a Metropolitan Place.

James J. Corbett One of the February Attractions at the Temple—1942—Is Also Coming.

One of those rare opportunities for unreasoning enjoyment which bring men and women back to the simplicity of childhood once more and tone up impaired and jaded fancy is afforded at the Lyceum on Monday evening when Mrs. Musgrave's bright comedy "Our Flat" will be produced by Miss Emily Bancker and her strong company of comedians. Militant criticism is thoroughly disarmed in the presence of the people who live in "Our Flat" and one unconsciously falls into the humor of the situation until reason is debilitated and the audience only lives to laugh. The success of this clever comedy has been remarkable and holds one of the best records for long runs in the history of performances at the Strand theater, London, England. It was also played 100 nights at Daniel Frohman's Lyceum, New theater, New York.

It is a laugh provoker from beginning to end. The situations are by no means strained dealing as it does with a phase of life which appeals to thousands of people who live in flats and who have been compelled to start housekeeping in a modest way by recourse to the installment house. Herein is found the basic thought for the comedy. The exploiting of the trite light as air that go to make up the daily life of a man and woman struggling with fate in the presence of the butcher, the baker, the shoemaker and the monthly installment due on the furniture. Incidental to the development of the story there is a bit of romance that quite keeps the play with the lines of serious farce and yet adds materially in a suggestive way to the situations which are so thoroughly ludicrous that one cannot do else but sit back and laugh immoderately. Criticism might praise its improbability and folly, and its ponderous sentences declaim against broken canons of art, but all this would avail nothing over against a budget of humorous incidents that drive dull care away and unlock the spirit of laughter. "Our Flat" has never been excelled even by the German or French farceurs, whose plays have been everlastingly done on this side of the water for years. It is thoroughly original, sparkling in dialogue, humorous in situations and in the treatment of the subject. It is a lesson to young housekeepers should the obdurate installment man descend upon the furniture. The value of a thorough knowledge of the draperies and their artistic arrangement. The stage looks like a section of the Ladies' Home Journal after Margery Sylvester, played by Miss Bancker, utilizes four barrels, tomato cans, clothes horse, bath chair and kitchen furniture, to say nothing of the other things which are piled up in the room. The installment man had taken, there could be no doubting its effectiveness even though one knew of the hollow mockery of it.

Miss Bancker who plays Margery Sylvester is a most charming comedienne with a handsome face. She will be remembered for her splendid work last season as star of "Gloriana." Incidental to the play Miss Bancker will sing one of the prettiest songs ever written, "Oh Honey My Honey." The cast besides Miss Bancker are the following well known players: George W. Parsons, Phillip H. Riley, Neil Scully, W. H. Wallis, J. G. Glenney, H. C. Rower, Miss Lee Jarvis, Marion Van Courtland, Vesta Day, Anita Verono and others.

Jim Corbett Coming.
James J. Corbett will be an attraction of more than ordinary interest at the Temple in February. When last here the great pugilist drew the largest audience that was ever assembled in the Temple.

Some Coming Attractions.
F. E. Rice's "1942," which ran for several hundred nights in New York is one of the coming attractions at the Temple.

About Great Tenors.
Louis James and Frederick Warde and Lillian Lewis is Shakespeare's "Cleopatra" to be here soon.

Some of the Striking Peculiarities of the Genus.

W. S. Gilbert, the librettist of "Pinafore," "The Mikado" and other good things, once said after a comic opera rehearsal, "When the Almighty puts a tenor voice into a man's throat, he always takes the brain with it." This is in payment. The great satirical writer, himself a particularly disagreeable man, was probably suffering from a slight attack of dyspepsia when he said that. But it is not to be admitted that tenors are, to say the least, a very peculiar set of fellows, as a rule. Besides those whose voices have made them world famous were in nine cases out of ten the most accents—that is to say, they were men of the world with the special object of making the world with burning melody. The natural gift has in most instances never been suspected until they were well along in life.

LeFranc, the phenomenal tenor who made quite a stir in this country about 20 years ago, was a railroad porter at Marseilles and was singing to his fellow workmen at the depot at Marseilles one night when Gounod arrived on the train and happened to see him. He invited him to his hotel and advised him to cultivate his voice. The result was that the railway porter at Marseilles contributed a small sum weekly to send him to Paris. There Gounod gave an entry for him at the Conservatoire, and the result the world knows. He was probably the greatest favorite Marseilles ever knew, and it is a great opera town.

Campbell was a lowly born. He was at one time a blacksmith. His voice attracted somebody's attention, and he became perhaps the most popular tenor in the world for a few years. Jean de Reszke was never intended by nature to be a tenor at all. Up to middle life he was a baritone and attracted no particular attention. He may be said to have almost forced his voice into a tenor register. For many years he sang in the small towns of Europe without particular notice, and it was his sister, Mlle. de Reszke, who made the first hit of the family at the Grand Opera House in Paris. She was a soprano of great gifts. She is now dead, but her influence got the De Reszkes to Paris, and there Jean made his first hit singing with Patti. The papers at the time praised the tenor more than they did the great prima donna, and it is a matter of opera history that Jean made his first hit singing with Patti. The management of Abbey she refused to sing with Jean.

Tamagno was the son of an innkeeper near Turin, in Piedmont, Italy, and he used to serve at his father's tables. It is a curious fact that there are two men at present in the chorus of the Metropolitan Opera House, New York, whose names are now singing, who have in their time given him tips as a waiter. Tamagno is a wealthy man. He is computed to be worth 7,000,000 francs, or about $1,400,000. He has never been able to get over his original habits of frugality, which largely accounts for the great sum of money he is worth today. He looks into the smallest expense and loves the acquisition of money. All sorts of stories, many of them doubtless great exaggerations, are told of Tamagno's "closeness." One of these is to the effect that a few nights ago at the Metropolitan he was thirty after the first act and gave a boy 25 cents to go and get him some beer. The boy came back with a bottle of Milwaukee and 10 cents change. Tamagno would not hear of such a thing. "Only that for 15 cents," he exclaimed. "Go back and change it." He gave the boy his water pitcher, which he got filled with beer from the spigot, and when the messenger came back after the dual trip Tamagno, it is said, put the 10 cents change in his pocket. Besides his $1,400,000 a night Tamagno insists on so many tickets. He used to be given eight on every occasion he appeared. Now he gets four. It is a custom with Italian opera. The tickets are supposed to be given to friends to work up the applause. But Tamagno, it is said, very seldom gives his friends a ticket. He is telling them to speculate, so he said, and of course he gets his price for them. When he last sang in Rome, where he got 5,000 francs, or $1,000, a night, his privilege was to get 15 tickets. Here, as usual, he used to sell them, very much to the disgust of the management. On one occasion the tickets failed to arrive, so he took a cab for 2 francs and went to the theater to get them himself. At the end of the week his manager found 3 francs added to his expense list for Signor Tamagno's cab.

Another peculiarity of his arrangement is that the management pays not only his traveling expenses, but those of four other people. Tamagno reduces his traveling expenses by only taking a valet with him and leaving his personal agent back in New York. He is even alleged to sell his seats in the drawing room compartment. He has been known, when the seats did not sell, to occupy them with all his personal baggage, leaving other people standing, when sometimes. Of course it is his right, but it shows his peculiar system of business. He is the last cent of his contract. Sometimes the management has actually bought back from him the privilege of so many seats in the drawing room.

On one occasion he was singing at the Auditorium in Chicago and was in very bad voice, so he ordered several numbers of the opera to be cut. The stage manager went to the front and reported the fact to Messrs. Abbey and Grau. They naturally took the ground that as Signor Tamagno was paid a big sum of money—then $2,000—the public had a right to the full opera. Though quite unequal to it, Tamagno said, "All right," and he sang every number, with the result that he lost his voice and at the same time his fortune. He made $4,000 that night, but he lost $12,000 by it.

Tamagno shares this peculiarity with the other tenors. He gave the boy 25 cents to get his beer, but Salvini, who wanted to mend his trunk on the stage, sent a boy out with a cent to buy some nails, and when the boy came back and said he could not get a cent's worth of nails the great actor carefully put the cent in his pocket and went around the scenery and extracted a couple of old nails, with which he fixed his traveling apparatus.

A DAINTY YOUNG ACTRESS.
Miss Isabelle Irving is a beautiful girl who will make her mark some day. The fact of having been a prominent member of Augustin Daly's stock company is in itself a proof of merit. Miss Isabelle Irving can claim this distinction, and she well deserves it, for a more dainty and natural actress would be hard to find. Bridgeport, Conn., claims Miss she was at once enrolled as a member of the Lyceum company by Daniel Frohman. During the early part of the present season she toured with that company, appearing as Lady Noeline, the principal role in "The Amozons." When Georgia Cayvan sent in her resignation on account of her health, and because she wished to take a much needed rest, Miss Irving was immediately called in and made her first appearance as leading lady of the Lyceum company as "The Amozons." During the fortnight's run, she played the role of "The Amozons." Miss Irving proved her right to the position by her charming acting, which, combined with her personal comeliness, youth and vivaciousness, makes her a valuable acquisition to that organization.

Miss Irving's latest essay is the role of Lady Susan Haralson in "The Case of Relevance." She is even alleged to sell her new play. In this comedy Miss Irving has made a personal success, and her work has nightly elicited hearty applause.

A Remarkable Heavy Game.

At a whist party in England recently two packs of cards had been alternately used for six rounds of the first rubber. In the proper order one of them was shuffled, cut and dealt for the seventh round. The dealer then turned the three of hearts. A prolonged pause followed, which was not unusual. Then the dealer remarked, "It is unnecessary to play the cards out," and placed his hand on the table, disclosing every heart in the pack. The playing player then put down the whole suit of clubs, the second that of diamonds and the third of spades.

WINTER BASEBALL GOSSIP.

Boston has turned down three pretty good batters in Tenny, Connaughton and Bannon.

Captain Davis of the New Yorks intends to pitch Russe, Meekin and Westervelt regularly next season, using German as a substitute.

Meekin of New York headed last year's pitching list, McMahon of Baltimore was second, Russe of New York was third, and Taylor of Philadelphia was fourth. Nichols, the Boston star, was fifth.

The Boston team for this year will be made up of the following players: Pheasant, Nichols, Stevens, Hoken and Sullivan; catchers, Gansel, Hyatt and Warner; infielders, Tucker, Lowe and Nash; outfielders, McCarthy, Duffy and Collins.

Amos Russe, the high pitcher, made $3,750 out of baseball last season. He pitched 49 games, and consequently received $76.33 a game. These games averaged two hours each, so that his pay per hour for actual work was $38.16, which reduced to more fractional compensation, is a little more than 63 cents a minute.

The New York team will train in New Orleans, the Baltimore team in St. Louis, the Chicago team in Galveston; the Philadelphia in Charlotte, Va.; the Brooklyn team in Hot Springs, Ark.; the St. Louis team in Hot Springs, Ark.; the Cleveland team in Hot Springs, Ark.; the Cleveland team in Hot Springs, Ark.

Duluth Rink at Milwaukee Brings Home the Honors for Next Year as Its Prize.

First of the Polo Games for the Championship at the Head of the Lakes.

W. F. Hatley's Great Success at Billiards in Chicago—The Murray-Curtis Fight This Week.

Harry Hurdon, S. F. Fullerton, Ron Smith and R. J. McLeod, the rink which is representing Duluth at the Milwaukee bonspiel, have played some good games and beaten some good rinks, notably the John McCulloch rink of St. Paul. They have not taken any first prizes yet, but the first prize in the whole week, the bonspiel for next year is coming to Duluth beyond a doubt. That Duluth will be able to take care of it in a hospitable style and show all the curlers a good time, is not to be doubted for a minute.

The second game in the series for the polo championship of the head of the lakes came off at Superior, Thursday evening, and was won by the Duluth club, adding another to their record. This leaves the standing of the clubs as follows:

Club.	Played.	Won.	Lost.	Percentage.
Duluth.	1	1	0	100
St. Paul.	1	0	1	0
Superior.	1	0	1	0

In spite of the darkness of the rink, which caused the players much inconvenience because of the difficulty in keeping track of the ball, the game at Superior was a good one. The Duluth club, with Will Bartram of the Zenith club playing right back in place of McLeod, has been playing great ball, and a good game. The Superiors are playing better polo than they were last winter, and they also did some good playing.

Parker Paine scored the first goal after a minute and a half of play. Superior took the next and the third and last was a try through a Duluth goal. A combination passed from player to player around the Superiors and then driven home. The next game will be between the same clubs at Duluth, Monday night, and a good and interesting game is looked for.

Two more games are scheduled in the series, both between the Y. M. C. A. and Superior clubs. The first will be at Superior, Thursday, Jan. 24, and the second at the Endion rink in Duluth, Monday, Jan. 28.

The Zenith Prison Goal club has evolved into a polo club which promises to be an excellent one. The members are all young but they are good skaters and players and their leaders in the other clubs will find it no easy matter to beat them. About Feb. 4 a game may be arranged with the Superior club at Endion rink.

W. F. Hatley, who arrives here next week to take charge of the billiard hall to be opened in the addition to the St. Louis hotel, has been playing great billiards in Chicago. Tuesday evening he won the second game from Maggioni, thus making himself the champion professional billiard player. Of the game Hyder Ali, in the sporting column of the Chicago Times, says:

In the second half of their match game Hyder Ali, the champion of the billiard championship of the state, played at the Superior billiard hall on the North side last evening. Hatley again defeated Maggioni, the champion of the city, by a score of 200 to 100, and I pledge you my word would not take $15,000 to call the fight off. I am willing and anxious to fight him before anyone else in this or any other country. The match is made, the money is up, and the fight must and will come off. I think in Jacksonville next September.

Murray has challenged Curtis for another fight, this time for $250 a side and the gate receipts, winner to take all. It will be a 20-round contest, and if Curtis accepts it will probably come off about Feb. 19. The stipulated weight is 150 pounds.

Charles Wren, of Duluth, and Jack Spry of West Duluth, are matched for a 15-round contest at the Parlor theater next Monday, winner to take entire gate receipts.

The rinks have all been doing a good business lately, through the lack of snow has taken many skaters to the open ice. The Endion rink has had its usual program during the week. The Washington rink had a masquerade Thursday night in which a large number of themselves in fancy costume. The Lime Kiln rink was opened to an immense crowd Thursday night.

JUDGE RICKS IN WASHINGTON.

He Denies the Charge of Illegally Retaining Fees.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 21.—Judge A. J. Rick, of Cleveland, accompanied by his counsel, has arrived in Washington to appear before the committee of the house of representatives to answer the charges preferred against him by the Central Labor union of Cleveland. In answer to questions by a representative of the Associated Press Judge Rick today said:

"The substance of the charge made is that I have retained fees claimed by me by virtue of my former clerkship. I should have paid over to the United States. There is absolutely no truth in this charge. The whole accusation embraces three items aggregating some $766, and in my reports as clerk for the year 1888 and the first half of 1889, I charged myself with this very amount as part of my compensation as clerk, the charge being made upon account of records in what are known as the Birdsell cases."

"The actual making of records in all clerk's offices is always many months behind the disposal of cases, and in this way it happened that the records in these cases in which I had so charged myself with $766 before actually receiving the same were not completed until after my appointment as judge. When the fees in the cases were paid to me, they amounted to $1792.15. For this amount I forwarded the proper department of the government a full statement and account, which account as so reported by me is as follows:

"O. J. Rick, the clerk of the United States circuit court, northern district of Ohio, the United States, debtor, to the amount received for making final record in eight Birdsell cases as per statement $1792.15."

"By amount reported in last half of 1888, sum of $281.62 by amount reported in first half of 1889, sum of $217.17, making the total sum reported $766.79. By amount paid Miss Lillis, per voucher, $300. By amount paid Short & Forman, per voucher, $187.50. Total credits, $1115.54. By draft for balance due the United States, $600.61."

"In this account, as above shown, I retained only that which had been charged to me and the actual expense of making the records, which expense was allowed me by law."

"Having thus fully accounted and responded to every duty of the government, in this respect, I cannot but regard the prosecution of the charge as not only unwarranted, but actuated by malicious motives by those who have taken offense at the rulings made by me as judge of the United States circuit court. I am here at the suggestion of the committee, and am glad of the opportunity to meet them face to face. I have nothing to conceal in this matter, and the facts entitle me to complete exoneration, which I am confident will be given me by any body of men investigating the subject and becoming familiar with the facts."

FELL FOURTEEN STORIES.

A Falling Scaffolding in Chicago Badly Injured Several People.

CHICAGO, Jan. 21.—Several people were badly injured today by the falling of a portion of the scaffolding on the new Fort Dearborn building at Clark and Monroe streets. The heavy timbers were blown from position and falling fourteen stories buried two men, one of whom, J. D. Burke, a ticket broker, was thought to be fatally injured.

The other men seriously injured were: A. J. Donaldson, clerk, shoulder crushed; Frank Woodward, teamster, arm crushed; William Lucius, printer, scalp wound; H. S. Fisher, restaurant employee, badly bruised. A half dozen other people were struck by flying timbers but not seriously hurt.

Others injured are: H. W. Irwin, clerk, dangerous internal injuries; George Bey, stenographer, head badly cut. It was at first thought that several people had been killed but it was found later that none but Burke and possibly Irwin were fatally hurt. The street was crowded at the time of the accident and many more fatalities would undoubtedly have occurred had not the great height from which the casing fell given many of the passersby time to escape.

The gale which crushed the scaffolding on the Fort Dearborn building caused damage in many other places in the city. Signs were torn from their fastenings and buried through store windows, chimneys were blown down and sidewalk displays of goods badly shattered.

The west wall of the building at 302 West Madison street was blown in, and two workmen narrowly escaped death. The interior of the building had been destroyed by fire leaving the walls standing. The men were at work in the back of the building when the wall fell, and although buried by flying bricks and timbers escaped serious injury.

The front portion of the building was buried under the debris and completely wrecked.

Bail For Debs.—The supreme court of the United States today ordered that Eugene V. Debs and his associates in jail in Illinois be admitted to bail in the sum of $2000 each. The hearing to show cause is to be had on March 25.

BROOKLYN RIOTS

Serious Work in Connection With the Street Railway Strike is Expected in Brooklyn Today.

During the Night Trolley Wires Were Cut and Mobs Blocked the Lines This Morning.

There Are Now Eight Thousand Troops Under Arms to Guard the Surface Roads Properly.

The Hope of a Peaceful Settlement of the Trouble Has Not Yet Been Abandoned.

BROOKLYN, Jan. 21.—There is every indication of serious work today in connection with the street railway strike. The mobilization of the New York city regiments and which comprises 4500 men, makes the total number of troops now under arms in Brooklyn 8000. These men, with the assistance of the police, are expected to guard the property of the surface railways which form a meshwork of rails and wires throughout a city of over 1,000,000 inhabitants.

The car sheds and power houses of the various lines are naturally regarded as the points to be particularly guarded, but mischief may be done anywhere on the many miles of track. The refusal of the companies to promise reinstatement of strikers, when the latter had indicated a willingness to call the fight off upon that one condition has had the effect of making many of them hitherto peaceably disposed, desperate and ready to participate in acts of violence directed against the property of the corporations.

It is possible that the only line not hitherto involved in the strike, known as the Coney island line running on Spring and Jay streets, will now be brought into the trouble and added to a tie-up. The men on the DeKalb line, who on Friday resumed work under a compromise with the company, may be called out also. Acts of violence in the supposed interest of the strikers have been almost continuous in one part or another of the city for the last forty-eight hours.

During last night trolley wires were cut in all directions, those who performed the work escaped in great numbers. Early in the day a mob blocked the Seventh avenue line from Twelfth to Twentieth streets, moving off from one place as the militia moved on to another, and aggregating a short distance away a few moments later, thus avoiding a collision with the representatives of the law while actually stopping traffic for more than an hour.

About 8 o'clock a mob numbering a thousand or more stoned a Sullivan avenue car near Broadway and Flushing avenue. An ambulance called indicates that someone has been injured, but at the present writing particulars are lacking. Officials of the Broadway, Queens county and suburban roads say they will run cars on their lines today. Forty-eight patrolmen are off duty, and eight patrolmen are on duty, most of it caused by over exertion.

Crowds numbering 20,000 hang about the stations where the militia are posted and annoy the soldiers by jeering and pelting them. All night the pickets were subjected to these attacks. Missiles were hurled at them from the darkness and they could not retaliate.

The Brooklyn Heights Railroad company tried to run cars on the Fulton street line but had to be driven back to the depot. The motormen were awed by threats into leaving their cars on the street and giving up all attempts to continue their run. All the cars on the line were stoned, the windows broken and their motor boxes rendered useless.

The company ran some cars on the Coney island line, but the pickets were not molested much. The reason for the limited accommodation was said to be owing to the fact that the company could not secure sufficient men to run the cars.

The hope of a peaceful settlement of the trouble has not been abandoned. Mayor Schieren said to a reporter of the Associated Press that he had not yet lost heart and would again attempt to effect a compromise. There will be a meeting this afternoon when the board of arbitration and a committee of the strikers will discuss the situation. The men now hold out on only one point; that if the strike be declared off, all the men now on strike shall be taken back and the new men employed during the strike sent back to their homes. The mayor believes that the companies which now seem obstinate will recede from their position and allow the men to return.

At 10 o'clock fifteen cars on the Atlantic avenue system had been put in operation. Thirty motormen, reported at the depot before 9 o'clock. Those not on cars are held in reserve.

Foreman Hart, of the Fulton avenue line, said this morning that three of the men were in charge of green motormen. Both were filled with passengers on their way to New York. Nobody was hurt, but the platforms and windows of both cars were smashed.

A mob at the Halsey Street depot had a scrimmage with the militia early today. A man was noticed sneaking to the rear of the train. He was halted by the pickets and refused to give any explanation of his actions. When the soldiers turned him back into the crowd, they were met by a volley of stones. Many of the men received bad bruises, and before they could make a charge on the mob it had dispersed.

The men hanging around the depots are angry and threaten to burn all the barns simultaneously if the alleged wrongs of the strikers are not righted today. The pickets around the barns will be allowed to pass the lines.

No attacks had been made up to 10 o'clock to open any more lines except those operated the latter part of last week. One car on the Summer avenue line started out today and was stoned by a mob a short distance from the car house. It is intended to make an effort during the day to run the Gates avenue line. Upon every car leaving today there are two policemen as guards. The car houses and power houses are guarded by militia.

There are rumors in vogue of an impending sympathetic strike on the elevated railway lines.

President Lewis, of the Brooklyn Heights railroad company, said to a representative of the Associated Press that he had the following lines in operation: Flatbush, 40 cars; Court street, 20 cars; Fulton avenue line, open through-out its entire length from Fulton ferry to East New York, 40 cars; Putnam avenue line, 30 cars. President Lewis explained that the number of cars in operation on the Putnam avenue line was large, but it was necessary to have so many in order to break in the motormen. Mr. Lewis said that he was satisfied that the presence of soldiers in the city will help materially in moving cars.

President Norton, of the Atlantic avenue road, said that the Fifth avenue line of that company would be opened with a full complement of cars both to the Brooklyn bridge and to Fulton ferry. The Seventh avenue line will also be opened in its entirety and the Westchester line.

During the night three pistol shots were fired at the lush street stables of the Court street line. None of the bullets took effect, however. It could not be learned from whence the shots came.

Mayor Schieren is in conference with Councilman Connelley, of the First ward, N.Y.C., under command of Capt. Louis Wendell, was being escorted to the Grand Central station by a militia unit escorted by Maj. Duffy ordered his men to disperse the crowd. The crowd dispersed. Wendell's battery proceeded to East New York.

The executive board of district Assembly No. 75, of L.I., who called the strike and is now conducting it, has been called before the grand jury. They are to be examined as to the cause of an alleged riot on the Fulton avenue line on New Year's night. The jury requested the men to produce the time tables of the company which specify the time of running and the number of trips made by each car during the day.

The jury will also look into the treatment of the men by the companies, the causes of dismissal and other matters connected with the management of the trolley cars. The object of the investigation is to ascertain whether cars are to be operated at a rate of speed in excess of the legal limit. It is expected that this investigation will have an important bearing upon the strike.

Under cover of darkness last night the rioters laid a neat trap for the soldiers and they caught them in charge in order that they might fall into it. Some were who had been sent from the Brooklyn Heights company's plant had been stretched a foot above the ground. It was attached only at the rear end. One of the men then called upon the mob to "raise Cain and see some fun." They became so boisterous that before daylight that the rioters scattered and fled in all directions. Fully half of the soldiers tripped and fell when they encountered the obstructions and were retired, jeering sick leave, most of it caused by over exertion.

The strikers are tearing up the tracks of the Green and Gates avenue lines at Gates street and at the intersection of the Fulton street line. They intend to send out thirty cars this afternoon. The police instructions today are to keep all persons out of the streets and not to allow any one to stand talking. The saloons in the neighborhood of Flatbush avenue are filled with idlers.

The First battalion of the Thirtieth regiment, Maj. Cochran met with obstruction from a crowd assembled in front of the strikers' headquarters at Fifth avenue and Twenty-fourth street. Maj. Cochran ordered a charge, before which the greater part of the crowd, numbering about 600, fled in panic. A detachment of thirty-two men of the Seventh regiment at Halsey street, by three companies sent men out to the neighboring stores to purchase provisions and to guard the streets. The mob terrified the shopkeepers, who refused to sell to the soldiers and shut up their stores. The soldiers then charged and the mob fled in all directions.

A guard upon an elevated train, carrying a company of soldiers to the point to which it had been ordered, attempted to enforce the railway company's rule against smoking in the cars. He seized one offender by the shoulder to put him off the train when other militia men went to the aid of the soldier and beat the guard severely. Capt. Lyons, commanding the company, placed the guard under arrest but released him when the company reached its destination.

Several cars of the Summer avenue line were stalled at the corner of Green and Summer avenues. A mob of 600 men surrounded the cars and endeavored to induce the motorman to join their ranks. They became very boisterous. The police charged them, scattering the mob. Meanwhile a summons had been sent for Troop A, which was stationed at Tompkins avenue and Fulton street. A detachment of thirty-two men under Capt. Roe arrived but the trouble was over.

Master Workman Martin J. Connelly, the strike leader, is confined to his home by sickness. His wife and child are also ill with pneumonia. A secret conference of master workmen was held at Mr. Lewis' hall at night. President Lewis, of the Brooklyn Heights railroad, is reported to have said today that he is willing to compromise with the strikers. If President Norton, of the Atlantic Avenue company will join with him. Mr. Norton, it is declared, will stick out as long as the strike lasts. Mr. Lewis wants to bring his present state of mind the strike will continue.

At 12:15 two cars of the Brooklyn Heights Railroad company reached East New York with forty men. They were

OPPOSE CAUCUS.

Most of the Washburn Men Oppose Another Caucus but One May Be Held Tomorrow.

The Candidates Today Are Making the Same Old Claim and All Profess Great Confidence.

Petition From Duluth Lumbermen, Asking for Legislation in Their Behalf, Received by Commissioner Powers.

Want a Law Compelling Companies to Pay Wages Monthly and Give Notice of Reductions.

ST. PAUL, Jan. 21.—There will be no caucus until Tuesday night and probably not then. Most of the Washburn men oppose another caucus and one will probably not be held immediately. The members of the caucus committee are not now in the city and any statement from them on the subject is entirely out of the question. As the house does not meet until tomorrow morning many of the representatives will not be back tonight.

After the show of strength that will be made in tomorrow's balloting, something definite may be decided on. In the first ballot, to be cast at noon tomorrow, both the Populists and Democrats will probably cast a complimentary vote for some prominent member of their own party. The Populists will caucus on the matter tonight, their candidates being Donnelly, Owen, Benn, Lommen and one or two others. There are fourteen Populist votes and both Washburn and Nelson are on getting part of them later in the contest.

The twelve Democrats have taken no action yet, but will probably compliment someone of their own number on the first ballot. The claims of all candidates are as they have been for several days, each being confident of his own success. No new developments are reported today, everybody seeming to wait to hear from the first ballot in the legislature before taking any kind of new action.

Ed Folsom, ex-secretary of the senate, took the tally sheets from the caucus home with him and announces this morning that he had the members been under the necessity of choosing, on the last ballot Friday night, Washburn would have received 45 votes and Nelson 17; that the remainder were for some other man for something. He insists that forty-five and forty-seven are the total number of votes actually controlled by Washburn and Nelson respectively.

THE SENATE IN SESSION.
It Was Resolved to Vote on Senator at Noon Tomorrow.

ST. PAUL, Jan. 21.—The senate met promptly at 2 o'clock this afternoon, only a few absentees being noted. Rabbi Hess, of this city, officiated as chaplain. A low freight rate petition was presented by Senator Ringdahl. Senator Yale offered a resolution setting 11 o'clock tomorrow as a special order for the voting for United States senator. Senator Day moved to amend by making it noon, and that hour was set for the election.

Senator Henneman, of McLeod county, presented a resolution for an investigation of long and short haul freight rates and the reporting of a bill, which resolution was adopted. Among the bills introduced were the following: By Senator Ostrom, to organize a medical corps in the National guard, being the same as introduced in the house by Mr. Robillard.

By Senator Howard, amending the statutes relating to boiler inspection, exempting railroad engines and engineers from the provisions of the existing law. By Senator Wyman, to abolish the days of grace.

By Senator Allen, to amend the laws for repairing county bridges.

The governor notified the president of the senate that he had approved the senate bill appropriating $20,000 for the relief of forest fire sufferers. The senate then adjourned.

WANT MONTHLY WAGES.

A Bill on Behalf of Duluth Lumbermen to Be Introduced.

ST. PAUL, Jan. 21.—Labor Commissioner Powers has received a petition from Duluth, signed by some 1500 lumbermen, asking for legislation in behalf of the lumbermen who are most grievously oppressed by ironclad contracts, under which they do not receive pay until next April. The hardships and abuses of the present system are set forth in the petition.

The lumbermen want a law passed which will compel companies to state the wages they propose to pay, to give notice whenever a reduction of wages is made and to pay wages monthly. They further ask that provision be made for a penalty where the law is violated.

The state labor commissioner expects to prepare such a measure and have it introduced in the legislature.

Attacked by Highwaymen.
ST. PAUL, Jan. 21.—Shortly after midnight seven young men were returning from a card party, and when on the corner of Kent and Edmund streets were attacked by three highwaymen. A sharp fight occurred, in which three of the young men were cut with pocket knives and otherwise injured, viz.: Frank Kneisel, John Buck and John Hoisser. The robbers escaped without securing any booty.

Land Frauds Charged.
EAU CLAIRE, Wis., Jan. 21.—Fifteen complaints have been filed in the local United States land office for depredations on government lands and against parties charged with irregular homestead entries. This is the result of investigations the past few weeks by A. R. Johnston, special agent of the interior department.

Thunder and Lightning.
CHIPPewa FALLS, Wis., Jan. 21.—Between 3 and 4 o'clock this morning a heavy rain fell. It was accompanied by vivid flashes of lightning and heavy peals of thunder. The sidewalks and streets are covered with ice, making traffic somewhat dangerous.

THE DOINGS OF CONGRESS.
The Chicago Public Building Bill Passed by the House.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 21.—In the house today, Mr. Catchings from the committee on rules, presented a special order for the consideration of the bills for public buildings, including the one for Chicago. The Chicago bill was passed by a vote of 197 to 71.

At 2 o'clock the Nicaragua canal bill came up in the senate cutting off further discussion of Hawaii, but the Nicaragua bill was also set aside for the consideration of the urgent deficiency bill and Senator Hill discussed the elimination of his amendment relative to the income tax question.

THREE MILLION DOLLARS.
Haugen Introduces a Bill to Carry Out Plan of Deepening Duluth and Superior Harbors.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 21.—[Special To The Herald.]—Representative Haugen today introduced a bill providing an appropriation of $3,000,000 to carry out the project recommended by the committee for deepening the harbors of Duluth and Superior to a uniform depth of twenty feet.

While this bill may not pass at this session, it will greatly aid its passage in the Fifty-fourth congress to have it brought before the public at the present time.

ONLY FIVE ARE MISSING.
Loss of Life Small by the Sinking of the State of Missouri.

LOUISVILLE, Jan. 21.—The loss of life occasioned by the sinking of the State of Missouri near Harding's Landing Saturday evening will be smaller than was supposed. Some of those reported drowned have since turned up, and at the present time the missing as known to the survivors in the city are:

Charles Meredith, Cincinnati, white, freight handler; Jacob Barbour, colored, dock hand, Cincinnati; Bill Darbour, colored, dock hand, Cincinnati; Washington Smith, colored, dock hand, Cincinnati; M. Sims, colored, dock hand, Memphis.

The fifteen passengers on board were saved as were all of the officers. It is likely, it is thought, that the list of missing may be further shortened by later developments.

A Separate Receivership.
ST. LOUIS, Jan. 21.—United States Circuit Judge Walter H. Sanborn today handed down his decision upon the application of F. Gordon Dexter and Ver Ames, second trustees for the first mortgage bondholders of the Union Pacific Railroad company for a separate receivership for that portion of the Union Pacific system covered by the first mortgage. The decision in effect grants the application. The receivers appointed are the same as those in charge of the entire system.

HAYWARD TRIAL

Trial of Harry Hayward for the Murder of Catherine Ging Begun at Minneapolis Today.

Significant That the Attorney of Blix Sat Upon the Prosecution's Side of the Table.

Sensation Created By the Discovery That the Defense Had a List of the Veniemen.

Believed That the Work of Securing a Jury Will Consume at Least One Week.

MINNEAPOLIS, Jan. 21.—The trial of Harry Hayward for the murder of Catherine Ging was for many begun in the district court of Hennepin county this morning. Fifteen minutes after the court room doors were opened, the seats were full and the doors were closed to the public. Six rows in front were reserved for women and were entirely occupied. Harry Hayward was brought in and went to his seat as blithely as if he were entering a theater. He chewed gum vigorously and played with his spaniel while waiting for proceedings to begin.

Judge Seagrave Smith, the presiding judge, soon entered and ascended the bench, the sheriff declared the court in session and the trial begun. W. W. Erwin, the criminal lawyer already well known from his connection with the Homestead and Debs cases, was on the defendant's side of the attorney's table, flanked by John Day Smith, a local attorney who is to assist him.

County Attorney Frank M. Nye, a brother of Bill Nye, the humorist, and his assistant, Albert H. Hall, were on the other side. It was deemed significant that the attorney of Claus Blix sat upon the prosecution's side of the table. Soon after proceedings began, Miss Julia Gingwin, sister of the murdered woman, entered and took a seat six feet away from the prisoner.

The county attorney first moved that the case of Blix be reset for Feb. 5 and this was agreed to by Blix's attorney, and the first venieman was called for examination. He was a Dane named Nels Miller and evinced considerable ignorance of the story of the murder. The defense accepted him, but the prosecution was suspicious and examined him at great length. It is believed that the work of securing a jury will consume at least a week. A special venire has been prepared in addition to the regular panel.

During the morning five veniemen were examined; four were challenged by the defense and one by the state. Just before the court adjourned at noon there was a sensational episode. It had become evident that the defense had obtained possession of the jury list and had looked up every name on it. Judge Smith inquired very severely whether this was not the case. John Day Smith admitted that the antecedents and character of each had been looked up, but claimed that the defense was privileged to take that course.

The court admitted that investigation as to character and antecedents was admissible, but declared very emphatically that if it appeared that the defense or its agents had talked with the veniemen about the case in an endeavor to ascertain their opinions, the court would hold the defense's attorneys in contempt. Mr. Erwin had just challenged a venieman, declaring that he had talked over the case with a witness whom he could produce as lately as last Saturday. Judge Smith declared that that witness must be produced, and court was adjourned amid considerable subdued excitement.

WINCHELL'S UNFAIR REPORT.
As a Result Duluth Will Not Get an Assay Office.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 21.—[Special To The Herald.]—The report of Professor Winchell, the Minnesota state geologist, on question of the establishment of assay office at Duluth has been received by the director of the mint. This report is of such a discouraging nature that the senator in charge cannot possibly make a favorable report to congress on Representative Baldwin's bill to establish this office.

Professor Winchell states that the gold resources of the Rainy Lake region would not warrant him in recommending an assay office at Duluth. Representative Baldwin, in view of this report, will not attempt to pass the bill. An original pension was today granted to a Constable Livery, of Holdingford, Minn.

Scott Was Hanged.
OMAHA, Jan. 21.—A Bee special from O'Neill, Neb., says: The body of Bernard Scott, Holt county's defaulting treasurer, who was taken from here by a party of disguised men on the night of Dec. 31, was found in the Niobrara river yesterday with a rope around the neck. The man had been hanged undoubtedly by his captors and the body then thrown into the river.

The Sugar Trust Case.
WASHINGTON, Jan. 21.—The supreme court of the United States rendered an opinion in the sugar trust case of the United States vs. E. K. Knight and others involving the validity and the constitutionality of the Sherman trust law. The decision holds the law to be inapplicable to the case in hand and confirms the opinion of the circuit court.

Cyclone in Tennessee.
MEMPHIS, Jan. 21.—At 6 o'clock this morning, a cyclone struck Covington, Tenn., blowing off the tower of the court house and wrecking several stores and residences. Total damage about $50,000. Nobody hurt.

WEST DULUTH ITEMS

Daniel Falconer, the Jeweler, Was Sentenced to Sixty Days in Jail for Deserting His Wife.

The Woman With Whom He Has Been Living Was Fined Ten Dollars and Costs.

F. W. Terry Fined Today By Judge Himebaugh for Giving His Own Father a Throwing.

Daniel Falconer, the jeweler, was sentenced to a term of sixty days on complaint of his wife, and the woman with whom he has been living was sentenced to pay $10 and costs. It is understood that Falconer has given the girl possession of the store and will go to jail and serve his sentence. The girl put up four watches from the stock of jewelry and secured her release on Saturday. This morning she had not yet appeared to redeem the jewelry. While Falconer goes to jail the two women will probably have a struggle for the possession of the combination store and home. Mrs. Falconer seems determined to assert her property rights in the matter, and a legal contest will probably be in order.

Threw His Father. F. W. Terry appeared before Judge Himebaugh this morning on the charge of assaulting his own father. The pair are living at present on Fifty-seventh avenue west near Raleigh street, and yesterday got into a fracas over some personal goods which the son attempted to remove from the house. The latter claims that his father came at him with an ax, and after he had disarmed his aged sire he turned in and kicked the old gentleman to make him submit. The judge did not see any excuse for the young man taking the law into his own hands and punishing his father, so a fine of $10 and costs or a term of ten days in the county jail was imposed.

West Duluth Drills. The St. Paul & Duluth Railway company will commence this week to make extensive repairs upon the Grassy Point bridge. The piling will be renewed for about 100 feet on each side of the bridge. The firm of Gutwald & Hanni have dissolved partnership, Mr. Hanni having retired from the firm.

Miss Scott, of Fifty-fifth avenue west, has returned from Hibbing. Miss Little entertained a party of friends at her home on Saturday evening. G. H. Grey has returned from St. Paul. Order A. Bagley's call, Ray's grocery

AMUSEMENTS.

"Our Flat." A great many capable critics declare that a farce comedy is a crying evil and incidentally they lament the decadence of the drama. The great public, however, cannot be made to see it in that light, and they still persist in showering their favors upon this class of entertainment. It may be the crying evil, but right and the public is wrong in this matter, but for all that there is no real good reason why the light, frothy farce comedy cannot be as aristocratic as "hold the mirror up to nature" just as well as the heavier and so-called legitimate drama.

The management of "Our Flat," which comes to the Lyceum tonight, believe they have secured in this play one that possesses all the elements of the farce and yet does not transcend the limits of possibility and artistic representation. This view would seem to be sustained by the fact that it was originally produced at the Lyceum theater in New York, which theater is famous for the worth and excellence of their production. The company, which will interpret "Our Flat" is known as the leading exponents of polished light comedy on the American stage. It is headed by Emily Blum, whose name alone will guarantee a great deal. In the cast also are George W. Parsons, P. H. Kiley, Neil Scully and other well-known players. Some new and novel specialties will be introduced. The costumes will be elegant in richness.

There Was No Elopement. D. E. Corwin returned from Centerville, Minn., this morning with his daughter Arabella, whose alleged elopement has been mentioned in the papers several times lately. He found her a mile from Centerville at the home of the mother of the woman for whom the girl had been working, and he thinks the girl was induced to run away through discontent because of her parents' inability to supply her with fancy dresses. He also thinks the woman for whom she had been working was instrumental in bringing her departure about. There was no elopement.

Connor's Point Bridge. Part of lots 8, 9, 10, 11 and 12, Connor's Point, near flour mills, steel barge works, warehouses and docks, with 1500 feet of frontage on Howard's pocket. All plat ready for record.

BIG BREAK IN WHEAT.

Large Lots Dumped on the Market and Prices Depressed. The wheat market here was very active today and probably 2,000,000 bushels changed hands during the session. There was a heavy decline in the price, especially during the last half hour, when May sold down to 11.20, the lowest amount of the session. The market may open a few points below Saturday, and then rally very slowly and weakly to 11.20. There was a further decline of 1/2c, and the market ruled steady to 11.24, when a lively period of trading was witnessed. The close was 11.24, and a rapid decline set in. The close was 11.24, and a rapid decline set in. The close was 11.24, and a rapid decline set in.

LEADEN VOLLEY

The Stern Answer That the Seventh Regiment Will Make to the Brooklyn Rioters Hereafter.

Col. Appleton Ordered His Men to Fire When Assaulted With Missiles of Any Kind.

During the Night the Mobs Bused Themselves With Cutting Wires Under Cover of Darkness.

Linemen on All Roads Struck Which is the Most Serious Blow to the Companies.

BROOKLYN, Jan. 22.—There was an unusual calm about Brooklyn this morning after the excitement of last night. The posts where the military guards are stationed were devoid of crowds, and save for a few petty assaults the early morning was without incident. At Alabama avenue station of the Fulton avenue line, the soldiers were treated to a volley of bricks and stones, but the men who threw them kept out of sight.

Each stable is crowded to its utmost with tired soldiers. Privates and officers who are accustomed to every luxury slept in cars and on straw placed on the floor of the stables. Outside in the fog where they could see only three paces before them were the pickets who halted every passerby to know his business. They were in no humor for nonsense, and it was with an ill-grace that they stand the fusillade of missiles which are hurled from an impenetrable darkness.

While they did not make any open manifestation, the mobs bused themselves in cutting wires. They could do this work without fear of discovery and at the intersection of Gates and Minnette avenue they cut the wires for about two blocks. At Gates avenue between Knickerbocker and Central avenues they also cut the wires and carried them away.

At Flatbush it was discovered that a man had made his way into the stable and attempted to bribe the new men there to desert their posts under promise of being well paid for staying away from their work. It was discovered that some other miscreant had tampered with the motor boxes of some of the cars. The man was discovered in the stable and fought like a demon with the military officers who found him there. One of them received a black eye and the man made his escape. Every precaution is being taken to prevent a stranger from coming into the power houses, as there have been threats that the stables and power houses will be blown up and every man in them killed.

It is said that during the day delegates from New York city, Newark and Jersey City will come to Brooklyn to confer with the strike leaders to consider the advisability of ordering a strike among the motormen and conductors of the trolley lines in those cities. The executive committee will advise the delegates not to do so unless they have independent grievances, as they fear that a sympathetic strike will deprive them of the public confidence which they now claim to have. The executive committee also deprecates any attempt of other workers to strike out of sympathy.

Another conference between Brig. Gen. McLeer, Mayor Schieren, the executive committee of strikers and the presidents of the railroad companies will be held today in order that the conflict may be made to settle the dispute without further trouble. After midnight a non-union motorman named O'Neil who came from Newark was seized by a gang of strikers' friends and with a pistol at his head, he was ordered to relinquish his intention of working in place of a striker. He refused to do so and was knocked down with the butt end of the pistol and kicked into unconsciousness. He was then bound hand and foot with wire and carried into the middle of some empty lots and kept there until daylight. His fetters were then removed and he was escorted to the Broadway ferry by the strikers. His fare was paid to New York and he was told not to return under penalty of worse treatment next time. The saloons in the neighborhood of the car stables are crowded with strikers and their sympathizers and they are threatening in their attitude.

It is learned that two boys were badly injured by being trampled upon by the strikers in the conflict between the soldiers of the Seventh regiment and the rioters last night at Ridgewood. The strikers seem to have the best of the situation, despite the strong military and police guards.

The companies are still unable to secure new men to run all their cars and it is not expected that any more cars will be running today than there were yesterday. The companies are still further hampered by the refusal of their linemen to repair cut wires. This is practically a strike of the linemen. A car started out from Halsey street depot of the Putnam avenue line at 5:12 this morning. By 6 o'clock the company had a dozen cars running.

The company's linemen before daylight found that the strikers had been getting revenge during the night by cutting the wires in many places. On Myrtle avenue near Broadway two sections of wire had been cut out and on the Gates avenue line fourteen sections were cut out. It will require several hours to repair these.

A non-union motorman was attacked at yesterday afternoon by 19 to 20 o'clock this morning and severely beaten. A policeman who stood near by refused to interfere.

In pursuance of the agreement arrived at yesterday afternoon by 19 to 20 o'clock this morning and severely beaten. A policeman who stood near by refused to interfere.

bocker avenues. On reaching the spot where the wires were down the men refused point blank to have anything to do with repairing them and left the wagon. The wagon was then taken back to the depot by a motorman and conductor.

A squad of policemen and some disturbers were in conflict this morning. When the men were ordered to clear away from the corner of Hamilton avenue and Court street, they refused to do so. One of the men hurled an egg at a policeman. The bluecoats thereupon charged the mob and clubbed everyone in sight. Twenty of the crews left the neighborhood with badly bruised heads. Superintendent Campbell has received word that the linemen on all railroads have struck. They held a meeting this morning at the corner of Throop and Gates avenue and decided upon this action. The wagons were sent back to the company's office.

Superintendent George Goodwin, of the Brooklyn Heights road, says the trolley lines are cut on Gates and Minnette avenues. He can get no word from the men who will repair the lines and start cars on Gates and Myrtle avenues. This, however, will take two or three hours.

Buildings and stores have been placed on the tracks of these routes and stones have also been placed in the switches. It will not take long, however, to remove them in case the companies wish to start cars. Last night an attempt was made to shoot Private Louis P. Duff, of company L, Fourteenth regiment, who was on picket duty at the corner of the Flatbush avenue car stables. A pistol ball passed within a few feet of his head. The guard was turned out but could find no one who might have fired the shot.

The superintendent of the Gates avenue line said today that the refusal of the linemen to work will preclude all possibility of running cars today. The fixing of electric wires is a business which requires much care and an expert knowledge. This strike is the greatest blow the companies have yet received, as in case of wires being cut car traffic will come to a complete standstill. Linemen cannot be secured as easily as motormen and conductors. Cars are running on the Fulton street, Fifth avenue, Bergen street, Sumner avenue, Putnam avenue and Flatbush lines today. None of them have been molested.

Two companies of militia have been sent from a depot at the Atlantic avenue line at Fifth avenue and Twenty-fourth street to the depot at Ninth avenue and Twentieth street, where it was supposed to start the Fifteenth street line.

Edward Hayes and W. D. Bray, tin roofers, at work on a building on Seventh street between Flatbush and Broadway, threw bricks at a passing trolley car. They were arrested. Inexperienced motormen caused two minor accidents during the forenoon. In both instances cars came in collision, suffering considerable damage, but no passengers were hurt.

At 11 o'clock cars were reported to be running on the following lines of the Atlantic avenue system: Bergen street, Butler street, Ninth avenue, Seventh avenue and Atlantic avenue. The Brooklyn, Queens County & Suburban company was running cars on Broadway, Sumner avenue and Ralph avenue lines. The latter put in operation this morning. The Brooklyn City company has cars moving on the Fulton street, Court street, Halsey street and Flatbush lines. On all these lines the number of cars in operation is the same as yesterday.

The wires extending from Central to Knickerbocker avenues on Gates avenue having been cut, a squad of linemen were sent to repair them. When they attempted to do so they were attacked by a mob. The militia drove the mob away, but the linemen refused to return to work.

Col. Appleton, of the Seventh regiment, has issued an order to the men of his command that there shall be no more temporizing with rioters, and that when they are assaulted with missiles of any kind they must answer with a volley of lead.

No other baking powder acts so quickly, does its work so well, or at so little cost as Dr. Price's.

ARE GOING TO MEXICO.

Report that One Hundred Thousand Negroes Will Leave the South.

SAN ANTONIO, Tex., Jan. 22.—One hundred thousand negroes will be removed from the states of Alabama, Georgia and Louisiana to Northern Mexico within the next six months. That is the statement of W. H. Ellis, the manager of the Mexican Colonization company, who has just returned from Atlanta, Ga.

Mr. Ellis states that the missionary work among the negroes is meeting with the greatest success, and the first 100 families will pass through here this week en route for the promised land. The Mexican citizens living in the section to be colonized by the negroes have protested to the Mexican government against the scheme.

A Severe Experience.

MILWAUKEE, Wis., Jan. 22.—A special to the Wisconsin from Sturgeon Bay, Wis., says the car ferry Ann Arbor No. 1, reached Menominee, Mich., at 9 o'clock last night after buffeting the ice of Green bay for nearly sixty hours, the last ten miles of her trip being made in the teeth of a 50-mile blizzard. The steamer is all right and will return at once to Frankfort, Mich., with a full load of cars.

Gen. Bethune Very Ill.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 22.—Gen. James N. Bethune, former owner of Blind Tom and ex-solicitor general of Georgia, is seriously ill at the residence of his son here. His physician is in constant attendance on him. He passed a comfortable night but though he is doing fairly well, his great age, 91 years, makes his family fear the worst.

NELSON LEADS.

The Senate and House Voted Separately at Noon Today on the United States Senatorship.

Nelson Received Sixty Votes, Two More Than in Caucus, While Washburn Got Fifty-four.

Comstock Had Fourteen, McCleary Eight and Judge Dickinson of Duluth Was Given One Vote.

Senator Spencer Voted For Washburn and Messrs. Cant, McInnis and Smith Voted For Nelson.

ST. PAUL, Jan. 22.—It was not expected that today's ballot for United States senator would be decisive, although gains were claimed by the leading candidates. The result of the ballot shows a loss of one from Washburn and a gain of two for Nelson as compared with the last ballot in last week's caucus. However, the Democrats and Populists today voted for members of their own party while they are expected to divide some, at least, of their strength between the Republican candidates later in the contest.

No action has yet been taken looking to another caucus and none is expected to be held at this time. The Nelson forces are very confident and state that they will not only stay in the fight, but that they fully expect to win. The Washburn people are not so confident of success but will not admit their defeat and say they are in the fight to the end. Ex-Congressman Comstock held his caucus strongly and seems to be regarded favorably by many in both the Nelson and Washburn camps, but Congressman McCleary lost two of his caucus strength and seems less confident hereafter. The present indications are for a deadlock, more or less prolonged.

The Vote Today.

ST. PAUL, Jan. 22.—The first ballot in the legislature on the United States senatorship was cast at noon today by the two houses in separate session, there being no choice, and balloting in joint session will begin tomorrow at noon.

In the vote resulted: W. D. Washburn (Rep.), 32; Knute Nelson (Rep.), 45; S. G. Comstock (Rep.), 14; McInnis (Dem.), 8; Ignatius Donnelly (Pop.), 7; T. M. Nelson (Rep.), 7; J. A. Tawney (Rep.), 1; Judge Buckham (Rep.), 1.

In the senate the vote was: Washburn, 22; Knute Nelson, 17; Donnelly, 5; Comstock, 3; McInnis, 2; McCleary, 1; C. A. Pillsbury (Rep.), 1; William Mitchell (Dem.), 1; D. A. Dickinson (Rep.), 1.

The Duluth members voted as they had in the caucus last week, Senator Spencer for Washburn and Messrs. Cant, McInnis and Smith for Nelson.

Dr. Price's baking powder is declared by all government chemical experts absolutely pure.

DOINGS IN THE HOUSE.

The Four Candidates for Reading Clerk to Be Tested.

ST. PAUL, Jan. 22.—Considerable time was taken up in the house this morning on routine matters. The four candidates for reading clerk—A. P. Wheaton, Paul E. Ewatts, E. A. Taylor and Robert Deakin—are to be given a trial, one day each, and the house will vote for them on Saturday. This was the report of the committee on legislative expenses and it was adopted. The same committee favored buying a small safe for the clerk's supplies and the house, by a vote, adopted the report. The same committee reported adversely a number of resolutions for new employees. Among the bills introduced were the following:

Mr. Grundahl, to legalize municipal bonds issued under the laws of 1893, being intended to legalize an issue of bonds by the city of Red Wing, there being a technical matter to be overcome in the case of Red Wing only. The bill was at once put on its final passage and went through by a vote of 97 to 0.

Mr. Littleton, to revise the statutes. Judiciary committee.

Mr. Robbins, of Hennepin, to prohibit unlawful acts by state officials, forbidding any state official leaving his office to lobby for any candidate for any office, and providing a fine of from $100 to $500 for each violation of this act. Judiciary.

Mr. Johns, providing for the appointment by the governor of a commission of five members to investigate the matter of smelting iron ore by the use of crude oil as fuel and report as to practicability and feasibility and cost of such smelting to the governor, appropriating $2000 for the expenses of such investigation, and further appropriating $100,000 for the establishment of such a plant at such place as may be designated by the governor and commission. This last appropriation is not available unless the commission report favorably after their investigation, but in case of a favorable report it is to be used immediately for encouraging and assisting in the establishing of such a plant. It went to the committee on mines and minerals, of which Mr. McInnis is chairman.

Mr. Johns, amending the law of 1889 relating to the leasing and taxing of mineral lands. It exempts from the state tax or royalty all iron ore that may be smelted within the limits of this state. Referred to mines and minerals committee.

Mr. Johns, relative to criminal offenses committed by corporations.

Mr. Kobillard, to prevent promises of political offices in return for support for public office.

J. M. Smith, extending the term of corporations beyond the usual time when they have not made publication of their purpose, although they have otherwise complied with the law.

Mr. Fier, to regulate the sale of patent medicines, requiring the formula of the medicine on each bottle.

At 11:45 a short recess was taken and at 12 o'clock, the special order being the vote for United States senator, the roll was called on that question. After the announcement of the result the house adjourned until tomorrow.

In the appointment of sub-committees of the judiciary committee of the house, Mr. Cant, of Duluth, is made chairman of the sub-committee on taxation and is a member of the committees on constitutional law and real estate.

THE SENATE'S PROCEEDINGS.

A Petition Presented for the Abolition of Saloons.

ST. PAUL, Jan. 22.—The chaplain in the senate this morning in his opening prayer, made special reference to the election of a senator.

The clerk of the house reported that the house has passed senate file No. 29, repealing section 9, chapter 22, of the special laws of 1881; also the joint resolution to appoint a committee to inquire into the loss by forest fires; also house file 68, to legalize the issue of bonds by cities.

Senator Reishus offered a petition asking for abolition of saloons. It was referred to the temperance committee. The following bills were introduced:

By Barr—To create the office of state fire marshal.

By Howard—To amend chapter 166 of the general laws of 1893.

By Roversud—To amend the game and fish laws.

By Schaller—To amend chapter 13 of the general laws of 1871, relating to roads.

By Hodge—To authorize the division of organized funds by the boards of county commissioners.

By Sperry—To appropriate $5000 for the state public school.

By Stebbins—To license hawkers, peddlers and others.

Mr. Grundahl's house bill to legalize bonds issued by cities under the provisions of chapter 204 of the general laws came up for its first reading. Senator Wright, of Red Wing, asked that the rules of the senate be suspended, and the bill be put on its final passage. This was agreed to and the bill passed. The senate then took a recess.

In House—J. F. Stevens, of the senate judiciary committee, has made the assignment of sub-committees. The chairman of the sub-committee on commercial law is Spencer, and the senator is also on the committee on municipal corporations and real property.

Tried to Suicide.

HUDSON, Wis., Jan. 22.—Cornelius McLaughlin, a vagrant, who was sentenced to jail recently for two weeks, attempted to commit suicide yesterday by cutting his throat with a piece of glass. Prior to that he made an assault upon Deputy Sheriff Sangstad. An examining physician was summoned and pronounced the man insane. Sheriff Wheeler took him to Mendota tonight.

Pooling Bill Reported.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 22.—The railroad pooling bill has been reported favorably to the senate without amendment.

Dr. Price's baking powder has the best keeping properties, because it's absolutely pure.

THE REPUBLICANS MEET.

The Opening Proceedings of the Republican City Convention at the City Hall This Afternoon.

It was 2:15 o'clock this afternoon when Lee Willcutt, chairman of the Republican city central committee, took the Gen. Grant cigar out of his mouth and called for the city convention to toe the scratch. "Come to order, gentlemen!" he shouted.

Then the convention came to order and the little giant of the Third ward, in smooth, easy accents, read the call.

J. O. Milne nominated J. E. Meyers for chairman. S. D. Allen nominated H. M. Myers. He begged off and Mr. Allen withdrew the nomination. J. E. Meyers was chosen by acclamation.

J. A. Boggs nominated C. M. Simpson for temporary secretary. That gentleman would not have it that way, whereupon Fred W. Green nominated Dr. Routh. He was elected.

J. A. Boggs moved that a committee of seven be appointed on credentials. H. M. Myers amended to make it five, to which Mr. Boggs consented. Messrs. J. B. Stevens, Thomas Trevillion, George Ash, J. L. Preston and A. Loigren were named.

On motion of H. M. Myers, Simon Clark, Ernest Kugler, C. Trembley, Charles Viers and J. O. Hancock were picked out for a committee on permanent organization.

The same motion included a committee on order of business. H. M. Myers, S. D. Allen, Capt. Stevens, J. O. Milne and C. M. Simpson were named.

The committees retired and the convention took a recess until the reports came in.

GOSSIP OF CONGRESS

Tariff Leaders of the House Believe There is no Present Necessity for Increased Taxes.

Patent Issued on a Mineral Entry in the Helena District Cancelled by Interior Department.

Possibility That an Effort to Secure Financial Legislation in the Senate Will be Successful.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 22.—Representative McMillin, chairman of the ways and means sub-committee, to whom the beer tax question has been referred, intends seeing Secretary Carlisle today, to-morrow to learn whether the secretary considers an increase of the government's revenues necessary. Mr. McMillin says the action of the sub-committee will depend largely on the secretary's views. In the meantime it appears to be accepted among the leaders of the house that there is no present necessity for an increased beer tax or an increase on any other internal revenue tax or customs duty.

The patent issued to the Montana Mining and Reduction company on a mineral entry for lands in the Helena, Mont., land district, involving the Lida, Emma, Cleveland, Dandy, Bismark, Star, Saratoga and Handy Lode claims has been cancelled by the interior department. It is charged that the lands embraced were non-mineral land and that the entry was fraudulent.

There is a possibility of an effort to secure financial legislation in the senate through an amendment of one of the appropriation bills to be acted upon by the committee on appropriations. A canvass of the senate has been made during the past ten days or two weeks has convinced leaders on both sides of the chamber that the conflict between the silver and the bond men renders it next to impossible to secure the passage of any independent financial or currency measure. They have, therefore, quietly taken up this scheme of securing the needed legislation by adding the necessary provision to one of the bills providing for the regular annual appropriations.

It is understood that the Republican senators would not oppose an amendment which simply granted authority for an issue of bonds. They say if it becomes absolutely necessary to provide additional money for the government expenditures and for the maintenance of the gold reserve, the democrats can provide it by agreement to a bond amendment without weighing it down with other questions, and that a majority of the Republicans will accept it in this shape but will not permit it to go through, if coupled with either silver legislation or the repeal of the gold standard.

The amended bill for the settlement of land disputes by means of an arbitration committee has been reported favorably from the committee on labor, with a few minor changes in verbiage. "The national and state legislative bodies," says the report, "are not so constituted as to be able to give proper time to the examination of the industrial matters presented in this bill, nor are they made equally representative men, such as is proposed by this committee, can have any non-partisan character. This committee can hear, consider and recommend in a shorter time and with less expense for the best good of all than can be accomplished by a legislative body or in any other way."

"Congress is the proper body to authorize the appointment of such a committee, as it is composed of members coming from all parts of every state." Appended to the report were letters of approval received by the committee from Samuel Gompers, John W. Hayes, H. C. Denning and I. H. Sovereign.

A statement prepared at the revenue bureau shows the aggregate receipts from all sources during the six months ended Dec. 31, 1894, were $81,747,566, which is an increase over the receipts for the same period of last year of $8,910,971. The receipts for the last six months of 1894 and the increase or decrease in the several sources of revenue are given as follows: Spirits, receipts $18,836,336; increase $7,735,379; Tobacco, receipts $15,157,649; increase $1,036,664; Fermented liquors, $46,600,377; decrease $11,710,6; Oleomargarine, receipts $910,660; decrease $104,548; Miscellaneous, receipts $3,242,421; increase $669,639. Of these last receipts $251,798 were from tax on playing cards. The secret service officials have discovered a new photographic counterfeit $10 silver certificate of the series of 1891, check letter B, J. Fount Tillman, register, D. N. Morgan, treasurer; portrait of Hendricks; small scalloped carmine seal. The secretary of the interior has directed the issuance of a patent on thirty acres of land embraced in the townsite of Enid, O. T., and known as "MacGuire's addition to the town of Enid," to L. W. MacGuire. When the townsite becomes organized as a municipality and proper proof is furnished to the department, a patent will be issued to the town for the remaining ten acres to be maintained for public purposes.

The interior department has called for bids to be opened for furnishing sheet metal ceiling and new copper roof for the pension bureau building. The present appropriation is $28,000, but congress has been asked for an additional appropriation.

A dream of delicious flavors is the cake and pastry prepared with Dr. Price's baking powder.

THE SCENE IN THE SIERRAS.

Snow Up to the Grass Arms on the Telegraph Poles.

SACRAMENTO, Cal., Jan. 22.—The scene in the Sierras is one of surpassing magnificence. It seems as if the route of the Central Pacific were laid through the line of the greatest snowfall. Drifts forty feet deep and snow twenty-two feet deep on the level at the summit, the utmost energies of the railroaders are being put to test. The rotaries are tossing snow in continuous streams from the roadbed, but from Gold Run to Truckee snow is falling at the rate of one inch more per hour.

Luckily the wind is not blowing, and the situation is not complicated by the formidable land slides and snow slides that often make railroading and even existence in the high Sierras perilous. In some places hardy mountaineers in the smaller towns communicate by means of tunnels through the snow. Habitations are obliterated and the reign of the storm king, magnificent but desolate, is supreme.

Trains proceed cautiously through solid perpendicular banks of snow like marble walls towering above the coaches. The rotaries are working in ceaseless toil, cutting the way that a couple of thousand men have prepared. The snow is falling so fast that it is not certain if the snow will not have to be invoked to keep the way open.

The latest official reports received show that during the previous twenty-four hours the snowfall was as follows: Truckee 30 inches, on the ground 7 feet 3 inches; Summit 24 inches, on the ground 30 feet 5 inches; Cascade 30 inches, on the ground 15 feet; Clear Lake 20 inches, on the ground 16 feet 3 inches; Emigrant Gap 15 inches, on the ground 10 feet 6 inches; on the ground 8 feet 3 inches; Gold Run 6 inches, on the ground 8 feet 10 inches; Colfax 4 inches, on the ground 3 feet.

There is no flood in the valley. Of course the tules and low basins are filled, but the streams are well in their banks and are not overflowing. The snow is washing. If the storm continues it will severely test the levels. A warm rain on the mountains of snow now would bring a great deluge of water on the valleys than 1861-62.

Word was received early this morning that the snow on the summits had reached the cross arms of the telegraph poles, and that four more inches of snow would prostrate every wire over the mountains.

MET A HORRIBLE DEATH.

Frank Rivard Killed by Being Thrown Under a Sleigh.

Frank Rivard who has been in the employ of Powers & Sons since fall, was killed on Thursday at Snow Ball camp, says the Grand Rapids Herald. He was driving a towing team when the dinner horn sounded and the team started to run. It was on a down grade and Rivard was handling the lead team, but could not stop them, and in some way was thrown under the sleigh runners, breaking both legs and receiving fatal internal injuries. He lived but a short time.

He Killed His Two Children and Committed Suicide.

HENDERSON, Ky., Jan. 22.—Edward Rivers, living near Brownsville, Edmonson county, killed his two children, a boy of 6 and a girl of 8 years, and fired a bullet into his own brain. Rivers was addicted to the habitual use of morphine, and labored under the delusion that his family, if allowed to remain, would become hopelessly insane. At the time of the tragedy his wife was absent from home, for upon her return the bloody spectacle threw her into convulsions which imperiled her life.

GEN. AVERY IS INDIGNANT.
Says the Brooklyn Police are Incompetent or Cowardly.

NEW YORK, Jan. 22.—Among Mayor Schieren's callers yesterday was Gen. Robert Avery, who lost a leg at Lookout Mountain. The general, with suppressed indignation, said he desired to ask the mayor whether the people must go armed, or whether they were to have protection. There is no protection in this city, said he, as nothing against the demands of 4000 or 5000 strikers. He believed that the police were not competent. The general, who was a resident of New York, had been given full charge of the police here, the trouble would have been ended before he was asked to take charge.

"The police of Brooklyn," said he, "are either incompetent to handle this situation or they are cowardly, or are in sympathy with the strikers. ## FROM DAKOTA TO DULUTH.

Towns in North Dakota Uniting to Build a New Railroad.

DRAYTON, N. D., Jan. 22.—Messrs. J. A. Whitmore, E. E. Russell, Thomas McDonald, John Cochran and A. J. Hamilton, of this city, accompanied by W. Hines of St. Thomas, Saturday evening, where a joint meeting was held with the citizens of that place in the interests of the proposed new Duluth & North Dakota railroad.

Mr. Hines addressed the meeting and said that he had a force of nine men at work making ties for the road at Red Lake, and that he was ready to start at once for forty and wanted money to board them while at work. A committee was appointed to act in conjunction with Mr. Hines in the matter of securing funds to meet the expense of securing ties and otherwise in so far as his plans for building the road may seem feasible and practical.

This committee will also attend to the matter of securing the right-of-way, arranging for the grade and endeavor to assist in the construction of the road. Mr. Hines was authorized to increase his force of tie-makers to forty men at once. Several hundred ties had been secured already, by instrument in writing dated January 18th, 1895, and for record and recorded in the office of the register of deeds of St. Louis County on January 18th, 1895, on page 122 of mortgages on page 122.

WEST DULUTH ITEMS

William E. King Was Run Over by the Chemical Engine While Going to a Fire Yesterday.

He Was Terribly Hurt and It Was Supposed Fatally, But He Is Improving Today.

He Is a New Fireman Having Only Been On the Force About Three Months.

The saddest accident that ever befell the West Duluth fire department occurred yesterday afternoon when William E. King was run over by the chemical engine. He attempted to jump upon the engine but he lost his foot and fell beneath one of the hind wheels. The car passed over his right arm and left leg and body bruising him in a terrible manner.

It was supposed at first he could not recover but he is resting easier at the department hall today and there is now no doubt that his life will be spared. He is one of the youngest men on the force and has been a fireman only about three months. His widowed mother is prostrated with grief over the condition of her son.

FIGHT GETTING BITTER.

The Altamonte Bill Still a Bone of Contention at Washington.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 22.—[Special to The Herald.]—The fight over the Altamonte bill continues in Washington with great bitterness. An attempt is to be made by Representative Griffin, of Wisconsin, to induce the legislature of that state to memorialize congress on the subject.

The memorial will be against the passage of the bill. Representative Baldwin and other friends of this measure now fear that bill will be defeated.

It comes up for consideration. A renewed effort will be made, however, to get it before the house within a short time.

S. T. HARRISON'S DISCOVERY.

First Election on Water Bonds Would Have Been Held Legal.

S. T. Harrison is feeling somewhat jubilant over the decision of the supreme court overruling the opinion of the lower court that the law does not provide for the contesting of city elections.

That leaves the first case free for action, and the election will probably be contested. There is one other point which also pleases Mr. Harrison.

"You will remember," he said, "that the Norris injunction suit to restrain the city from issuing bonds under the election of 1891 for the purpose of erecting a water plant, was granted by the district court on the ground of irregularities in the election. There was some talk of appeal, but it was finally dropped. It now appears, from this decision, that it had been appealed then it would have been reversed and the election of 1891 would have been declared legal."

WHEAT WAS VERY ACTIVE.

Continued Liquidation Caused Another Decline in Values.

Wheat was quite active on the Duluth board today, and the free liquidation caused another decline in prices. May closed at 60 1/2, and within an hour sold down to 60. At 11 o'clock it was 59 1/2. Then there was a slight rally, after which the market fell back to the low point. July was largely neglected. There was a good business in cash stuff, mainly at the May price, although at one time 30-cents May was bid. The heavy trading included one lot of 25,000 bush of No. 1 northern, and twenty cars of No. 1 hard at 60 1/2 each. One lot of No. 1 northern is arriving daily, and the clearing is higher than yesterday for cash, 3c lower for May and 1c lower for July and wheat to arrive. Following were the closing prices:

HIS ORDER REVERSED

Judge Collins, of the Supreme Court, Decides That City Elections Are Open to Contest.

Judge Lewis Held That the Water Election Could Not Be Contested Under the 1893 Law.

Case Is Remanded With Directions to Proceed With the Contest Demanded By Henry Truelsen.

Henry Truelsen is to have the privilege of contesting the water bond election in spite of the decision of Judge Lewis to the contrary for Judge Collins of the supreme court handed down a decision yesterday afternoon reversing the rule of Judge Lewis.

Mr. Truelsen sometime ago presented a petition to the court demanding a recounting of the vote on the water bond question and presenting various grounds for contesting the result. Judge Lewis held that the election law did not provide for contesting a city election on a proposition such as was voted on and that there was no relief for Mr. Truelsen in that respect. Judge Collins finds that city elections may be contested under the law of 1893 and remands the case with directions that the contest be allowed to proceed.

The syllabus says: "Henry Truelsen, appellant, against the city of Duluth et al., respondent. The result of any general or special city election can be contested under the provisions of laws of 1893, chapter 4, and when the subject of the election is within the terms of section 129 the notice of contest may be served upon a member of the city council. Order reversed."

Upon every test at the World's Columbian fair Dr. Price's baking powder was accorded foremost rank. The government experts who made the examination found it to be unapproachable in its great leavening strength, the perfect purity of its constituent elements, and its uniform excellence.

MONSTER STEEL STEAMER.
New Vessel For the Duluth Ore and Coal Trade.

Another contract for a Leviathan steel steamer has been awarded to the Chicago Shipbuilding company of South Chicago, this time by a syndicate of Duluth and Chicago capitalists interested in iron mines. This second steamer is to be an exact duplicate of the one contracted for a week ago—350 feet keel, 45 feet over all, 25 feet beam, 18 feet molded depth and 5 feet water bottom, with a duplicate of the engine and boilers in the steamer Kearsarge. The power will be sufficient to drive the craft through the water at the rate of fourteen miles an hour. Her carrying capacity will be 4000 gross tons on 14 feet and 6000 tons on 18 feet. The contract calls for her completion by June 15, but she can hardly be got in readiness for business before July 1. The new steamer is intended solely for the Lake Superior iron ore and coal trade. There is a possibility that she may be put in service between Duluth and South Chicago.

As in the case of the steamer already under contract the cost complete is figured at $25,000. The construction of these two monster vessels will give employment to 700 men in the South Chicago yard alone. The engine and boilers will be built at the Shipbuilding company plant in Cleveland. With these two steamers and the two large steel towboats now well under way the Chicago Shipbuilding company will contribute 18,000 tons to the carrying capacity of the lakes by midsummer.

Seventeen Solid Gold Watches Found.
Last Friday and Saturday seventeen solid gold watches were found in cans of choice tea sold at No. 20 West Superior street, (Merchants Tea company), besides many other watches, genuine diamonds with solid gold settings. This expensive method of advertising will continue but a short time. Two weeks more being the limit, after which date this best tea in the world will be sold wholly on its merits, same price but without the souvenirs. This is a good day to get them, why not come at once. A fresh lot every day. Terms: Single cans $1, six for $5 and thirteen for $10.

J. B. Howard has purchased a lot in Sixth division to Duluth Heights, which will probably be improved at once.

Congress is a brake on the wheels of business, bringing business usually to a stop during the long session. The present session is retarding business perceptibly, but the 4th of March is too near for any great harm to be done—other than my "talk" can do. After congress adjourns we all hope to make money enough to pay up our taxes, penalties and all. I can sell some good properties in Duluth, cheap, that will surely make money for the buyer.

AMUSEMENTS.

"Our Flat."

Emily Bancker and her company appeared at the Lyceum before a fair house last night in "Our Flat." The play has for the basis of its plot the troubles of the occupants of a Harlem flat, a subject which is fruitful without the element of exaggeration and muscular comedy, which continues throughout the play, giving it the extreme flavor of farce comedy, which, if it has not already done so, must soon begin to pall on the taste of the average theater-goer.

Yet the comedy is always lively and with the exception of a rather tame first act, the action continues from the beginning to the end, and some of it is sufficiently ludicrous if it were not marred by overdoing. The company is fairly strong. Miss Bancker is already known here from her work in "Gloriana," and she is a very lively and vivacious actress. She has a voice which is sweet and fairly pleasing, though not of a very great volume, and she sang several songs in good form.

Neil Scully, as Nathaniel Glover, manager of the Star theater, was good, and the demands of his part were carried out in every particular. Miss Jarvis as Bella, the servant, was also good, and the remainder of the cast was fair.

Ideal Concert Company.

On Saturday evening the Ideal Concert company, of St. Paul, will give a concert at the Lyceum. Those in the company are Mrs. S. V. Harris, soprano; Mrs. C. B. Vale, contralto; Miss Gertrude Sans Souci, pianist; and Miss Edith Cline Ford, elocutionist. All of them are very highly regarded in St. Paul and have won success everywhere. The Pioneer Press has said of Mrs. Harris:

"Mrs. Harris was given her musical education in Florence, Italy. Her master, Signor Vannini, in speaking of her voice says: 'Mrs. Harris' voice possesses three necessary requirements, strength, compass and sympathy, and her disposition of difficult themes is sufficiently accurate to please the most capricious. Mrs. S. V. Harris sang Mascagni's 'Ave Maria' most artistically, taking the high notes with remarkable purity and distinctness of enunciation.'"

Miss Sans Souci has but recently returned from Europe where she received her musical education and brings many high testimonials.

Mrs. C. B. Vale has been heard in Duluth several times and possesses a magnificent contralto voice. Miss Edith Cline Ford has also been heard here and her ability as a reader is well known.

Famous everywhere and flawless always is the reputation of Dr. Price's baking powder. It rules supreme.

NO COUNCIL MEETING.

Caucuses Were Too Much For the City Fathers Last Evening.

Politics knocked out patriotism last night. Anywhere there were not enough patriotic city fathers on hand to hold a council meeting. President Howard, Getty and Mitchell were on hand and Alderman Lerch was at the bottom of the stairs talking to City Attorney Morris. Behind the railing was half a dozen men, well dressed and presumably, foxy gentlemen, supposed to be representatives of various Eastern bond brokers. They were there to put in bids for the first installment of the water works purchase bonds. They did not do it, though, for, in default of a quorum, on motion of Alderman Getty, the council adjourned until 7:30 p. m. Wednesday.

AGAIN VICTORIOUS.

Duluth Team Defeated Superior at Polo With Ease Last Evening.

The Duluth polo team defeated the Superior team at Endion rink last night by a score of 3 to 0. The game was a warm one and was well attended in spite of the cold weather. The first two goals were scored in three minutes. After that the Duluth boys betrayed a peculiar propensity for parting with their skates, and it took twenty minutes more to get the third goal. Superior played a good game, but Duluth was too much for them, and the ball was kept in Superior territory most of the time. Thursday night the Y. M. C. A. team will play the Superior club at Superior, and on the following Monday the Duluth team will play the Y. M. C. A. team again at Endion rink.

Two Were Held.

Yesterday afternoon Thomas Rabb and C. Lewis were held to the grand jury by Judge Powell on the charge of stealing beef from the Stone-Ordeman canal last Friday night. George Coon, a big husky fellow, was up on the same charge. He claimed that he was coaxed into the scheme, laid the blame on his companions and on motion of Assistant County Attorney McPherrin, was discharged.

Another Good Man Gone Wrong.

He failed to use the Clinic kidney cure for his kidney complaint, $1. Max Wirth.

Many stubborn and aggravating cases of rheumatism that were believed to be incurable and accepted as life legacies, have yielded to Chamberlain's Pain Balm, much to the surprise and gratification of the sufferers. One application will relieve the pain and suffering and its continued use insures an effectual cure. For sale by all druggists.

J. Allison purchased last week lot 12 in block 35, Fifth division Duluth Heights, 12 lots of land, and had the lumber for same all on the ground before Saturday.

BULGER WAS DISCHARGED.

Miller's Case Against Him Was Dismissed on the State's Motion.

Martin Bulger did not have to stand a preliminary examination this morning on the charge of stealing three three-quarter carat diamonds from Charles Miller.

The case was to have come up before Judge Winge at 10 o'clock but the state, having looked into the case somewhat, found that while Mr. Bulger possessed a pretty good reputation as a man of honor and uprightness that Miller's personal standing was not up to par. About a year ago, he was convicted in police court of stealing a suit of clothes and sent to the county jail for thirty days. Another witness for the state was under arrest for a petty crime at one time but was not convicted. In consideration of the quality of his testimony, the character of his witnesses and additional fact that Bulger was on hand with C. O. Baldwin, prepared to make a vigorous defense, Assistant County Attorney McPherrin dismissed the case.

Clarence Vinton, Angus Kirt and Lewis Olson pleaded guilty to charges of drunkenness. Vinton lives in Mile Lac county and is under bonds to appear before the court commissioner next Saturday and stand a preliminary examination on the charge of selling whisky to the Indians. He has a crippled arm, as the result of a sprained wrist and when he assured Judge Powell that he was not in the habit of getting drunk and that he would stay sober during the remainder of his stay in town, a suspension of sentence was granted him. Olson and Kirt went up to Butcher's for ten days each.

"When a lovely woman stoops to folly," she always uses some haking powder other than Dr. Price's.

Uniform Rank Dance.

Lakeside Division No. 8, uniform rank Knights of Pythias and Rathbone Sisters Temple No. 10 gave a dance last evening at Hunter hall, which was the most successful affair. About 100 people were present. Hoare's orchestra played. The committee in charge consisted of Messrs. W. L. Wicks, F. C. Wigginton, B. Matlocks, Jr., and H. W. Randall and Mesdames F. C. Wigginton, W. E. Wicks, Forgy and Kreiter.

Was Found Insane.

Ernest E. Tulberg, the Tower man, was examined before Judge Ayer yesterday to determine whether or not his mind is gone. He was found to be insane and dangerously so for he requires constant watching. He will be perfectly calm for a time and then break out in the wildest manner. When arrested he was endeavoring to kill his wife and children. He will be taken to Fergus Falls.

Chills, fever, bilious remittent, dumb ague and acute catarrh are promptly relieved and ultimately cured by this genial specific, which is also a comprehensive family medicine, speedily useful in cases of dyspepsia, biliousness, constipation, sick headache, nervousness, rheumatism and neuralgia. It fortifies the system against disease, promotes appetite and sleep, and hastens convalescence after debilitating and flesh wasting diseases.

Large Farm Leased.

The Carlton County Vidette says: "The large stock farm of Paine & Co., consisting of 2000 acres and situated just south of Carlton, has been leased for a term of years to D. V. Dart, a stock man of Duluth. We understand a large dairy will form a part of the lessee's business."

There is good reason for the popularity of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. Davis & Buzard, of West Montevideo, Clarion county, Pa., says: "It has cured people that our physicians could do nothing for. We persuaded them to try a bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy and they now recommend it with the rest of us." Twenty-five and 50-cent bottles for sale by all druggists.

THE CHICORA IS OVERDUE.

It is thought the Gale Struck Her in Lake Michigan.

St. Joseph, Mich., Jan. 22.—Nothing has yet been heard of the overdue steamer Chicora which left Milwaukee yesterday morning. It is thought the gale struck her in midlake. Her owners have telegraphed to all ports where she could possibly have made for shelter but can find no trace of her.

The Chicora was heavily loaded and had several passengers on board. She carried a crew of twenty-five men. It is possible that the steamer returned to the other shore somewhat out of the gale but was unable to reach any port on account of the continuing snowstorm. It is doubtful if any boat could withstand the waves that were running on this shore yesterday and last night.

REFUSED TO GRANT IT.

Judge Lewis Filed an Order Yesterday Denying Henry Truelsen's Application for an Injunction.

He Holds That Even Admitting the Allegations in the Pleadings, Proposition Three Was Carried.

He Also Again Maintains That the Ballot Was Perfectly Comprehensible and Easily Understood.

Judge Lewis filed his order in the Henry Truelsen bond case yesterday afternoon, discharging the order to show cause and denying the motion for a temporary injunction. His memorandum accompanying the order is substantially as follows: The new matter in the amended complaint is limited to the assertions that 208 votes were cast and counted which favored both propositions two and three; that 800 votes were cast against the same propositions; and that the 1008 voters who did this were misled by the directions placed at the head of the ballots.

The answer denies the statement about the 208 votes, admits that about the 800 votes, and asserts that the correct vote on proposition three was 2137 for and 1010 against, and that a number of votes were counted against it which should not have been counted and a number of votes for it which should have been counted were not. Judge Lewis resolves the matter into two questions and thus disposes of them. "Does the result of the election as shown by the amended pleadings indicate that proposition three was lost or carried, there being no change as to the other propositions? The positive allegations of the answer not being denied in the reply they must be taken as true. The result then stands as follows on proposition three: 2137 for, against, 1010; majority for, 227. Deducting from this the 208 votes referred to and it still leaves a majority of 19 in favor of said proposition.

"There is no reason why the 800 votes should be thrown out; they might have been consistently cast against both propositions."

The second question is: "Does the result of the canvass show that enough voters failed to vote intelligently to raise the inference that as a matter of law the ballot was indefinite and for that reason void? We think not. The 800 votes cast against both propositions two and three may have been cast intelligently and consistently. The fact that 208 persons voted yes on both two and three may be an indication that they did not know what they were doing, but as these votes do not affect the result it is not sufficient to prove that the ballot was indefinite and void.

"Some of the counsel for defense have assumed that as the ballot was in the form prescribed by law any faults must be laid to the law. As I have said in former memoranda in this case I am of the opinion that neither charter nor general law prescribes any particular form of ballot. All that was necessary was that the propositions should be intelligently submitted to the people, and I have held before and now hold that the ballot did intelligently present the questions thereby submitted to the people.

"We are not concerned with what might have happened on the possibility of combinations upon and between the two propositions. The result, either can it be said that the direction at the head of the ballot was misleading. "It is perfectly clear and comprehensible and has in the main, so far as the pleadings show, been obeyed. The result is that the people have intimated, giving the plaintiff the benefit of every doubt, by a majority of nineteen, that the money should be expended for the purchase of a gas and water plant."

Another Town Opened.

Town 65-14 was opened to entries this morning and up to noon, but no applicants had made filings. They filed on land claimed by the state as swamp lands and the matter will have to be decided by a contest. Settlers are allowed three months in which to make filings, so it is likely that other entry men will come in later and file on lands in this town.

Town 68-10 is opened tomorrow and it is expected that there will be quite a number of filings on lands in that town.

Why is This Thus? George Munson, brakeman on the Northern Pacific railroad and B. L. Cook, moulder, went into partnership and started "the tea business." Their first purchase was six cans for $5.00 of the Merchants' Tea company.

On opening the cans, in one was found a ladies' beautiful stem wind and set jeweled solid gold watch, besides five other articles, as every can contained a present. Then the war began, which was finally brought to a close by Cook paying Munson $15 for his share in the business. They parted, friends as usual. Miss Sarah Baker, seamstress, also got a gent's solid gold watch besides a set of solid diamond earrings, set in finest gold, with her purchase. Many are the purchasers and beautiful and costly are the gifts. Remember, one week from next Saturday ends the presents. Go while you can get them. Single cans $1 and six for $5. Remember the number—20 West Superior street. Open evenings until 9 o'clock. Orders by mail and express forwarded every where.

A Boy's Leg Broken.

Charles A. Campbell, 8-year-old son of C. D. Campbell, was walking along Third street yesterday afternoon and when near the corner of Fourth avenue east was struck by a sled on which a party of youngsters were coasting down the hill. His left leg was so badly broken that the bone penetrated through the flesh and he was thrown into the gutter alongside the walk. The youngsters on the sled did not stop to learn whether he was hurt or not and he lay there until a man who was passing picked him up. The bone was set and the boy is doing nicely now.

It may be hard to stop the small boys from coasting down the hills but an effort should be made to do so. A few arrests and fines might have a summary effect.

THE CRIMINAL CALENDAR.

Some of the Cases to Come Before the February Term.

Up to date the criminal calendar for the February term seems to be the most important part of the business to come up. Foremost among the cases are those of George A. Elder, for grand larceny in the first degree for alleged pecuniations from the American Loan and Trust company, of which he was formerly vice president and manager, amounting to many thousands of dollars in all.

The indictments, four in number, were found against him by the November term grand jury, but the cases were continued until this term, when they will probably be tried.

The only other cases of importance so far are those against Samuel Cody and John Dewar for forgery. It is understood that pretty good cases will be made against them, and that at least one of them will prove an old hand at the business, who has made himself known in other places besides Duluth.

Nels Hansen will be tried for grand larceny in the second degree, he being accused of stealing a gold watch from the person of a drunk who was sleeping in a saloon on West Superior street. William Hall, of Virginia, will answer to a charge of arson for setting fire to a warehouse to satisfy a spite. Robert McDougall will also answer to a charge of grand larceny in the second degree.

Anna Bresland, who is now out on bail, will have a new trial for keeping a house of ill fame. She was tried and convicted and an order denying a motion for a new trial was overruled by the supreme court.

Thomas Robb and C. Lewis will answer to charges of grand larceny in the second degree for stealing meat from the Wells-Stone Mercantile company. William Harper, of Ely, will be tried for an unspeakable crime against nature.

"Kid" Wright Under Arrest. John Wright, who is known all over the city as "Kid" Wright is under arrest on a charge of passing a $10 counterfeit gold piece at one of the places on Minnesota Point. He will be arraigned before the United States authorities.

The City band will be in attendance at Glen Avon rink this evening.
